

Two U. S. Authors Suggest Oswald Had Accomplice

By ARCH MACKENZIE
WASHINGTON (CP)—Did Lee Harvey Oswald have an accomplice who helped kill President Kennedy and wound Texas Governor John Connally in Dallas in 1963?

The writers of two new studies of the tragic events of Nov. 22, 1963, suggest he did—a view counter to that contained in the official report handed down by the U.S. investigating commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren of the Supreme Court.

Each author offers statements in a five-volume FBI report in support of their theory that Oswald had aid in firing at the presidential car. The FBI version, which was not included in the Warren report, now is in the national archives. One of the books which takes issue with the official verdict is "The Assassination of President Kennedy," prepared as a master's thesis at Cornell by Edward Jay Epstein. It is to be published shortly with a foreword by Richard R. Rovers, Washington correspondent for The New Yorker magazine.

The other, called "Whitewash," has been published by Harold Weisberg, a former government employee who now raises poultry in Maryland.

Each attacks the way the Warren commission handled the investigation, in addition to differing with the commission's conclusion that Oswald acted alone.

FBI report filed by both authors gives the FBI view on how the assassination bullets entered the president's body, a view formed by agents within a few hours of Kennedy's death. The FBI version has been criticized as too hasty and, as shown in subsequent explanatory references, based partly on hearsay.

The question of how the bullets entered the president's body is held crucial in determining whether Oswald had help, as Epstein and Weisberg suggest. By the FBI version, Oswald could not have fired the shots that hit Kennedy and Connally by himself. The findings of the official autopsy, included in the Warren report, said he could.

The autopsy version is that one bullet passed through the president's neck and wounded Connally. A film shows both men were wounded within one-half to two seconds of each other.

DENIES BULLET EMERGED
The FBI report says the bullet did not emerge from Kennedy's neck and therefore, by implication, could not have wounded Connally.

Hence the authors' assumption that the two men were firing, because they do not believe Oswald could have fired two shots within two seconds with his bolt-action rifle.

The commission report hedges somewhat on the point, saying that while evidence is not certain, it is "very persuasive" to argue that the same bullet which pierced the president's throat also caused Governor Connally's wounds.

The commission conceded that Connally's testimony and certain other factors have given rise to some differences of opinion as to this probability.

Epstein in his book says one of the seven Warren commissioners heard all the evidence; that Senator Richard Russell (Dem. Ga.) heard only six per cent of it and that Allen Dulles, former head of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, heard the most, 71 per cent.

Epstein says the average commission member heard 45 per cent and that the bulk of the investigation was handled by a few young staff members.

Memorial Started To D-Day

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery Monday laid the foundation stone for Britain's first memorial to D-Day. He urged those who survived the Second World War not to break faith with those who died.

Montgomery, 73, in full uniform and holding his crimson baton of rank, addressed an assembly of military, church and civic leaders in Portsmouth Cathedral Monday as the 22nd anniversary of the allied landings in France.

"Many gathered here Monday are of high rank," he said to the admirals, generals and air marshals in the audience.

"But let us not forget those who in the end win battles—the soldiers, sailors and airmen."

If the dead of D-Day could send back a message, Montgomery said it would be "the torch is yours to hold now; if you break faith we shall not sleep."

The D-Day memorial will take the form of an extension to Portsmouth cathedral, a building never completed with a bricked-up western end.

United And Presbyterian Are Planning Joint Statement

TORONTO (CP)—A joint statement of relations between the United Church and the Presbyterian Church in Canada is to be made some time this week, it was announced here.

The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was told by Dr. D. H. Rayner, secretary of the committee on inter-church relations, that several steps toward more concerted action by the two churches have already been taken over the last year.

Dr. Rayner reported that a committee of seven from each church have met four times since the last general assembly. They have discussed co-operation in ministering to summer and winter resorts, the "inner city" of Toronto, and to apartment dwellers.

The results of a vote on the right of women to be ordained both as teaching elders and as full ministers within the Presbyterian Church were announced.

Dr. E. S. Mackay, chairman of the committee to investigate the role of women, said 21 presbyteries approved the ordination of women to the eldership, and 16 disapproved. Six voted to ordain women to full ministry, and 21 disapproved, and two presbyteries of the total 49 did not report. These are deemed to have cast disapproving votes.

Dr. E. A. Thomson, the assembly clerk, said the delegates may vote according to the opinion of this numerical majority.

"Or," he added, "they may decide, in spite of the majority, that the church is still divided on this question, and postpone action."

NOVOTNY RE-ELECTED
PRAGUE (AP)—President Antonin Novotny was re-elected first secretary of the Czechoslovak Communist party Saturday.

The 13th party congress ended after five days of discussion during which wide support was shown for the country's drastic economic reform.

Dble Pass Pass 3♦
3♠ Pass 4♠ Pass

Opening lead—jack of clubs. This hand occurred in the Vanderbilt team of four champions of 1964. East's two notrump bid was the "unusual notrump" and showed minor suit length with limited high-card values. South then proceeded to six spades on the bidding shown.

It is highly unlikely that South would have made the slam had East stayed out of the bidding. With normal play he would probably have gone down either one or two tricks. But South made the slam as a result of the two notrump
