P.E.I. Department of Agriculture

FEATURE ATTRACTION:

It's the beat of the horses hooves—the gleam of the dairy cow's horns—the curl of the beef on parade and the aroma of the midway which will be calling next week: The Provincial Exhibition, displaying the rich products of the Island's farms, will be officially opened by Canada's Minister of Agriculture, the Honorable Douglas Harkness.

Old Home Week will feature some of the outstanding dashes of the year. The entries have been heavy, the quality high.

The Livestock Judges are as follows: Horses—Donald E. Black Aubrey, Quebec; Shorthorns, Dual Purpose Shorthorns—W.H. Black Moffat, Ontario; Hereford, Red Fells and Angus—T.C. Amos, Ontario; Ayrshires—Alex Sutherland, Partisan, Ontario; Jerseys—Norman Bagg, Thornhill, Ontario; Holsteins—R.A. Proffitt, Freetown, P.E.I.; Guernseys—Earl N. Shultz, Guelph, Ontario; Sheep—Lloyd Ayre, Bowmanville, Ontario; Swine—Gordon Schweitzer, Petersburg, Ontario; Poultry—C.S. Scranton, Charlottetown, P.E.I.

SERVICE TO AGRICULTURE:
The Charlottetown Experimental Farm will be celebrating, next Monday, fifty years of service to Agriculture.

People from all over the Province are invited to share in celebrating this great occasion by bringing their lunch to the farm Monday noon.

The Premier, Honorable A.W. Matheson, the Minister of Agriculture, Eugene Cullen plus representatives from all farm organizations will be present.

On the Federal level the Honorable Angus MacLean, Minister of Fisheries will introduce the Honorable Douglas Harkness, who will speak briefly. Dr. O. Phillips M.P., Mr. Heath Macquarrie, M.P. and Col. John A. Macdonald M.P. will join in showing their appreciation.

Why not plan now to attend this outstanding event. Whether you come from town or country it makes no difference everyone is welcome.

SWINE DISEASES

The theme of this year's Department of Agriculture's booth will be Swine Diseases. The losses before weaning, the losses after weaning will be depicted. An attempt is being made to demonstrate how costly this disease can be.

The booth will be located in the usual spot, just inside the Women's Institute Building.

VETERINARY OFFICE

A Veterinary Office, located in the rear of the grand-stand will be open during the Provincial Exhibition. This is a service extended to the livestock owners, while away from home, by your Department of Agriculture's Veterinary Division.

PINKEYE IN CATTLE

A drive during the months of July and August aimed at reducing the heavy economic losses caused by pinkeye in cattle and sheep has been launched by the American Foundation for Animal Health.

Pinkeye is considered one of the most troublesome diseases of cattle because it is extremely contagious and spreads through a herd rapidly. The Foundation points out that prompt treatment is vitally important, not only to prevent spread of the disease, but also to cut weight losses in affected animals.

Pinkeye causes swelling of the eyelids and a watery discharge. Affected animals that do not receive proper care usually reduce their feed intake, either as a result of their discomfort or because of their inability to see, especially in bright sunlight. Weight losses are usually rapid, and milk production of dairy cows also drops sharply.

American farmers suffer losses estimated at over $50 million a year as a result of pinkeye. Foundation spokesmen point out, however, that most of these losses could be prevented or reduced if affected animals were treated promptly by a veterinarian.

This condition also accounts for losses in this area. Even at this time of the year much can be done to increase the carrying capacity of cultivated pastures. Establishing a stand of a suitable pasture mixture is important, but pasture management does not end with the planting of the seed.

Rotational grazing means more fencing but with the advent of electric fences this does not mean a heavy outlay of capital or much additional labor. A rotational grazing system using four fields is ideal. The size of the fields should be such that the herd can graze it off in about two weeks. In this way each field is grazed for one week and then given a three weeks recovery period. If growth is too rapid and some of the grasses start to head out the pasture should be clipped so that the grass is kept at the right stage for maximum feed value and maximum digestibility.

After the fields have been grazed they should be harrowed to break up and spread the droppings. Addition of fertilizers in the fall will also help to increase production the following year. A fertilizer such as 13-20-4, applied at the rate of 100 pounds per acre, will give good results on a grass legume mixture.

USE HERBICIDES WITH CARE
For maximum and safety all herbicides should be used with care and strictly according to the manufacturer's directions. Last year about 43 per cent of grain crops were sprayed for the hand by means of a squeeze in the adverse cards were favorably located. And since squeezes seldom operate well unless declarer gets to the point where he has only one loser left (not two), Muckley discarded a spade on the queen of clubs.

East returned a spade. Declarer won with the ace, cashed the A-Q of hearts, A-K of diamonds, and two more trumps, whereupon this became the position:

♣ 9 6 5 4	♣ Q 8 2	♣ A K J 10	♣ Q 8 2

When declarer now led the son of hearts, the squeeze card, both defenders were caught in a vice. West could not spare the jack of clubs, in view of dummy's nine, and had to discard a spade.

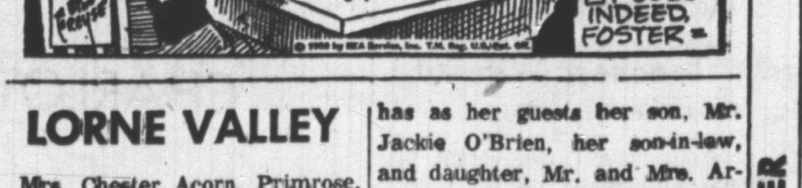

The nine of clubs, having served its purpose, was discarded from dummy, and now East felt the pinch. He threw the diamond queen, in the face of South's spade. This made dummy's K-7 both tricks and the contract was made.

There were two key plays by Muckley: the deliberate loss of the club queen, and the cashing on the A-K of diamond before all the trumps were led.
