THE QUESTION OF POLICY.

HAVING obtained office as a result of representations, pledges and promises that have not been fulfilled, having added half a million to the public debt of the Province, and taxed the people to the top of their bent, and exhausted the land office, the government party are very anxious to know what members of the opposition are going to do about it! The Patriot continues to demand an exposition of the opposition policy. At the proper time, and under other circumstances, this cry would not be unreasonable. But now, when the Conservatives are necessarily ignorant of the exact state of affairs, and know only that everything is in a muddle, no reasonable man will ask them to set forth the policy they will pursue. The first duty of the people is to turn out the men who, false to the expectations they held out, have gone from bad to worse. Then their successors, who ever they may be, will have an opportunity to learn all the facts and be in a position to deal with the conditions as they are found to exist. No prudent man will leap into the dark unless forced to do so. The Conservative leaders would be mad to announce a policy just before two bye-elections. Their will be no easy task, after the duty of governing this Province has devolved upon them. They need to know all that the task involves before they can say what policy they will pursue. Premier Farquharson and his advisers know or ought to know exactly how the Province is situated;—and they deliberately "drift along." Is the debt $600,000 this year, it will be heavier next year; was $14,000 added to taxation this year, there will be other increases in the years to come; was license introduced into the city at the last session of the Legislature, it may be applied to the country at the next session; have the unfortunate lunatics at Falconwood been neglected in the past, they will be neglected in the future; have there been mismanagement and boodling in regard to our road service, mismanagement and boodling will be continued; has the Education Department performed service for the party machine while costing more and doing less educational work suitable to the needs of men and women of the future living in this province, it will be kept in the same downward course as long as Premier Farquharson remains at the head of the Government. Premier Farquharson has expressed no compunction—not even for the passage of the License Law! He has developed no new policy. The ruinous policy of his immediate predecessors is his policy. Is that policy to be maintained and continued? This is the question put to the electors of Belfast and Murray Harbor. If they answer it as they ought to do, the Conservatives will take office and find out, ere long, the condition of affairs. Then they will, before the next general election, be in a position to announce a policy upon which the people may decide.

HE HAD TO OWN UP!

In Parliament nineteen years ago, the Hon. J. W. Ross, now Premier of Ontario, opposed the Canadian Pacific Railway with great violence:

"I venture to say," he exclaimed, "that from one end of the Dominion to the other no more joyful news could be spread than the tidings that the telegraph would flash from the Atlantic to the Pacific that this contract was abandoned, and that Canada was emancipated from the terrible consequences likely to flow from it."

A few days ago, speaking in Ontario, Mr. Ross said:

"I remember when the Canadian Pacific Railway was constructed we thought Sir John Macdonald was undertaking a herculean enterprise, one that would crush the country. I think, perhaps, he was right, and we were wrong. I think, perhaps, he builded more wisely than he knew. No one will say today that the building of the railway was a mistake. Canada today would be a small country, would be weaker in the councils of the Empire, would scarcely be a federated Dominion as it is, were it not for the Pacific Railway."

Yes, the broad statesmanship of Sir John Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper must now be admitted even by their strongest and bitterest opponents.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—There will be disappointment among the men of the Canadian Contingent if, as a Toronto dispatch intimates, they are to be kept at garrison duty in white in South Africa. But the women at home will be at ease.

—Says a British Columbia mining journal: "We would be very sorry to represent the conditions in the Kootenays to be worse than they are. But to deny the fact that the mining industry throughout this portion of the Province has been seriously injured by the legislation of the last session would be as foolish as to dispute the existence of the equator. There is considerable activity in many sections; that is known and freely admitted, and it would be strange if there were not. New mining prospects are being developed, for the reason that the owners cannot afford to shut down. The initial stages of the industry are not so entirely discouraging that they have been or will be abandoned."

—Remarking upon the declaration of Sir Louis Davies that "If a conservative government is elected in Prince Edward Island it will hinder, perhaps stop the construction of the public works now in contemplation," the Halifax Evening Mail says that it is "a distinct threat, meant to intimidate the electors of P. E. Island from defeating the weak and worse than worthless government, whose candidate Sir Louis is supporting." The cause of criticism in the island province, continues the Mail, "must be desperate indeed when a minister of the crown finds it necessary to resort to such shameful practices. We sincerely hope that the electors of Murray Harbor will resent such a flagrant attempt to terrorize them from the free use of the franchise."

—According to the London Empire, Mr. Chamberlain, as soon as the Transvaal business is settled, will turn his attention to the French shore question in Newfoundland:

"Undoubtedly the possession of treaty rights on the shore by the French is becoming every year less valuable to them. Within a few years they will have to abandon them altogether. Mr. Chamberlain may insist upon their accepting monetary compensation for the relinquishment of these valueless rights, or the cession to them of territory elsewhere in return for their withdrawal from Newfoundland."

The granting of a dual sovereignty was an error irritating to both participants in the rights on the Newfoundland coast. Mr. Chamberlain will do a great service to the Empire if he should solve the problem, for besides quiting a perennial source of difficulty, he will lead to the entry of Newfoundland into the Canadian union.

WATCH THE ELECTION "MACHINE."

SIR.—The hopelessness of the Grit case in Belfast and Murray Harbor is no excuse for a Cabinet Minister paid by the people at the rate of $25 a day to attend to departmental duties—going from village to hamlet in a local bye election campaign. If the office requires a Minister, he should be there attending to his duties, and if not, then save the country the seven thousand dollars salary. The conservative leaders in Murray Harbor and Belfast should take warning from the disclosures made in the Ontario election court, and keep a sharp lookout for that "Machine" which so closely follows the wake of prominent government politicians. When threats are used before the election there is only one step more to go on election day. It might be advisable to employ a detective—or two and capture the machine in actual operation. An exhibition of its operations in our own election courts would startle the public at the extent to which it is worked here. If they "hug" it on election day then compel them to keep their arms around it when it is dragged into court.

ADVISOR.

OBITUARY.

Sorrowful lines written on the death of the late Roderick McDonald who died in Malden from a hurt received last June from a horse, while at work. He was 38 years of age. The remains were taken home to Prince Edward Island, accompanied by his sorrowing wife, two sons and a daughter, thence brought to St. Bonaventure's Church, Tracadie, for burial. May his soul rest in peace.

Darling papa is dead whom we loved so well, We hope he is in Heaven where Christ doth dwell. Christ took him from this world of trial and pain— Yes, we hope to meet him in Heaven where Christ doth reign.

Mr. McDonald was formerly of New Perth, Lot 52, Prince Edward Island.

Situation of Cape Colony.

CAPE TOWN, Nov. 20.—Sir Alfred Milner, governor of Cape Colony, and British high commissioner, has issued a proclamation declaring that the Boer proclamations, annexing territory, impressing men or seizing goods, are null and void, and should not be obeyed. He promises full recognition of and fair compensation for actual injury resulting from loyal adherence to British allegiance.

W. P. Schreiner, the premier, has instructed all civil commissioners to announce that there is no intention to call out the Burger forces in the colony, as the colonial government considers the military forces of crown sufficient to preserve order and repel invasion. "Ordinary citizens," the premier declares, "are only expected to remain loyal and not to give countenance to the enemy." Judging from present indications, so far from there being a prospect of a Dutch rising, the fact is that many of the Cape Dutch are so incensed at the loss of their property and the destruction of railways and bridges that they are even beginning to favor the annexation of the two republics.
