WELLS & RICHARDSON CO., DEAR SIRS:--I would prove an ungrateful woman if I refrained from doing justice to Paine's Celery Compound. Having suffered for many years from chronic constipation and general debility, I at last got very low. I was given up to die by the doctors. Just at this time I was recommended Paine's Celery Compound by a friend, and in two days found some relief. After using the medicine for three months I am as well as ever before, and enjoy good health.

INOW DAYS.

Oh, the children love the snow, and they never grumble over it! Old winter snaps, but in their wraps they toss and tumble over it. In a laughing, jolly jumble. Through a snowdrift first they stumble. Then a snow man, like a dough man-- Though he really looks like no man-- They freeze stiff as any Roman, Ere he has a chance to crumble. So, hello! Who loves the snow Let him out a-playing go!

On the road it makes a cushion so the wheels can't rattle over it. But all the boys in merry whirls they romp and battle over it. Then the girls, both high and humble, Bring their sleds without a grumble, And a-coasting, cheeks a-roasting, Every one of speed u-bonating. Down the hill they all go coasting. With a jounce and bounce and tumble. So, hello! Who loves the snow Let him out a-playing go! --Martha Burr Banks in St. Nicholas.

HAUNTED BY MEMORY.

One Man Who Will Never Forget the Samoan Disaster.

"I suppose that all of us who felt the living, frenzied force of that awful on shore hurricane will dream about occasionally as long as we live," said an ex-bluejacket of the United States navy now living in Washington, who was among the Vandalia ship's company at the time of the great naval disaster in Apia harbor, Samoa, in reverting to that experience. "For three or four years after I got out of that mess all safe and sound the memory of it used to get tangled up in my head when I was asleep, and I would wake in a tremble and be unable to sleep for the remainder of the night. But time has softened the craggier edges of the remembrance of that horrifying black wind, and once in a spell nowadays I forget all about it for two or three days at a time.

"There was one man in my mess on the Vandalia who was never quite right after we went on the reef. I was shipmate with him for two years afterward, and his occasional wildness was plain to all hands, and men who've been shipmates with him since--for he's still in the outfit--tell me that he's just as badly haunted by the memory of the disaster as he was when last I saw him. This man was a shipwright, and his name was Turley. Before we had that bad blow Turley was as cheerful and as chipper a man around decks as I ever swapped yarns with, but when he got well of his broken arms down in Apia he was a changed man. I never saw him crack a grin after the blow, and from a stout, husky fellow he became thin and haggard looking. He recovered all right physically from the thing, you see, but it sort of twisted his head and preyed upon him. He swung his hammock alongside of me on the Alert for two years after we were sent up to duty on the west coast again, and it was a common thing for Turley to hop out of his hammock in a frenzy in the middle of the night in port or at sea, yelling like a madman: 'All hands abandon ship! She's going to strike!' He created a lot of excitement up forward by doing this, but after awhile the men got used to it and only turned over when they heard Turley howling.

"It was the regular thing for the corporal of the marine guard at the gangway to prod the poor chap awake when he had these crazy somnambulist spells and put him back in his hammock, for he'd come out of them as weak as a kitten and trembling all over. There were a number of us on the Alert who were washed up in the Samoan disaster, and naturally once in awhile we'd get talking about it. But it didn't take us long to find out that we couldn't talk about it while Turley was around. The mention of the thing in his hearing would bring an insane gleam into his eyes, and he would suddenly begin to talk incoherently and at the top of his voice about reefs and dragging anchors and all that, so that we learned to knock off Samoan hurricane talk when he was around. I don't wonder much either. It was an evil enough blow to nigh turn any man's headgear topsy turvy."--Washington Star.

A GREAT BATTLE!

That is Being Fought by Canadians on Canadian Soil.

THE FORCES OF DYSPEPSIA HAVE ATTACKED OUR PEOPLE--BUT WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF DODD'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS WE CAN EASILY DRIVE THEM BACK.

The war between the United States and Spain, if it continued for a thousand years, would not produce a battle so momentous--all its battles together would not be so important as the Battle of Life.

If you would win in the battle of Life, you must have a clear brain, keen senses, perfect vigor, shrewdness, energy and ambition.

Dyspepsia kills these needful qualities. You can't succeed if you are constantly tortured by dyspepsia or indigestion.

But you can get rid of dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, sour stomach, or any other ailment of stomach or digestive organs by simply taking one or two of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets banish indigestion, and dyspepsia. They ensure perfect digestion.

With a perfect digestion to a strong healthy body, a clear capital brain, vigor, ambition, determination, energy, activity, keen, alert senses Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets ensure all these.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have never failed to cure any or all of the diseases named when they have been fairly tried. They cannot fail.

If you don't believe it--test them. They'll convince you by curing you.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or sent, on receipt of price, by The Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

The Cache in Alaska.

The settlements along the Yukon are few and far between and consist, for the most part, of the same elements. There are the company's store; the huts and tents of the natives; the crowd of howling dogs; salmon hanging in red strips, buttressed with copper tinges in the sun; little tots of children; chattering women offering baskets, moccasins and trinkets for sale, and here and there perhaps a squad of uniformed children, marking the work of some mission--good looking, clean, smiling children, but whether Christianized or not, spoiled for living like natives again. The problem is, What is to become of them? Along the banks are occasionally met the rude huts and tents of small parties of Indians come hither to cut wood for the boats or to fish, but, however simple the habitation, it must always have the cache, or storehouse, propped upon posts to keep the supplies out of reach of the dogs, for these dogs can bite through a tin can and almost climb a greased pole in search of food. The cache should have a place on the coat of arms of Alaska. It is universal. --"The River Trip to the Klondike," by John Sidney Webb, in Century.

Women Unjustly Treated.

When Dealers Sell Them Common and Deceptive Dyes.

There are thousands of women who have heard of the great saving that can be effected by home dyeing when the Diamond Dyes are used, and have decided to experiment for themselves.

Many of these women, thoughtlessly, will simply ask for a package of dye of the needed color when buying. This request will allow the wary dealer to foist on the unsuspecting customer some imitation or soap grease dye, worthless as coloring agents, but on which they realize a large profit.

Dealers who do this kind of business are treating and serving their customers unjustly. The dealer knows well that the Diamond Dyes are necessary for his customer in her work.

The Diamond Dyes are the only dyes that reputable dealers handle and sell. The wise merchant keeps a full stock of Diamond Dyes, because the daily demand is so great for these guaranteed and world-famous coloring agents.

The woman who uses Diamond Dyes for her first dyeing operation will never use another make. Bright, strong, clean lasting and fashionable colors are obtained only from the Diamond Dyes.
