By PIUS CALLAGHAN

Funny thing about the way in which some of these big league pitchers behave. One day they are not worth a plug nickel and the next time out they seem to do just about everything right. Joe Nuxhall is the most recent example. Joe is having a lot of trouble proving to everyone and particularly managers Birdie Tobbits that he is a suitable starting pitcher. He has been having his ups and downs, but mostly downs of late.

Monday he was given a starting assignment against the hard-hitting Pittsburgh Pirates and he enjoyed every minute of his chore. He yielded only seven base hits, and kept fellows like Kluzewski, Thomas and Clements from hitting any out of the park. With his bat he was even more terrific, slamming out three base hits and scoring one of the Redleg runs.

Nuxhall had a shutout going till the ninth when, with two out, Frank Thomas doubled home the only two Pirate tallies. For Nuxhall it was victory number two. He has lost once. It may be the start of a real comeback.

Chicago White Sox duplicated the feats of Boston Red Sox by playing dead for Casey Stengel and his New York Yankees. The pale Hose, who had shown slight recovery from their horrible early season showing, couldn't get a runner across home plate, something which is rather essential if you expect to win ball games. Yankees got three and they used the home run ball to get them all, with Bauer hitting a pair and Mickey Mantle coming through with his fifth of the season.

Jim Wilson gave up only four hits besides the homers but it didn't make any difference if he gave 50. Indeed if Wilson had just pitched one hit ball and that hit was a homer, the White Sox couldn't make it up for him.

If teams like Boston, Cleveland and Chicago are not able to do anything about stopping the Yankees, how in the world do they expect the American League to have any pennant race. Washington and Kansas City have certainly been doing their part. Isn't it time these supposedly better teams quit playing terrified of the Yankees?

Latest to be named to Canada's Sports Hall of Fame is Johnny Longden who has got home first in more races than any other jockey in history.

Longden was selected by a national committee of sports editors and columnists and sportscasters. He will ride today in the Epsom Derby and then head for Toronto where he will participate in the 99th running of the Queen's Plate on Saturday.

Longden had ridden over 5,000 winners and has been top man in most of the North American classics.

He was born in England, but came to Canada when he was only two. He now lives in Los Angeles.

Perhaps he might teach those Dodgers some winning ways.

Steve Brklacich who acted as playing coach for Charlotte-town Islanders during the 1954-55 season is the new coach of Johnstown Jets of the Eastern Hockey League. Steve replaces Lloyd Ailsby who resigned.

Brklacich was the former playing-coach of Washington Lions in the same league.

Steve was the last of several coaches for the Islanders. When the 1954-1955 edition of the Islanders hung up their skates, the Islanders went out of existence. Other coaches included Murphy Chamberlain, Leo Lamoureux, Bucko Trainor and Hughie Campbell.

Brklacich was the coach when the now-famous brawl broke out in Moncton Stadium during the finals of the Atlantic Coast League in March 1955. That was the time that several members of the Islanders faced court charges after the smoke of battle had cleared away.

The next two seasons a City League replaced the imported brand of hockey here and last season Charlotte-town Royals, Summerside Aces and Amherst Ramblers began a league that never reached a conclusion.

Warren Giles, president of the National League, admits the beanball rule could be improved and says he has begun to make a study of it.

Giles took plenty of abuse from Milwaukee Braves recently after the world champions and Cincinnati Redlegs were engaged in a dusting duel.

A few days later Pittsburgh Pirates and San Francisco Giants tangled in much the same situation and Bucs' general manager Joe L. Brown protested to Giles about the ineffectiveness of the present rule.

After Brown's protest Giles said he felt the rule could be improved but he didn't want to recommend any change until he conferred with more baseball men. He also added that he had set no target date for completion of his study of rule revisions.

It looks as if some change is underway.

Bill Veck, former baseball executive, was turned down recently in his attempt to reactivate the Cleveland franchise in the National Basketball association.

The NBA president merely stated it would not be feasible to re-establish the franchise.

That ended that.

Milwaukee Braves have quite a relief hurler in Don McMahon.

