

Farmers, as well as others, know that, owing to the failure of the crops in Great Britain and other countries of Europe, the demand for breadstuffs and other farm produce in the trans-Atlantic market this year is uncommonly brisk.

When the National Policy has produced the results which it has been established to effect—given Canada to the Canadians—the British market, except with respect to very few products and in exceptional years, will be completely closed to the Canadian farmers.

This would be very funny if it were not misleading to farmers who are anxious to sell their produce. England is a "Free Trade Country," and it is her boast that she buys in the cheapest markets irrespective of the fiscal policy of the countries in which the articles she requires are produced.

If the Philharmonic Society were to hire a smaller room than the Hall for their practices the evenings would pass far pleasanter and the singing would be easier for the members.

By the way the chequered and eventful life of this same Orchestral Club has been extremely interesting to the members. Certain events in Summerside and Pownal have only to be mentioned to bring into the breasts of every member of this jolly musical club a lively sense of good brotherhood.

Nor less false and nonsensical is the idea promulgated by the Patriot that it is the "National Policy" of Canada to have the British markets closed against us.

The Progress reports that the remains of Mr. Conroy were followed to the grave on Thursday by a very large number of his old neighbors, as well as people from Alberton, Kildare, and other districts.

MUSIC.

The Philharmonic Society.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—As winter is approaching, the question of amusements will naturally be much talked over at present; and as music is gradually becoming one of our chief amusements, I should like to make a few remarks about the Philharmonic Society which is at present struggling into existence.

If the Philharmonic Society were to hire a smaller room than the Hall for their practices the evenings would pass far pleasanter and the singing would be easier for the members.

Having mentioned literature in connection with music upon this Island, I will finish my letter by mentioning a matter that has often surprised me, and that is the want of a good lending library in Charlottetown.

I remain, yours respectfully, SACKLUETT.

Summerside Notes.

From the Summerside Progress. Mr. James McNeil, son of Finlay McNeill, Esq., left here on Thursday last for Texas.

Mr. Montgomery, Superintendent of Education, was in Summerside on Friday.

Colonel Duvar, Inspector of Fisheries, is preparing a lengthy treatise on Lobsters. He will deal at length with their habits and the best means of fostering and propagating that valuable species of shell-fish.
