Written for the Examiner:

Why I Love the Church.

You ask me why I love the Church;
An answer I must give;
I love the Church because my Lord
In her is pledged to live.

I love her, for her walls are built,
Her mighty bulwarks known
To be upon Apostles laid,
And Christ the Corner-Stone.

Her three-fold Ministry proceeds,
In one unbroken course,
Down from the Apostolic Age,
From Christ the Head and Source.

Her mission is to seek the lost,
The Saviour's love proclaim;
And by the power He breath'd on her,
To pardon in His Name.

I love her, for in her I see
The Incarnate Saviour's Face;
She is His pure and holy Spouse,
And Mother of our race.

Her Morning Praise, her Evensong
Inflames the heart with love;
Her Liturgy exalts the soul
To angel-hosts above.

Lo, what a record is her past!
What countless saints have trod
Upon that steep ascent which leads
Up to the throne of God!

* * * * *

When I a helpless infant was
She clasped me to her breast,
And placed me safe within the ark
Of her communion blest.

She marked me with the holy Cross
In token I should be
Christ's faithful soldier, not asham'd
To serve Him valiantly.

In youth, unto the sacred rail
She led me to bestow
More grace from God the Holy Ghost
To serve Him here below.

There Apostolic hands were laid
In blessing on my brow:—
"Defend, O Lord, with heavenly grace,
Thy child forever—now.

"Thy Spirit ever on him pour,
Thine may he ever be,
And in Thy glorious Kingdom reign
Through all eternity."

To that most holy, heavenly Feast,
Her voice doth ever call:
"Come unto Jesus weary ones,
In Him is rest for all."

His precious Body and His Blood,
Once offered on the Tree,
Is re-presented unto God
In this sweet Mystery.

With love and favor God looks down
Upon His Son's sweet Face,
And for His merits hears our prayers
And sheds on us His grace.

And with this sweet celestial food
She doth my life renew,
Made one with Christ, and in His strength
My journey I pursue.

And when my course is well-nigh o'er;
When I in sickness lie,
With words of comfort, peace and hope,
She points me to the sky.

With holy rites and sacraments,
With Christ's own Sacrifice,
I close my eyes upon the world
To wake in Paradise.

But even there she follows me,
And ceases not to pray
That I with all the blest may be
"Made perfect 'gainst that day."

* * * * *

'Tis sad to see our Mother mourn
Because of sons untrue;
'Tis sad to see them from her turn
And other paths pursue.

'Tis sad to see dissension reign
Where love and peace should be;
'Tis sad to see her spurned, assailed,
By strife and heresy.

'Tis sad to see her children walk
In paths of sin and shame;
'Tis sad to see them bring reproach
Upon our Mother's name.

But saints beneath the altar watch
And cry "Oh, Lord, how long!"
Our heavenly Aaron intercedes,
And grief shall soon be song.

Soon, soon shall she with power arise
More glorious than the sun,
Schism shall flee before her eyes,
And all shall be made one.

To Christ, her Spouse, shall she be brought
Within His palace bright,
Adorn'd with gold and radiant gems,
And vesture pure and white.

Within those glorious portals bright,
Where time shall know no end,
To Father, Son and Holy Ghost
Her worship shall ascend.

Then, can you ask me why I love
And prize her heavenly ways;
May I through life be found in her,
Hereafter join her praise.

W. E. ENMAN.
Charlottetown, Nov. 18, 1892.

How to Propose.

A party of ladies and gentlemen were laughing over the supposed awkwardness attending a declaration of love, when a gentleman remarked that if ever he offered himself he would do it in a collected and business like manner.

"For instance," he continued addressing a lady present, "Miss Smith, I have been two years looking for a wife. I am in receipt of £400 a year, which is on the increase. Of all the ladies of my aquaintance, I admire you the most. I love you, and would gladly make you my wife. Will you marry me?"

"You flatter me by your preference," good-humoredly replied Miss Smith, to the suprise of all present. "I refer you to my father."

The guests were astounded.

The couple were married shortly after.

Now a Wet State.

A SERIOUS BLOW TO PROHIBITION IN KANSAS.

