Speakers Stress Value Of School At Morell

Hon. L. G. Dewar, MD, minister of education, officially opened Morell's new regional high school last night. Guest speaker was Dr. K. A. Parker, superintendent of Charlottetown schools.

Dr. Dewar commented on the value of education and the importance of a well developed school unit in the progress of community life.

He pointed to the increasing cost of education as a prime necessity of the times.

"The times demand greater facilities, better qualified teachers and strong community backing," he said.

Gilles Robichaud, representing the contractor, M. F. Schurman Company turned the keys over to the architect, Alfred Hennessey, who in turn passed them to Charles Campbell, principal of the school.

The chairman was Rev. William Simpson, pastor of Morell parish, who stressed the standards on the part of the parents and the home and school association. He noted the effect regional high schools have on areas by making education available to a larger number of people.

Mr. Campbell described the facilities of the school. Rev. Donald MacLennan, pastor of the Morell United Church, invoked the dedication. The high school choir entertained with appropriate selections. William Rooney, president of the students council spoke on behalf of the student body.

PROGRESSIVE STEP

Dr. Parker told the approximately 500 persons in attendance that "a building of this type suggests the sound mentality of the community, which has taken such a progressive step.

"This was a needed and desirable step to take and it justifies to the ratepayers, the value of financial sacrifices they have made."

He referred to the Canadian Conference on Education. "They resolved there is nothing wrong with education in Canada that good teaching and money can't correct."

He said Prince Edward Island exports 75 per cent of its young people.

"For the 25 per cent that remain in this province, our goal stretches to the highest educational standards. For those, who can, in fact, work out a genuine livelihood in this attractive province."

"We take great pride in the accomplishments in the past five years at the high school level. We must give our next consideration to the small rural schools' contribution to the education of the youngster, who can't be touched by the regional schools," he said.

The opening ceremonies were followed by a tour of the school and a reception tendered by the hospitality committee of Morell Regional High School Board of Trustees.

band and the only U.S. president to be elected four times.

ORPHANED AT 10

A shy, retiring and—by her description—"very plain child," she was orphaned at the age of 10 and was taken in by her grandmother.

At the age of 15 she was sent abroad to study at a school for girls in England, run by an elderly Frenchwoman, Mlle. Souvestre, who had taught her grandmother.

After her return to the U.S. came her courtship with her handsome young husband, a student at Harvard.

They were married on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, 1905, in the Manhattan apartment of her cousin.

For years after their marriage the Roosevelts spent their summers on Campobello Island in New Brunswick, at a house adjoining that of Mrs. Roosevelt's mother.

Their six children were born within 10 years—Anna, James, Franklin Jr. (who died in infancy), Elliott, the second Franklin Jr., and John.

Spirit Is High In Al Camp

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Alouettes held another cold weather practice Wednesday night.

It was 39 degrees out. But the team stayed on the field for 90 minutes, drilling for Saturday's Eastern Football Conference semi - final in Ottawa against the Rough Riders.

The spirit in the camp was obviously high, too high, in fact, for some members of the club's front office. It was evident they were concerned about the possibility of over-confidence.

"From previous experience, we know it's going to be real tough," said Danny Pickett, director of development.

The Riders won two of the three scheduled games between the teams this season and the last one was a tie.

"Of course we feel we can win it," said Pickett. "But you have to remember their defensive line has always chewed up our offensive line when we've played earlier this year."

The Als have another practice scheduled for tonight and a final warmup tentatively set for noon Friday before the team boards an afternoon train for Ottawa.

PWC Musical Is Cancelled

The musical production "South Pacific" planned by the Prince of Wales College Chorus has been cancelled, it was announced yesterday by Christopher Gledhill, director of music for schools.

Mr. Gledhill said "lack of support" was the reason for the cancellation.

UC Presbytery Gives Approval To Projects

Presbytery of Prince Edward Island met recently in Cornwall United Church. Rev. Clayton Lewis, Charlottetown, led in the devotions. The court was constituted by Rev. Dr. W. A. MacQuarrie, chairman of presbytery, who presided during the day.

Rev. J. W. M. Beveridge, Protestant chaplain at RCAF Station, Summerside, was welcomed to the meeting and voted a corresponding member.

Treasurer's report was read by Rev. Gerald Wyrwas, Charlottetown, showing a good return from pastoral charges on allocations.

The home mission committee report was given by Rev. Thomas Goudge, Pownal. Presbytery visitations to home mission charges were arranged and will be carried out during the month of November. At this time the increase in minister's salaries for 1963 will be discussed.

