LIFE IN MANITOBA.

STONEWALL, Manitoba,
July 30th, 1895.

DEAR UNCLE,—Thinking that possibly you might be interested in hearing something of the land in which I have cast my lot, I send you a few items. Argyle, as it is called, is so named by people who originally came from Argyleshire, in Scotland. It is situated about thirty miles northwest of Winnipeg, and nine miles west of Stonewall, in one of the most fertile parts of Manitoba. The inhabitants are all prosperous and comfortable, even under the general depression which has been so universally felt for some time back. Certainly, they have not much surplus left at the end of the year, yet they have enough left to pay their way, put on some improvements, and, in fact, I know of some who have laid by a little money.

We can also boast that the right hand of fellowship is also extended to the new settler; and I have known more than 30 teams to put in an appearance at ploughing frolics for the purpose of breaking up the virgin prairie and making it ready for wheat the next spring. We have numerous churches and schools, both comfortable and convenient. Our nearest church is Presbyterian, and is conducted by the Rev. A. Hamilton, of Toronto, a good representative of the profession, always having the welfare of his flock in view. We have also a fine Sabbath and day school. The attendance at the former is from 60 to 100, that of the latter is from 15 to 20. Stonewall, our chief market, is a smart little village of 500 people. It has four churches, about a dozen stores, two hotels, three blacksmith shops, grist mills, elevators, three lime kilns and an excellent quarry bed, employing sometimes upwards of 200 men. The train comse in from Winnipeg every other day, and while the quarries are in operation times are quite brisk. The much talked of Hudson Bay Railroad runs through the western part of this township, but the forty miles of track that was built is sadly in need of repair, and likely to remain so, as the only time we hear about this grand road is on the eve of an election. A few years ago lumber was a luxury here on account of high prices, but now several saw mills are operated about forty miles north of here, where excellent spruce timber can be had for the labor of cutting it, and so the price of lumber has dwindled from $20 per thousand down to $10. There is no scarcity of timber north of here, and excellent firewood can be bought in Stonewall for $1.50 per cord. The land is exceedingly rich, being heavy clay down to the rock, a distance of about 30 feet. Some of the fields have been cropped for twenty years or more with no sign of failure yet. The farmers scoff at the idea of manuring land, and every farm has a stack of manure, in some cases the accumulation of years, that would gladden the hearts of P. E. Island farmers could they see it. The water here is delicious, being free from any taint whatever, as it comes of limestone rock. We dig down to the rock, a distance of perhaps thirty feet, and then we have to drill from 10 to not exceeding 50 feet in the rock. Wheat yields from 20 to 40 bushels per acre, and always grades No. 1 hard. The average yield of a wheat crop is about 20 bushels per acre, but the price is low. This year the average price was 45 cents per bushel. Oats was worth 30 cents; barley, 40 cents; beef, $3.50 to $4.50 by the side; dressed pork, $4.50 to $5.00; potatoes, 50 cents per bushel. This is a profitable crop here as they require very little work. Being planted on stubble land, no manure is required and you have an A1 crop, potato bug and rot being out of the question. Dairying is a very profitable branch of industry here, but those who were extensively engaged in it were somewhat disappointed this spring when butter fell from 25 to 15 cts per lb., but the erection of a creamery in Stonewall is going to tide us over this difficulty. The grazing ground here is large and an abundance of hay can be had for winter use, the only cost being the labor of putting it up. Four or five generally go together, each man putting up from 25 to 100 tons just as he requires. Calves that run with their mothers all summer sell in the fall for $10 or $12 per head. But when the shooting season opens then our sport begins; geese, ducks swans, wild turkeys, prairie chickens, grouse, partridge, rabbits, etc., are all numerous in their season, also the jumping deer and moose. Shooting geese is excellent sport, but they are very shy and watchful and it requires skill on the part of the hunter to get within range. The most successful way is to dig a hide in some field they are in the habit of frequenting, cover it over with straw, set out some decoys and get into the hide before daylight, and you are sure of dead geese. I know of a man that shot 37 geese last fall in one day, more than he could pile into his buggy making a total weight of 1100 lbs. The wavies or white geese are plentiful here this spring and quite a few have been bagged. Mallard ducks are very plentiful here in fall and to hear them raise off the stubble fields, you would imagine a miniature cyclone coming, but they are very wild and hard to get. Our best shooting commences the middle of September when the praire chicken season opens. When the first snow came last fall a party of three went out for an afternoon's sport and they shot 40 birds without ever leaving the sleigh except to get the game. Praire wolves are numerous in some places, but they are harmless except to sheep and barnyard fowl. They are larger and stronger than the fox, and can easily vanquish the most of dogs.

We have had a fine winter with barely enough of snow for sleighing. The thermometer seldom got down to zero till about the middle of January. Then we had 3 weeks of extreme weather but the sun shone brightly nearly every day. The snow went away about the middle of March and the 30th of March the thermometer registered 65 in the shade. Quite a few farmers began seeding the first of April. One of our most interesting sights is a mirage. Quite an amusing joke is told about a settler that came here from Ontario 4 years ago. Of course he had never heard of a mirage. To the west of his house was a range of bluffs hiding everything beyond from his view. About 40 miles further west lies the little town of Portage la Prarie. This gentleman had gone to bed as usual one night but on going out to attend to his stock next morning he was thunderstruck to see a beautiful town, elevators, churches and schools in full view apparently not more than 5 miles away. After kicking himself several times to make sure of his wakefulness he rushed for the house to alarm the inmates but when they arrived on the scene alas the mirage had vanished. You may imagine this gentleman's surprise when on looking westward nothing was to be seen but this same old range of bluffs. But a mirage is no uncommon sight to an old Manitobian. Hoping P. E. I. is again coming to its natural color.

I remain,
JOHN MCLEOD.

MRS. P. CLONEY, of Charlottetown, formerly of Cardigan Bridge, P. E. I., writes: "I have used PRUSSIAN OIL for Lame Back that I have suffered from for twenty years. I have also used it for Dyspepsia, and in both cases it has given me the most wonderful relief. I can cheerfully and sincerely recommend it."

ORGANIZATION OF FARMERS.

A FEATURE OF THE DAY.

James Rogers Speaks Earnestly.

The development of Farmers' Institutes and other means of education on successful practical farming has proven beyond a doubt that the present day farmer requires to be a student of his work. The most successful ones are not, as a rule, those who do the greatest amount of manual labor, but they are found ranking first as prize-winners on all agricultural products. James Rogers, a resident of Tilsonburg, Oxford Co., Ont., for 45 years, has taken numerous first prizes during the year. A successful, reliable man, his statement will be of interest to many:

"I have suffered for seven or eight years with Itching Piles; the torture and agony I cannot here find words to describe. Night after night was kept awake with the painful itching. I tried all the physicians and every known remedy all to no account, not even relief. In talking over my curious trouble with Mr. Chas. Thomson, our well known druggist, he recommended Chase's Ointment. To my wonder and surprise, I got relief from the second application. I firmly believe one box sufficient to cure any case of Itching Piles no matter of how long duration. I would not be without it for ten times its cost. In volunteering this testimony and my consent for the manufacturers of Chase's Ointment to use it as they wish, it is that like sufferers may know they can be cured."

THE TIDE TURNS.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-known Peterboro' Lady.

PETERBORO, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well-known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time, and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years that she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taking the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

Don't Wait for the Sick Room.

The experience of physicians and the public proves that taking Scott's Emulsion produces an immediate increase in flesh; it is therefore of the highest value in Wasting Diseases and Consumption.