Two surprising results in the election in Kansas which have up to this time escaped general notice are beginning to attract universal attention. One is the carrying of the proposition to hold a constitutional convention, and the other is the cessation of the enforcement of the prohibitory laws. In their eagerness to elect their state and electoral ticket, the Republicans generally paid no attention to the matter of the constitutional convention, and it carried by default on their part. The majority in favor of it is much larger than the Third party majority. The object of a constitutional convention is the revision of the state constitution so as to eliminate objectionable and obsolete features, and to add new and needed provisions to the old instrument. The convention will be taken advantage of by the anti-prohibitionists of all parties to attempt the elimination from the constitution of the prohibition amendment, and the hottest kind of a fight on that question is anticipated. The governor-elect announces that the enforcement of the laws must hereafter be left with the local officers, and that the state will not use the power in its hands to enforce the law in localities. In other words, he says such localities as desire to enforce prohibition can do so under the general law, and that those who do not desire its enforcement will not be made to enforce it by the state. That in effect means local option, and already the liquor industry throughout the state has taken a boom. In Fort Scott, Kansas, where the law has been rigorously enforced, many saloons have begun business. In Wichita the old "joints" have been removed from dark alleys and rear upstairs rooms to the main streets and downstairs. Saloons have opened in many other towns and Kansas is practically a wet state.

Personal.

With a fortune of $750,000 safely laid away Edwin Booth has positively decided not to appear again upon the stage.

Lincoln, Darwin, Tennyson, Gladstone and Oliver Wendell Holmes were all born in the same year—1809. That year has a right to consider itself an aristocrat among the years.

Rider Haggard thinks Egypt the most interesting and least explored country in the world.

Mrs. Langtry is to be modelled in wax and costumed as Cleopatra for the Chicago Fair.

Renon was wont to say that he was loved by the four women whose affection he valued above all others—his mother, his sister, his wife and his daughter. "I often fancy," he said, "that the judgments which will be passed upon us in the valley of Jehosophat will be neither more nor less than those of women, countersigned by the Almighty."

Barrett Browning, now about 43 years of age and a resident of Venice, was in Christ Church College, Oxford, at the same time as Allen Thorndike Rice, and the two had lodgings together for a time. Mr. Browning says that when he was only 5 years old he wrote verses which led Ruskin to declare that the child was destined to become a poet. Instead of adopting his father's and mother's art, however, Mr. Browning has become a painter.

Princess Marie of Edinburgh, the betrothed of Prince Ferdinand of Roumania, is a beautiful and clever woman, and has already won a warm place in the heart of the Queen of Roumania, Carmen Sylva.

Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone had been spending the latter part of last week at Brighton. While walking on the Esplanade and pier after church last Sunday, Mr. Gladstone was recognized by the promenaders and was soon surrounded by such a crowd that it required the assistance of the police to open a passage way to the hotel. His head was continually uncovered in acknowledging salutes. As he entered the hotel there was an outburst of cheering which was long kept up. For a while the press of the crowd was so great that Mrs. Gladstone's dress was trodden upon.

Comfort in Shoes.

A retired shoe dealer, "whom mercenary considerations no longer deters from giving advice as to the proper care of shoes," says: "A pair of shoes made of good leather will last much longer if properly cared for than when neglected. When shoes are only blacked, the leather soon becomes hard and dry, and the best fitting pair will be uncomfortable, and here and there little cracks will appear, which will soon become chasms. Every week or two the blacking should be wiped off with a damp cloth, the shoe should be allowed to dry and then rubbed with the best harness oil. Every part, including the sole and seams, should be oiled, and the oil given a chance to soak in. The toughest leather can be made soft in this way, and good leather will, after this treatment, feel like kid. The shoe will wear three times as long, and be much more comfortable."

The New York Press remarks that "By a strange coincidence a great number of American farmers, by far the most prosperous of their class in the world, have decided that they want the system under which their great prosperity was attained abolished, just at a time when the British farmer, who has had nearly half a century's experience of the opposite policy, is clamoring most loudly for protection."

A TERRIBLE CASE OF Blood Poisoning!
SKODA VICTORIOUS!

THE FOLLOWING CASE WILL BE VOUCHED FOR BY MANY OF THE BEST CITIZENS OF BELFAST, AND THE CURE THAT FOLLOWED IS TRUTHFULLY RECORDED.

"For months I had been a great sufferer from supposed Blood Poisoning, and its attendant results. My legs would swell to twice their ordinary size, and from my feet to my hips both legs were one solid mass of great purple sores. My arms and body also became affected in like manner. Ceaseless itching and burning tormented me day and night. I lost my appetite. My bowels became constipated. I was much reduced in flesh. People said I would die, and I believed there was no help for me. This was my condition when I began taking SKODA'S DISCOVERY and SKODA'S LITTLE TABLETS, using SKODA'S OINTMENT externally. I soon commenced to improve. After using these REMEDIES four weeks I had gained fifteen pounds in flesh, and improved in every way.

Less than one course of the DISCOVERY, with SKODA'S LITTLE TABLETS and SKODA'S OINTMENT, has completely cured me.

My appetite is excellent. Swelling all gone from my legs. Food digests well. Bowels in good condition. And my skin is free from sores and blotches, and only the ugly scars upon my legs tell of my previous trouble.