Right now Mr. McMahon has a 4-0 mark, something really special for a baseball fireman so early in the season. His earned run average is a glittering 1.11 in 18 innings spread over 11 games.

That's not bad going at all for a young fellow who had to be talked out of quitting baseball and getting a job after he had won only two games and lost 13 for Toledo in 1955. Instead he went to work on his control.

McMahon is one of the pitchers who isn't anxious to get off relief. Even the guys like Hoyt Wilhelm, Clem Labine and Buster Freeman were always begging for chance to start games. But not McMahon.

"Naw," says Don, "we've got plenty of starters. I can pitch every day or almost. But if I tried to go too far, they'd start catching on up with me. I like it OK this way."

If McMahon is happy, there certainly is no reason why the Braves shouldn't be.

Who knows?

Friends of George Frances will be delighted to know that he is making a good recovery following his recent illness.

The former catcher of the Abegweits, Madisons and West End Anchors was taken ill last week and has been in The Charlotte-town Hospital this past week.

Although not active as far as a player was concerned, George maintained his interest in local ball and was the first one you would spot at Memorial Field at every ball game.

It's great to know that you're improving, George. Best of everything from all sport fans

'Stole The Ring' To Start In Queen's Plate June 7

TORONTO (CP) — Although only five fillies have won the Queen's Plate in the last 25 years, Stole The Ring, an unbeaten filly who hasn't raced this season, will start in Saturday's 99th annual running of the plate. And her owners are confident she'll win.

Stole The Ring wasn't expected to start in the big race because she was one of the victims of a coughing epidemic which hit thoroughbred stables in Toronto recently.

The decision to start her was made Tuesday after she worked a mile in 1:41 over the main racing strip at New Woodbine where the renewal of North America's oldest stakes race is to be held.

Following the workout, breeder Willie Morrissey said: "I would have liked to have had two or three starts this year but I'm confident we'll win."

Owner Miss Blanche Armstrong of Toronto agreed. The last filly to win the Queen's Plate was Canadiana, owned by

E. P. Taylor, of Toronto, in 1954. Paolita, owned by Charlie Hemstead of Toronto, won in 1943.

The late R. W. T. Cowie's Queensway, also a filly, won in 1932 and Sally Fuller, owned by E. Frowde Seagram of Waterloo, won the 1935 running, seven years after a victory by Young Kitty, also owned by the Seagram family.

Since 1900 only 12 fillies have won the Queen's Plate. The fact that Stole The Ring hasn't raced this season is nothing new for Morrissey.

In 1940 Morrissey bred Willie The Kid, the winner of the race. Willie had never been to the races before that.

One big advantage Stole The Ring, who last worked out before Tuesday on May 24 at the $25,000-added, 1 1/4-mile race will be in Johnny Longden, racing winningest jockey.

Longden, a native of England who spent his childhood at Taber, Alta., is to arrive from England Friday night. He is riding Canadian-owned Alberta Blue in today's running of the Derby at Epsom Downs.

Stole The Ring was the winter book favorite to win the Plate but the odds shifted Tuesday following Caledon Beau's win in the second half of Monday's Plate Trials.

The new prices make Caledon Beau at 7-5 choice; Stole The Ring second choice at 2-1; Foxy Phil 4-1; Dr. Em Jay and White Apache 5-1; Happy Harry 6-1; and Epic Lad 10-1.

The running of the plate is to be carried on CBC radio and television. The Trans-Canada network will carry the radio broadcast and television coverage will go to the full connected network. The race is scheduled to start at 6:37 p.m. ADT with radio and television coverage from 6:15 to 6:45 p.m.

Summerside Is Scene Of Big Fight Card Tonight

All highways lead to Civic Stadium tonight where fight fans will be treated to what has been the ear-marks of the banner fight card of this or any other season in the town of Summerside. The Steele-Ramsay main bout which will go ten rounds providing one of the boys doesn't go down for a full count, has

Thursday night at Souris, in St. Mary's Parish Hall. Teams competing will be the league champions from Morell, St. Peters and Souris. First game will start at six thirty and will feature St. Peters. The second game will be between Morell and St. Peters, with Morell meetings in the final game.

