Great Britain's Political Crisis.

THE NEW MINISTRY ON THEIR GUARD.

The Conservative Policy.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

LONDON, June 10.

The new Ministry will attempt no measure which will be calculated to give the Liberals a chance to gain a victory. They intend to recast the Budget in accordance with the votes of the House. When the Estimates are passed they will dissolve Parliament. The crisis is therefore indefinitely postponed.

In the settlement with Russia the Conservatives will adopt Earl Granville's frontier, and at the convention will insist on strength guarantees against another Russian advance towards India.

The acceptance of office by the Conservatives will necessitate a further adjournment of Parliament for ten days.

The Standard of yesterday says: "The duty of the Conservatives is clear. If Gladstone insists upon resigning, the Opposition are bound to accept the duty and responsibility of the government. We trust they will not hesitate, though statesmen have seldom been forced with so unenviable a task."

The Times says: "Though Sir Charles Dilke's estimates of the Liberal chances in the coming election are too sanguine, the risks of losing ground are greater on the Conservative than on the Liberal side. The most serious stumbling block for the Conservatives is the question of Coercion in Ireland."

The News says: "Gladstone's defeat at the present moment is the stepping stone to long Liberal success. He will at the coming election be returned to power by an overwhelming wave of popular enthusiasm."

The Daily Telegraph thinks Sir Stafford Northcote will be Premier and leader of the Commons and the Marquis of Salisbury will be Secretary of Foreign Affairs.

LATER.

LONDON, June 11.

A private deputation of Conservative members of Parliament waited upon Sir Stafford Northcote and the Marquis of Salisbury yesterday, and urged them to refuse office. The Marquis of Salisbury stated that if the Queen called them they must form a government. He would support Sir Stafford Northcote as Premier, and he expected Her Majesty's command would place Sir Stafford in that position.

The quietness that has prevailed on the Stock Exchange throughout the present crisis, is traceable to the public belief that the Conservatives must maintain for a certain length of time a continuity of the foreign policy of Gladstone's Government.

It is rumored that Her Majesty the Queen has sent a cablegram to Mr. Gladstone, requesting him to reconsider his decision to resign. There is no reason, however, to believe that Gladstone will, under existing conditions, consent to resume office.

THE RIEL REBELLION

Recruits for the Front.

Fearing Another Indian Outbreak.

BATTLEFORD, June 10.

Twenty-five recruits of Major Boulton's scouts arrived here at five o'clock last evening. They leave for the front to-day. Many families are leaving here for Winnipeg, fearing the possibilities of another Indian outbreak.

At a meeting of the settlers, held here on Saturday night last, resolutions were passed, censuring the authorities for permitting hostile Indians and half-breeds to go back to their reserves.

Presbyterian General Assembly.

MONTREAL, June 11.

The Presbyterian Assembly met last evening in Crescent Street Church. Over three hundred delegates were present. Prof. MacLaren, the retiring Moderator, preached a missionary sermon. Referring to mission work in the Northwest, he said that not one Indian connected with the Presbyterian mission had joined the rebellion. The roll was called, occupying a half an hour. The Assembly proceeded to elect a new Moderator, when Principal MacKnight was nominated by the Moderators and a number of the Presbyteries, and was unanimously elected. The business committee recommended three sessions each day.

Reported Drowning of Major Lewis and 10 Men.

WINNIPEG, June 11.

A despatch from Calgary reports the drowning of Major Lewis, of the 92nd Battalion, and ten men, in the Saskatchewan River. The news however lacks confirmation.

THE Most Rev. Ignatius Bourget, Archbishop of Montreal, is dead. The deceased was about eighty-seven years old, and was consecrated Bishop of Tennesse in 1837, and was translated to Montreal in 1840. "BIRD OF FREEDOM," the winner of the city and suburban handicap, worth about £1,000 stg., and the Epsom Grand Prix, worth about £4,000 stg., this spring, is a three year old colt bred by Mr. H. An old smoker declares that he has been using Myrtle Navy tobacco ever since the second year of its manufacture, and that during that time he has never suffered from a blistered tongue or parched tonsils, or any other of the unpleasant effects which most tobaccos will leave behind them. His experience, he says, is that no other tobacco which he has ever tried is quite its equal, and that in value for the money no other comes anywhere near it.

