Brooder House, 275 Chickens Lost In Fire

A brooder house and 275 three-day old chicks, owned by Hammond Bowness, Bedouque, were destroyed by fire Monday night in a blaze that apparently originated from an oil-fed brooder stove.

The blaze broke out around 10:30 p.m. shortly after the Bowness' had retired for the night and was first noticed by neighbors who alerted Mr. and Mrs. Bowness. However, the fire had gained too much headway by this time and soon levelled the small structure, which fortunately was well removed from the other buildings.

The wind was light at the time and although the blaze spread to a nearby wooden fence on more than one occasion, it was quickly smothered by water. The loss is valued at approximately $300.00 with no insurance.

S'side Stores Decide To Keep To Present Hours For Business

A decision to retain the present opening and closing hours for Summerside stores was reached yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the retail merchants committee of the Summerside Board of Trade. Chairman Roy Boates presided with seven of the eight committee members present.

These hours do not necessarily include banks, as they have not reached any definite decision as yet. However it is felt that they will probably continue with the banking hours currently in effect which are 10 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. although much delay and inconvenience is experienced in daily business transactions due to daylight time on the mainland.

Inquest Held Last Evening In Death Of St. Eleonor's Boy

A coronor's jury at the inquest into the death of four-year-old Frederick Backer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Backer, St. Eleonor, who was killed on the highway near his home on April 27th returning the following verdict last evening after hearing evidence of seven witnesses:

"We as members of the jury find no blame attached to the driver in any way, concerning the death of Frederick Backer who came to his death by being struck by a truck driven by Thomas Matthew."

The first witness called was the driver of the truck, Thomas Vernon Matthew, of Summerside, who said that the child had started to cross the highway in front of his loaded one-ton oil truck proceeding west. When a short distance from the child the little fellow altered his direction and was struck by the truck which had gone over to the left side of the road in an effort to avoid the accident.

Witness said he was travelling about 30-35 miles per hour, that his brakes were good, and that he did not think the child had observed the vehicle approaching.

Vance Palmer of Summerside, who was a passenger in the truck at the time of the accident said he and the driver were en route to Tyne Valley. He said that the driver had sounded his horn as they approached the child.

Gordon Alexander Oakes of St. Eleonor, working in the yard of his home opposite the point on the highway where the fatality occurred, told of seeing the little fellow on the highway just previous to the accident.

Mr. Oakes said he was operating a power saw at the time, and did not hear any horn being sounded. He estimated the speed of the truck about 25-30 miles per hour. Dr. John Downing told of being called to the scene of the accident. On his arrival he found the child was dead due to a crushing injury to the skull which he said would have caused instantaneous death. George Wotton, Guardian photographer, identified photos taken at the scene of the accident shortly after it occurred.

Const. Raymond Lively, R.C.M.P., Summerside detachment, described police investigation, he had conducted at the location of the fatality.

He described the location as being on a curve on the highway, and gave evidence of tests made on the brakes of the truck which he said were in good condition. He said there was no evidence of alcohol on the driver or his passenger.

Members of the jury were: W. M. Noye, foreman, Benjamin Gallant, Wallace Noye, Frank Gallant, Herbert Oakes, Leonard MacNeill, Oliver Sonier.