Mount Stewart plays its first home game of the season next Sunday. Mount Stewart along with Souris, last year were homeless. So, you fans down Mount Stewart way take notice. Turn out and cheer for your team. They're good. The game is against Morell.

Georgetown makes its second start of the season next Sunday when they journey to Souris to play the St. Mary's. In their first start of the season they were soundly walloped by Morell. However, with a few practices under their belts, they'll be a much improved team and Sunday's game should be another thriller.

Turning to the game of bowling The King's Co. Bowling Championship Meet will be held on someone else's ball and lost the hole on a penalty.

Leading England's Walker Cup players was Joe Carr of Dublin, the 1953 amateur winner. He scored a 2 and 1 victory over G. G. Henderson of Scotland.

Reid Jack, defending champion from Scotland, won 4 and 3 over J. A. Irvine-Edwards.

The surprise of the day to the American contingent was the defeat of Gene Andrews of Pacific Palisades, Calif., 2 and 1 by Reg Taylor of South Africa.

Bobby Vervey, husky 17-year-old son of a South African professional, defeated D. A. Drayson of England 2 up.

On a day as this, when players could see little and the wind was whistling hard, distance meant practically nothing at all. Several par-4 holes in the 400-450 yard range were played as if they were 600 yards.

St. Laurent, a native of suburban Verdun who shoots left, joined the Canadians in the 1950-51 season. He played part of 1951-52 with the farm-club Royals of the Quebec Hockey League and then returned to the Canadiens, staying with them until the Chicago deal.

A tough 180-pounder who stands five feet, 11 inches, St. Laurent is a prize catch by the Black Hawks. He will report to Chicago's spring training camp when it is set up for the 1958-59 season.

The more than 150 horses at the Charlottetown track are receiving daily jogging or training, and time trials are being constantly lowered, with the season's track record set at 2:14 by the four-year-old pacer, Little River Mark, 3, 214 3-5. She is being trained, with other members of the Andrew Perry stable of Summerside, by Don Seaman.

We asked Don about the trotter, Gallant Way, 202, that Andy bought at the Harrisburg sale last fall, and Don says he is coming along nicely with miles around 2:30. He doesn't expect to go very fast miles with him prior to starting him a few weeks time.

Aces, B.Y.C. Have Close Encounter

Rollaway Aces last evening upset the Junior B.Y.C. squad 4-2 in a regular league softball encounter at Queen Charlotte Diamond. The game had been postponed the previous evening due to rain.

Wilf Sheppard pitched the entire game for the winners, giving up only four hits, walking 1 and striking out eight. The Aces played an error-free game.

For the losers Father Roche had the pitching duties, giving up seven hits and walking two. The B.Y.C. squad was tabbed for one error.

The longest hit of the game took place in the second when Frank 'Bull' Connors connected for a two bagger.

At the bottom of the sixth the score was tied 2-2, but in the top of the seventh the Aces scored two runs which the B.Y.C. Club made a desperate bid to overcome, but to no avail.

Umpire for this encounter was Apps Arsenault.

Cubs Swamp Phillies' Orioles Blank Tigers 2-0

Ernie Banks lined three singles and his 14th homer Tuesday as Chicago Cubs romped to a 12-4 victory over Philadelphia.

Half the Phillies' four runs off winner Taylor Phillips, who picked up his fourth victory without defeat, were unearned due to two Cub errors.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Arnold Portocarrero pitched his second straight shutout for the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday night, blanking Detroit Tigers 2-0 on six singles.

NEW YORK (AP)—Young Johnny Kucks blanked Chicago with a two-hitter backed up by three home runs Tuesday night as the American League leading New York Yankees clobbered the White Sox 13-0. It was the third consecutive shutout for the Sox; now scoreless in 30 innings.

BOSTON (AP)—Dick Gernert's three-run homer keyed a 7-3 Boston victory over Cleveland Tuesday night and helped Tommy Brewer to his first pitching triumph since April 23.

It took a four-run rally in the eighth inning to pull the second game out for the Senators after four errors by third baseman Herb Plews had put them in a hole.