The church property report was given by Rev. R. M. Cameron, Bedeque. Montague was authorized to mortgage their new manse in accordance with their plans to finance the building.

Eldon United Church was given permission to sell its unused church, proceeds to go to a trust fund held by the Vernon-Pownal pastoral charge.

Summerside Church was given permission to sell an unused shed on its church property to enlarge parking space.

Presbytery granted approval to the trustees of Bunbury Church of Trinity pastoral charge to acquire land for the erection in the future, to replace their small, century-old building. A further request was approved for a loan from the Home Mission Board for this purpose.

CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE

A centennial committee was set up, at the request of the religious affairs committee of the Provincial Government, to propose ways in which the United Church might share in Centennial celebrations in 1964.

Rev. David MacDonald, Alberton reported on a committee of church extension. Presbytery agreed to accept a loan of $12,000 from the Board of Home Missions that the new church at Morell might be completed. It also agreed to set up a presbytery committee on church extension, for the establishing of means of raising funds and their use.

APPROVAL NEEDED

Presbytery voiced strong sentiments that congregations must have presbytery approval for any building or altering of church property in the presbytery before proceeding on any project.

The Christian education committee was reported by Rev. David Hamilton, O'Leary, who urged full support of the coming visit of Miss Olive Sparling, children's work secretary of the Board, Nov. 19. He reminded members that applications should now be in for any interested in attending Model Parliament, Dec. 27-31, at Acadia University, Wolfville. Transportation will be arranged for these boys.

Boy's conferences are again planned for the first week in December for boys 13-17. Announcement was made of a workshop, Dec. 1 for all boys' leaders of Tyro and Sigma-C programs.

The fall institutes on the new curriculum are being planned and full support was urged.

David Murphy reported on Augustine Cove camps and outlined the future plans of the camp committee for new water supply, refrigeration, and recreation hall.

The presbytery went on record as generally in approval of the Layton Ford Mission if and when it is approached for support.

Rev. Alexander MacKay and Robert Auld were reported ill and the good wishes of the court expressed for their recovery.

Mrs. Helen MacDonald, Charlottetown, reported for information and stewardship. An evaluation of the TV. program "Talk Back" viewed on CFCY some years ago, was made. It was felt much was learned from that series and another could be very effective.

MISSIONARY FUND

W.B. Creed gave a very fine report on the Missionary and Maintenance Fund revealing that the presbytery is 23 per cent ahead of last year. Rev. Lewis Murray spoke on the missionary zeal of a small rural congregation. He attributed this to their convictions of the Lordship of Christ; the use of duplex envelopes; the attempt to keep themselves informed by the use of Upper Room, the Observer and church literature.

Rev. Dr. L.P. Archibald, Bedeque, reported on the move to increase minister's pensions by 20 per cent effective Jan. 1, 1963. The court expressed its pleasure.

Dr. MacQuarrie reported sharing in the dedication of the new manse at Montague. The congratulations of presbytery was extended to the congregation.

Rev. E. Adams and Keith Lapp, Commissionars to General Council, reported some highlights.

Dr. Archibald, pronounced the Benediction. Rev. John Ball expressed the thanks of the members of the court to the minister, Rev. I. Walls, to the session and to the ladies of the host church for the very fine arrangements enjoyed during the day.

No Holiday On Nov. 12

With Remembrance Day falling on Sunday this year, it appears that federal government employees will be the only ones to get a holiday on Monday, November 12.

A check yesterday showed that Monday will not be a holiday for employees of the provincial government and the City of Charlottetown Corporation.

Schools and banks will stay open.

CRITICIZES WAGE FREEZE

OTTAWA (CP) — Claude Jodoin, president of the Canadian Labor Congress, Tuesday criticized the government's wage freeze for prevailing rate employees. In a statement issued here, he said government rates would fall behind private industry despite the fact that government rates were supposed to keep pace. He said the pay pause might encourage private industry to resist wage adjustments.

Window Attracts Attention

The window of Craswell's Portrait Studio, decorated in honor of Remembrance Week, is drawing a considerable amount of comment from passersby.

The decorations which are drawing so much attention are centered by a painting done by Mr. Craswell of a very brilliant sunset. On this he has superimposed the figures of a sailor, a soldier and an airman, who are facing the sunset and saluting.

An appropriate caption has been added which reads "At the going down of the sun, and in the morning, we shall remember them." Beneath the picture is laid a large wreath of poppies.

The picture is flanked on the left by a cross of poppies, with a card reading, "To those who shall not pass this way again." A similar cross at the right has a card which reads "To those who returned and fought the good fight."
