THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 7, 1894.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—In Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota the inhabitants of foreign parentage outnumber the native population.

—Montreal Gazette: The Paris Temps thinks the prospects opened by the intercolonial conference at Ottawa dazzling for the Anglo-Saxon race, but disastrous perhaps, for the United Kingdom. The Temps evidently thinks the time may come when the colonies will be greater and stronger than England; but, it makes a mistake in thinking this will mean disaster. England with all her daughter lands about her will only be greater England.

—Toronto Empire: Mr. Erastus Wiman is confident that his appeal will free him, and he promises to spring a surprise upon the public when the appeal comes to be argued. Mr. Wiman has sprung surprises enough on the people already to satisfy them. He is lucky in having influential friends. Had it been some obscure person who committed the crimes Mr. Wiman is guilty of, he would have got fourteen or twenty years, and would now be working out his sentence.

—It is pleasing to hear that the reports regarding the loss of life and damage to property in British Columbia by the Fraser River floods forwarded the eastern papers were greatly exaggerated. Only two lives were lost, and not "fully one hundred" as was at first stated. The story that houses, barns and factories were carried out to sea is also erroneous. The only things in the shape of houses that went out to sea were some shacks, not much larger than a dry goods box, built along the banks of the Fraser River by Indians and those engaged in the sturgeon and salmon fishing. It is true that there was some stock lost, but not ten thousand, as stated. Indeed it is doubtful if there have been one hundred drowned. However, many of the farmers have lost their fences; and peach, pear, plum, apricot and cherry trees have suffered as well as small fruit. Apple orchards have also been damaged, but not so severely.

—Halifax Herald: The Dominion of Canada has entered on its 28th year of life. While not a boastful people, Canadians can confidently put their record of the past 27 years against that of any other five millions of people in the same period. We have since '67 added over 3,000,000 square miles to our territory, nearly doubled our population, and 13,000 to our railway mileage, and quadrupled our wealth. Instead of any of the terrible things predicted of us in '67 happening to us, we have gone on steadily and successfully working out "the Canadian idea," and to-day have meeting in our capital city representatives of the British Colonial Empire in Africa, Asia and Australasia, whose sympathy we have aroused in the task of completing what yet remains to be done. Without boasting of what has been done, or making too loud and extensive proclamations of what shall be, we, the Canadian people, the heirs at law of both the French and English regimes in America, intend to bring no dishonor on our ancestry, but to continue in the paths of peace, progress and attachment to the imperial connection that have served us so well in the past.

—The Patriot boasts of the success of the tax on commercial travellers, and the revenue derived therefrom by the Government. In this connection one of our leading manufacturers forwards THE EXAMINER a letter received by him from a commercial traveller, from which we may be permitted to make a brief extract. The letter is dated at St. John, July 1st, and the traveller represents a large Toronto house. The writer says:

"I find, since the last time down here, that your Government have been trying to raise a revenue out of 'we poor commercials' by putting on a tax · · · I do not know that the expense of going over and paying the tax would pay me, unless we were to put it on to the price of the goods. · · · I am going to ask you to write me at the Halifax Hotel and let me know what lines you are likely to want for the fall trade · · · ·"

This is not an isolated case. The manufacturer referred to above says he knows of seven commercial men, in his own line of business alone, who would not come to this Province because of the tax. Every one of these people would have spent with the Steam Navigation Company, P. E. Island Railway, and hotels, from $15 to $25 each; and their not coming here means the loss of so much money to our people.

SUPREME COURT.

SATURDAY, July 14.

The Queen vs. William Larter. Procuring drugs with intent to procure abortion. This case began this forenoon and will occupy the time of the court throughout the day. When recess was taken at one o'clock, Charles Slate was giving evidence.

THE BOMB IN NEW YORK.

The New York police have two bomb mysteries on their hands. Within the past four days two bombs have been taken, these having been found, it is said, in places where the explosion meant great loss of life and extensive damage to property. The first bomb was brought to headquarters on Monday, and after being inspected by Inspector McLaughlin and his men, was sent to the combustible bureau. There, it is said, the affair was found to consist outwardly of a plated mass of tin and felt worked together by cement and other compounds almost as compactly as possible. The second bomb was brought in on Thursday. From remarks dropped in conversation with men at police headquarters it looks as though the police think the explosives were meant to do damage in connection with the great railway strike. Henry Affchenberger, 22, an Austrian, assistant janitor of a house on Seventh Avenue, was arrested by a Central officer on Thursday evening for having in his possession what is supposed to be a torpedo. The supposed bomb was found in the prisoner's room. In explanation, Affchenberger said he was assistant janitor also at a house in 132nd Street. He went there a week ago to clean some vacant rooms, in one of which he found this supposed torpedo. His story was verified by a detective and Affchenberger was discharged.

