Georgetown and Vicinity

Mrs. Walter Solomon was a recent visitor to Summerside.

Mrs. Howard Llewellyn was a visitor to Charlottetown early last week.

Mr. MacDonald of the Provincial Government Department of Public Works was a recent business visitor to Georgetown.

Mr. Stephen Batchelder who has been employed as a wireless operator at a large munition company's weather station in Northern Quebec, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Batchelder.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Campbell of Boston, Mass., recently spent a week in the province visiting relatives. Mr. Campbell is formerly from Sturgeon.

Mrs. Hedley V. McNeill of Charlottetown was a recent visitor to Georgetown, where she was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Batchelder.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown of Souris are spending the winter in Georgetown as the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Prosper.

Mr. Lee Tombs of Charlottetown, representing DeBios Bros., was a business visitor to Georgetown on Thursday, Jan. 28.

Mrs. (Rev.) W. A. Patterson and Mrs. Charles Fraser were delegates representing the Women's Missionary Society of St. David's United Church, Georgetown, at the 28th annual meeting of the Prince Edward Island Presbyterian of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church, which convened in Hertz Hall of Trinity United Church, Charlottetown, on Jan. 16th.

The severity of the recent storm was felt when on Thursday afternoon and all day Friday classes had to be suspended in the Georgetown High School. It is some considerable time since such a severe and prolonged storm was experienced, and the younger generation will now have some idea, from the many huge drifts, of the enormous quantity of snow which presented an annual problem in years gone by. The drifts and banks will be used by the youngsters in their play and will in a measure compensate them for the loss of their outdoor skating, but we feel sure that some of the excellent ponds, they only recently enjoyed themselves on, will be cleaned off by some of the skating and hockey-loving children.

The heavy north east wind on Thursday and Friday played havoc with the ice in Georgetown harbour and today the harbour is as clear as it would be in summer. Last Sunday, Jan. 24, a large crowd enjoyed themselves on the fine sheet of ice. It was reported that there were six inches of ice on that part of the harbour known as the Cove, but this fact did not deter the old-timers from predicting that it would break up soon. Their reasoning was based on an age-old belief that the Cove must freeze over twice and break up, and the third time the ice would last for the remainder of the winter. Despite the six inches of ice this belief has so far been born out and the old-timers who even went so far as to predict that a dory could be rowed around the Cove in a few days, were right again and not too surprised at what happened.

Geotown Eagles Even Southern King's Series With Win Over Montague

Despite all the snow banks, Mr. Charles McCarthy made the trip to Mount Stewart and back on Tuesday with a team in a truck wagon.

The village C. Y. O. girls showed the men bowlers how it was done last week at the Memorial Hall alley when they downed the men's team.

The by-roads have been opened by the plough. The road to Lot 46 C. N. R. station was left closed until Jan. 26 but it was finally ploughed.

The sea ice is made on the north side and right now in place of the blue rough waves, one sees nothing but a white sea of ice for miles.

Mr. Melvin Burns has taken a position with the Irving Oil Company in the City. A Bristol man, Mr. Burns, was a Bristol man, his many customers along the shore route who will miss him.

The serious illness of Mr. Peter McMillan is much regretted by his many old friends here. Well along in the evening of life he has resided alone for many years, and all hope he gets around again.

A new electric sign was erected on the corner of the Morell Co-operative Store on Tuesday and is quite an attraction, especially at night with the bright glow.

Friends of Miss Lorraine Sinnott who was the sick list for some time will be pleased to know she has resumed her duties as student nurse in training at the Charlottetown Hospital.

A lot of pulp wood is being cut now and hauled to the highway on sleighs and cut up into the required lengths and moved to Souris by heavy trucks. Many men and trucks are being used right now while the hauling is good.

Pheasants are plentiful in this vicinity this winter and seem to be wintering well, as the birds are very wild. Two men from the city were noticed on Tuesday taking a long hungry look at some of the birds in the fields, no doubt saying "where were you when the season was open?"

Mr. Frank Nolan, one of our oldest residents here, has gone to the Beach Grove Home to reside. A fiddler of the old school and a fisherman, he will no doubt make the long evening drift away with the others with his violin and stories of the sea. He will be missed around here but all wish him happiness in his new home to enjoy the sunset of life.

The funeral of the late Mr. Dunstan Dunphy was held Thursday morning from the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Dunphy to the old Church of St. Laurence, Morell Rear where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Phalen McKenna, who also conducted service at the grave. The funeral was largely attended.

Some new boats will be built here this winter and well they might, as this vicinity has three first-class boat builders here, two with shops right here and the tools and skill for the job. John J. Perry and Charlie Mosher are two men in the building of boats in any day. Charlie following his late father in the business, has turned out many lovely boats and he has a mighty big shop to do the job in, with electric power and tools.

Mr. John McInnis, fisheries officer, has moved his office into the old two-story building that was once the Blue Danube restaurant before it was partly destroyed by fire three years ago. The building was erected for the late E. J. Rossiter for a store and residence and later sold to Mr. Gus MacDonald from Bear River, who operated a meat market, after moving the building to its present site. It is understood the Morell branch of the Canadian Legion has taken over the building and will have rooms there also.

A nice birthday gift is a nice thing at any season of the year but Mr. P. R. Sinnott received the surprise of his life last week when his family went to the city in the old truck for the evening and in the morning, presented their daddy with a brand new deluxe cab truck fresh from the factory. P. R. Jr., who is with the Dominion Weather Bureau, who was leaving in the morning for a year's service at an island out post, sprang the surprise on his father. He and Mrs. Sinnott have one girl home, attending school.

Mr. John Roach has the contract for the knitting of thousands of heads for lobster traps and he and his wife and family are working early and late at the big task. Mr. Roach says that it's nothing for them to keep at the needles until three and four a.m. in an effort to fill the contract. Hundreds of new traps are being built and laths and bows are piled up around the houses where eager fishermen are battling with the big task of building the traps. Smoke is seen from many work shops where the work is going on day and night.

It is with sincere sympathy that the passing of Mr. Dunstan Dunphy is learned, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Dunphy here on Jan. 25 at the early age of 32 after a lingering illness. He was the only son at home. Another son is attending S.D.U. Mr. Dunphy had moved into his new home with his parents only last summer and had remarked he would finish the building without help as it was to SOUTH BEND, Ind., (AP)—Frank Leahy, coach of Notre Dame's football team for 11 years, resigned Sunday because of ill health.

Subsequently, he was unable to accompany his team on a trip to the west coast for the Southern California game.

There was no immediate indication as to Leahy's successor as Irish coach.
