All main highways and secondary roads in shape are out on the job. The paved roads came through the winter in excellent shape and Hon. Makes Complaint Re Political Patronage

OTTAWA, April 9.—(Special)—Only "died-in-the-wool" Grits can get jobs on federal government works projects in Prince Edward Island, W. Chester S. McLure, Progressive Conservative member for Queen's said in the House of Commons today.

Mr. McLure complained of the way jobs were handed out at Point Prim, and Pinette. He said that he had tried to get work for a couple of war veterans on those jobs but that they were turned down. The men were good citizens, Mr. McLure said, but could not get a look-in.

"I do not like to see any of these departments going back to the old patronage system," he stated.

Mr. McLure asked if it was the intention of the Department of Public Works to build a bridge across Rustico Harbor to connect up with Cavendish beach and the National Park. Works Minister Fournier who was guiding his estimate through the House said that final decision would be deferred until a report had been received from the Nova Scotia Technical College science service had been received.

The Works Department, Mr. Fournier said, had recommended continuation of investigation of harbor developments at Rustico and that improvements be made to Rustico Harbor to the extent of $170,000.

"It is recommended that we do this work," Mr. Fournier said. I think this is one of the dreams of the honorable gentleman. He has spoken about it many times in the House. Now he is near to his dream becoming a reality. He will see this work done."

similar condition could apply to Korea. The idea of a UN trusteeship for Formosa is even less concrete. It was considered long ago. But now Formosa is the seat of the Nationalist government, which holds a veto-power in the UN security council. There is a possibility that under changed conditions Red China might be permitted to enter the UN but there is no intention to make a government-in-exile of the Nationalists.

When the White House says these ideas have not been "considered" it means, of course, that they have not been handled in the national security council and by the president as orders of business.

Eight Dead, 50 Injured in Crash

LONDON.—(AP)—Transport officials today announced a toll of nine persons killed and 50 injured in last night's shattering crash of two jam-packed London subway trains.

It took rescue workers more than 15 hours to cut their way through the tangled wreckage to reach the last four bodies, including that of a mother still clutching her two-year-old baby in death.

Of the injured, eight were listed in serious condition. Transport officials said a signal failure may have figured in the disaster.

U.S. Ambassador

He told the delegates the Korean situation is the main obstacle to peace now. The Soviet Union supported fully the stand of the Chinese Premier-foreign Minister Chou En-lai on the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners and for the repatriation of other prisoners. He quoted an extract from Chou's statement saying prisoners who would not be repatriated would be remitted to a neutral state while the Korean War is being settled.

Hits At Nato

Vishinsky appeared to be hitting hardest at NATO. He quoted President Eisenhower as saying NATO is the "central source of strength for the western world." Vishinsky said such a policy will not yield good fruit, and wound up with the declaration that the main concern of the Soviet Union, "as Malenkov put it, is to avert a new war and live in peace."

Western plans to rearm Western Germany. He said that country must be "demilitarized and democratized."

Move Remains Of Sitting Bull

MOBRIDGE, S. D., (AP)—A group of nifty South Dakotans Wednesday lifted the bones of Sitting Bull, famed Sioux Indian medicine man, from the unkept North Dakota burial ground they had occupied 63 years and reburied them across the state line in South Dakota near the chief's boyhood home.

The dawn disinterment was led by an Indian acting for a group of Sitting Bull's descendants who said through an interpreter, "I was tired of the white man's red tape and delays."

The action may touch off a new war between the states. South Dakota has been clamoring for Sitting Bull's bones for several weeks.

A move to rebury the famed Indian leader was made not long ago through official channels but North Dakota refused to honor the request.

Care Of Children At Different Age Levels Discussed

The third day's session of lectures in Paediatric Nursing was resumed yesterday at the Provincial Sanatorium. A large and representative group of nurses attended the lecture and discussion period, on the care of the newborn. The topic was expertly and simply presented by Dr. Maureen Roberts, Paediatrician, Children's Hospital and of Dalhousie Public Health Clinic, Halifax.

Dr. Roberts dwelt on the medical and nursing care measures instituted for the care and protection of the newborn. One of the first radical adjustments of the infant is the function of oxygenation. Techniques which would aid the newborn carry out this function were discussed. The heat regulatory mechanism of the infant is very unstable and undeveloped, therefore, the nurse plays an important role in maintaining of an adequate level of temperature and humidity. Feeding of the newborn from the KINGSTON UNITED W.M.S.

The Kingston United W.M.S. held their March meeting at the home of Mrs. Bud McKinnon with an attendance of 14 members. Mrs. Bert Willis led the worship period, the theme, "The Community of Grace."

The opening hymn was "I Need Thee Every Hour", Eph. Chap. 4 was read responsively followed by readings by Mrs. Lyman Newson, "In Korea Again", Mrs. Edgar Newson, "Hymn of Praise" and a Christian Stewardship reading by Mrs. Owen Younker.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Roll call was answered with a verse of scripture. A letter was read from Mrs. John Scott, Christian Stewardship secretary, concerning the allocation, it was decided to accept the same as last year. It was moved and seconded that each member pay $1.25.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Edgar Newson, Mrs. Lyman Newson to lead the worship period. The lunch committee will be Mrs. Owen Younker, Mrs. Ralph Younker and Miss Irma Newson. The meeting closed with hymn, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" and Mizpah Benediction. Lunch was served by the hostess and committee in charge.

Care Of Children At Different Age Levels Discussed

aspect of when to begin feedings and how much to give was treated briefly since further discussion will be given to this subject at the evening session. The extreme necessity for recognizing abnormalities in the first few hours of life was emphasized as a factor in saving the life of an infant. However, the doctor pointed out that abnormalities are rare but do occur.

Opportunity for questions was given at the end of the period. A good deal of discussion was stimulated and the problems were settled by Dr. Roberts and Miss Flander.

Miss Madeline Flander, R.N., Montreal was the chief speaker at the afternoon session held at the Charlottetown Hospital. Discussion continued with hospital care of infants and children of various age levels. Miss Flander in all of her talks has concentrated on the psychological and social needs of the child and has emphasized that "the more completely one fulfills the emotional needs of a child the less need there is for disciplinary measures."

A happy atmosphere and suitable environment will aid a child to make a speedy adjustment to new experiences.

The speaker continued with a consideration of detailed nursing care of children of various age groups in a hospital situation and dealt, also, with special problems arising with individual children.

One must always consider the age in relation to the emotional and social needs, the physical development and the medical and nursing needs.

"Fashions in feeding change as do fashions in clothes," said Dr. Roberts, "and the fashion today is not very good." Dr. Roberts was referring to the present day practice of bottle-feeding the newborn. She impressed her audience with the value and advantages of breast feeding. Wholly apart from the statistics show that the percentage of deaths is lower among breast-fed babies. To change this fashion, doctors should have meetings with young married couples before the woman is ever pregnant to prepare them for parenthood.

Miss Flander continued the discussion on feeding aspects of the other age groups, taking in turn and explaining the basic mechanism of hunger, appetite and the infant's sensory and reflex equipment. Eating should be an enjoyable time for the child, and the child should be allowed to explore the new sensations of using the cup, the spoon etc. Children will take food jags and as suddenly refuse a food. This is a temporary condition and will pass. The important thing is that food of a proper consistency be made available to the child in a tension free atmosphere.