SUMMER SCHOOL OF SCIENCE.

Last evening the members of the Summer School of Science and a large representation of our citizens enjoyed the pleasure of gazing at the Twin Stars, Saturn, and the Moon. Principal Cameron, of Yarmouth, who manipulated the telescope, which was kindly loaned by H. J. Cundall, Esq., was asked to adjust the instrument so that the grass and the "Man in the Moon" might be seen. The Principal deferred it till another time, sine die.

The regular classes are closed to-day, and a large party has taken an excursion to the Seaside Hotel by carriage. Zoological, geological, and botanical collections of specimens will be made.

To-morrow Prof. Andrews, the President of the School, will preach the annual sermon, in Zion Church, at 7 p. m.

A concert in connection with the School will be given at the Opera Temple on Friday next, and will be in charge of Mrs. Harrison.

The enrollment up to this morning is 81. We would advise all who have an interest in the subjects taught in this School to register and attend the class on Monday.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

LONDON, July 5.—The Telegraph this morning commenting on the Corean question says the hidden peril of the situation is in the allegation that Russia and China have concluded a secret agreement contrary to the treaty of 1885. It will, the Telegraph says, cost Great Britain the price of another naval squadron, if Russia be ever allowed through China to occupy Corean ports. It is England's plain policy, consistent alike with honor and interest, to support Japan in just such action as she is taking to guarantee Corea against intrigues and perils which threaten its security.

LONDON, July 5.—In an interview Minister Askio declared the conflict in Corea is between progress, represented by Japan, and reactionary conservatism, represented by China. "Japan," he said, "will not shrink from fulfilling her duty regardless of the obstacles that China throws in the way. China rejected her proposal to jointly reform the Corean government, which is weak and unable to maintain order; Japan cannot recognize China's claim to suzerainty."

VANCOUVER, July 5.—Advices from Japan state that over 3,000 houses were damaged, 20 persons killed and 277 injured by an earthquake at Yokohama and Tokio, June 20. Fire at Yokohama, June 17, destroyed over 1,000 houses.

LONDON, July 5.—The Rev. Mr. Fischer pastor of the American Methodist Episcopal Church in Rome, has become a Roman Catholic, and has been duly baptized in that faith.

LONDON, July 5.—Lord Rosebery to-day carried out his promise of celebrating Ladas' Derby victory by feasting the inmates of the Epsom poor house. Three hundred and forty-five of them sat down to a hearty English dinner.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 5.—In the Placentia trial the prosecution completed the case to-day. The court adjourned for a week to enable the counsel for the defence to prepare. Great excitement prevails here to-day over resolutions adopted by the Methodist Church Conference, now in session here, deprecating the present disturbed political conditions, and advising the people to fear God, honor the Queen and preserve respect for all constituted authority.

OTTAWA, July 5.—Harry Corby was loudly cheered by members on both sides of the House when he was introduced by Sir John Thompson and Mr. Northrop in the House this afternoon. He had tendered his resignation on June 22nd, under circumstances which left no doubt that he had in all innocence offended against the letter of the independence of parliament, and to-day he took his seat again by the unanimous voice of his constituency.

TO AVOID STRIKES.

Representative McGann Has a Novel Scheme on Hand to Prevent Strikes.

A late Washington despatch says: Representative McGann, chairman of the labor committee of the House, is preparing a novel and interesting plan for avoiding strikes, which he will soon present to President Debs, of the American Railway Union, President Gompers, of the Federation of Labor, and to the heads of large corporations employing them.

Mr. McGann's plan does not contemplate a law, but a contract between employer and employed, by which each will agree to submit their differences to arbitration. Mr. McGann says that his experience at the head of the labor committee shows that few federal laws of any value to labor can be enacted owing to the constitutional objection that congress and the federal government can legislate only interstate questions, and most strikes are wholly within state lines. Mr. McGann believes that a contract between the parties will be more effective than a law, and he is drawing up a rough form of such contracts. It is of course advisory and will be so submitted to the various leaders and employes, but Mr. McGann thinks it will recommend itself to them.