Found Dead.

MRS. VANCE, a woman of fifty years, was found dead in her house on Long Street, at half-past ten o'clock this morning. The matter was at once reported to the police, and Coroner McLeod was notified. They immediately viewed the body as it lay in the position it was discovered. She was lying with her head gathered down to her breast apparently as if she had fallen in an epileptic fit.

Mrs. Vance has been drinking heavily the past three days, and there is evidence that excessive drinking of liquor was the cause of her death. The inquest will be held this evening at 6 o'clock.

The London Standard says that Ears Spencer wanted the duration of the Criminal Act to be three years, but a compromise on two years was agreed to. The bill, drafted under Earl Spencer's direction, has been considered by the cabinet. It is a comprehensive measure.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Waterworks Wanted.

SIR,—Permit me to express an opinion on the water-works question. How often have you met on the street, gentlemen with black in the corners of their eyes, their ears full of sand, their clean collar a pure red (in one day), and their eyes bordering on scarlet? This specimen, though frequently to be met with, is not always to be blamed. It is the dust that does the work. Why, therefore, have our duly elected Council done nothing to secure the great boon of water-works? It is understood that His Worship, while making a tour of the Provinces, is attending to this matter. We heartily wish him all success. We have suffered this state of affairs too long, and we trust that the citizens of Ward One will speak with no uncertain sound on that question on Saturday next. In the name of common sense, if the electors vote, let them cast their votes for a progressive man. We don't want to "stick in the mud" all our lives, if we can escape from such a horrible fate. Let us, then, raise our voices for Mr. Poole on Saturday. He is a progressive man. The hum of his business can be heard at the most precincts of the city, which is better by far than a legal document, and not even ordinary civility accompanying it. Of two evils choose the least. By their fruits (deeds) you shall know them. What is their occupation? One desires to go ahead; to give employment to honest workmen; his factory is running loud and long; the other is known only as a "blow hard," a laughing stock for the junior class at public meetings. Rise, therefore, electors of Ward One and speak on Saturday. Teach such do-nothings a lesson; but by all means let us have cleanliness.

Yours, etc.,

PROGRESS.

St. Peter's Bridge.

SIR,—During a recent visit to the Eastern end of King's County, I had the pleasure of inspecting the new bridge in course of construction at the Head of St. Peter's Bay. As you will no doubt have a full description of the structure when completed, I shall not enter into any lengthened details about it. I cannot, however, forbear giving public utterance to the general opinion that the bridge is both a credit to the contractor and an ornament to St. Peter's. When completed, the work—with approaches—will be about 1,000 feet long, though the actual span of the bridge is, I should say, not much over 20 feet. It is built of very heavy, solid timber, well tied and bolted, with a splendid ballasting of stone covered with heavy brush, and over all will be stone and gravel.

The bridge will be so high, I am told, as not to be submerged by the heaviest spring tides. It leads directly from the road on the south side to the junction of the roads on the north side of the Bay, and will thus be an improvement on the roundabout structure which, though still in very fair repair, was inconvenient to the travelling public. If the bridge is being finished in the efficient style in which it stood at the time I saw it, the genial and obliging contractor, Hugh Lord McDonald, Esq., will well deserve the praise a generous public and a friendly Government is prepared to give him.

Yours truly,

PROPER.

Stamp Vendorship.

SIR,—With reference to the vile article which appeared in last night's EXAMINER, I wish to say that the arrangement I made with the boy was perfectly satisfactory to him, and much to his advantage. But since his nameless friend has troubled himself about business which does not concern him, I will relieve him of all further anxiety in the matter by giving the boy immediate liberty to improve his condition if he can.
