Personal.

Hon. Samuel Prowse, Murray Harbor; Charles Minto, representing Gault & Co., Montreal; E. E. Ross, representing Garnett & Sons, Quebec; J. A. Nicholls, representing Carney & Co., Montreal, are among the guests at the Hotel Davies.

The Chronicle publishes, in Epitome, the initial sermon of the Rev. W. B. King as rector of St. Luke's, Halifax, and describes him as a "young man full of energy." The Montreal Herald says: "He is a young man, but an energetic worker, a pleasing preacher, and is popular with church people and others throughout the city."

Mr. J. Plaw Ball, C. E., who has been engaged as Assistant Engineer to the Charlottetown waterworks during the last six months, left the beginning of the month for Montreal to attend the lectures of the Society of Civil Engineers of Canada, of which he is a member.

On his return at Moncton he met the contractor of the Short Line of railway, N. B., and received the appointment as Engineer in charge of a section.