The contract is to be a prerequisite to any employment. It will recite that the parties will avoid strikes and other radical forms of remedying abuses by agreeing to refer all disagreements to arbitrators or a board, each party naming one and the two naming the third. With this contract in existence, arbitration would be assured.

THE LATE PROFESSOR SIMPSON.

The Rev. Benjamin F. Simpson, who died at Morgan Park, Illinois, on the 28th of June last, was the youngest of eleven children, the family of the late Hon. Jeremiah Simpson.

He was born at Bay View, October 25th, 1854, and received his primary education at the school at that place.

After leaving school he took charge of his father's farm for a few years. In the year 1874 he entered the classes at Horton Academy, Wolfville, and subsequently, after a full course, graduated from Acadia University, and afterwards graduated in theology at the Baptist Theological Seminary at Morgan Park.

After having engaged in pastoral work in Illinois, Minnesota and Maine, he was elected to the position of Associate Professor of Theology in the Divinity School of Chicago University, a position which he filled with marked ability and to the entire satisfaction of all till called to join the great silent majority. He was married in 1883 to Alice, daughter of Rev. G. W. Northrup, D. D., of Chicago, who, with a family of five children, survives him. Naturally of a quiet, retiring and studious turn of mind, it was his delight to search out and explain, and make popular, subjects that were little understood, and in connection with which in the popular mind there was more or less mystery. Though his whole life from youth was an almost incessant battle with the severe malady which conquered at last, his heroic spirit, that rose superior to all obstacles, and his indomitable will kept him strong to work in his chosen calling.

Of his father's family, all his brothers and sisters, and also his aged mother, survive to mourn their great loss and receive the sympathy of their friends.

The average age of graduates securing the degree of LL. B., at Harvard, is twenty-seven years, but Mr. Lefurgey is as yet, only in his twenty-third year. A. degree. —Summerside Agriculturist.

THE CANNON BURST.

Preparations on a large scale had been made for some days past to celebrate Dominion Day at Formosa, Ont. An old German custom of firing off a cannon on state or church holidays still prevails there, and accordingly the day was ushered in with the usual welcome. About 6.30 in the morning Mr. Joseph Anstett, in company with some other villagers, proceeded to charge the gun. On account of the ramrod being light, it is supposed the charge was not fully down in the barrel of the cannon, and an explosion resulted. A piece of the cannon, weighing about 25 pounds, struck Mr. Anstett on the jaw, almost severing the head from the body, and causing instant death. Deceased was 48 years of age, and was one of the most prominent and respected men in the county. He leaves a wife and family.

Do you have headache, dizziness, drowsiness, loss of appetite and other symptoms of biliousness? Hood's Sarsaparilla will cure you.

For cramps in the stomach take a few drops of Dr. Manning's german remedy, diluted in either warm or cold water. The effect is instantaneous. Sold by all druggists.

LABOR RIOTS AT CHICAGO.

Strikers Burn Railway Cars.

Wholesale Robbery—The Police Shoot

CHICAGO, July 7.

The strike continues to grow worse. Last night a mob of one thousand tore open eighteen cars of provisions and dressed meats, and stole what they could carry and dumped the rest out on the tracks. When the officers arrived the crowd was carrying off potatoes, canned goods and flour. Women had their aprons full of stolen goods and children staggered under heavy loads. Barrels of flour were rolled away and wagons loaded the rich harvest. The mob ran on sight of the police. Each officer singled out one of the men and soon had him under arrest and locked up. On the way to the station the women attacked the officers and tried to rescue the prisoners. The mob hooted and yelled that they were starving and must have food even if they had to steal it. One of the most serious aspects of the strike is that horses are dying at the rate of from 75 to 100 a day, and there is no way of removing them from the city. Carcasses are decaying and the health of the community is seriously threatened. Posse Deputy United States Marshals fired on the strikers at Kensington. The mob numbered 3000. Two men were shot, but they were dragged away by their companions before it could be learned how serious their injuries were. Sixty freight cars on the Wisconsin Central Railway were destroyed by fire last night. Four hundred cars are burning in Chicago —Burlington Yards and five hundred cars are burning in the Grand Trunk Yards. Hundreds of police have gone to the different posts with orders to shoot on sight if they are attacked.
