What Ails the Ancient Companies? This is what ails them: The FEAR of CHANGE, which Milton says used to perplex monarchs when they saw a long tailed comet in the sky. The CHANGE is HERE; not heralded by a comet but by the New York, the perfect writing machine. Unequaled in PRINCIPLE OF CONSTRUCTION, OPERATION AND ALIGNMENT, SPEED AND NOISELESSNESS, BEAUTY OF WORK AND MANIPULATING, FOLDING, CLEARNESS OF LETTER PRESS-COPIES. New Features: NO RIBBON, NO SHIFT KEY, NO DOUBLE SCALES, NO DIRTY TYPE TO CLEAN, NO OLD-FOGY IDEAS. The history of the introduction of the Yost has been marvellous since its very inception. Never did a radical newcomer so rapidly replace its established rivals. Its long awaited improvements, however, gave it a hearty welcome, and to-day its following is world-wide and enthusiastic. Thousands of operators have tried and preferred it, and thousands of others—who lack the courage of their convictions—stick to the old machines from force of habit only—already acknowledge it as THE typewriter. And all of this wonderful success of the past has been won with the early model of the Yost, upon which the NEW YOST is a vast step in advance.
