

gird him as an honest man; and we have the misfortune to be amongst the number of his victims. He is a fellow about thirty-five years of age, a little more than five feet high, light build, and of dark, cadaverous visage. We hope the Press will pass him through, and save the public from further imposition at his hands.

THE SLANDERS OF THE TIMES

For cool unmitigated lying, the offspring of innate blackguardism, we will watch the following extract from the London Times of the 13th ult., against anything we have ever yet seen dignifying the columns of a public journal. The writer is that particularly well informed gentleman who was sent out as a "special correspondent" of the Times to describe the progress of the Prince's visit, and who has taken all British America to mean "Canada," and makes the following e luminous attack on Charlottetown in the course of one of his washy, trashy, and utterly unreliable letters to Printing House Square. As the Times is well known by the name of the Thunderer, its "special correspondent" in North America seems determined to earn the reputation of a thundering liar. "On this evening there were five or six processions all over the town, each man carrying torches and Roman candles, and ringing bells, so that a lively night was the result. I must add, however, that I have seen no less symptoms of general inebriety at Montreal than in any of the towns the Prince has yet visited. This can hardly be due to the presence of a large French population, as there are at least as many, if not more, French at Quebec than in this city. Yet on the whole, Quebec managed to maintain as high an average of civilization as any place of its size I have ever seen, always saving and excepting Charlottetown, the capital of Prince Edward Island Sailors, as a class, possess a secret of intoxication peculiar to themselves and somehow manage to get drunk when no one else can get any longer. (I have been asked if you looked up 20 of them in an empty room, and visited them an hour or so after, you would find them all intoxicated.) The Prince Edward Islanders appear also to enjoy this attribute of mysterious inebriety, for though nearly all their hotels (miserable backwood shanties) are conducted on temperance principles, and sell neither wine nor spirits, yet somehow during the Prince's visit intoxication seemed to be the normal condition of half the inhabitants."

THE MARKETS.—We are glad to perceive that there is a brisk demand for all kinds of agricultural produce, especially grain, potatoes and turnips. Of these, large quantities are being shipped in every direction, and we understand that good markets can be found for them in the neighbouring Colonies. On Saturday last Oats were in great demand at 2s 3d per bushel; Barley sold from 4s. to 4s 6d; Potatoes from 1s 2d to 1s 6d; and Turnips from 1s to 1s 3d. Hay brought a high price as is wet, and not much was to be had at that price. In short, the farmers are getting a fair reward for their labour during the past season, by quick sales and good cash payments for their produce of all kinds. We shall give in our next No. a full and correct list of the market rates for produce of every description.

TO CORRESPONDENTS. A complimentary address to the Rev. Thomas Phelan, P. P. from some of his late parishioners, together with his answer thereto, will appear in our next. "A West End Citizen," on some illegal proceeding of a dog reeve will also appear next week.

PARTICULARS OF THE LOSS OF THE S.S. HEWING BRAD.—The S.S. Hewing Brad, Shellack, Master, from Labrador to Halifax, loaded with herring, on Sunday, the 7th inst., off east side of Anticosti, was struck while laying to, and her beam ends. The foremast and mainmast were washed away, and the deck ripped up from stem to stern. The men were all washed off the schooner after fighting, but they afterwards made for the wreck, which only eight feet was above water, and succeeded in getting on. Three hours after, Capt. Shellack, the cooper, Mr. Henneberry, the cook, James Callahan, were washed off the wreck and disappeared. The four survivors men continued on the wreck four days. A raft was made, and two of the survivors on it drifted towards a light-house on the island of Anticosti. Efforts were then made to rescue the other two men, but two days elapsed before it was accomplished. The men were taken from the Lighthouse by the steamer Napoleon to Gaspe, and conveyed thence to Pictou in the steamer Lady Head. The men were six days on the wreck, some of them without any clothing, food, or water, snow and hail falling the first and second days after the schooner was struck. Their feet were very badly frozen, so much so that they are not able to walk. The men speak in the highest terms of the kindness of the Captains of the steamers Napoleon and Lady Head. Captain Richard Sheehan was a young man well and favourably known in this city, where he resided. He leaves an aged mother and sister, with whom we deeply sympathize.—Reporter.

THE PRINCE OF WALES IN THE STREET BY AN ENGLISH DEMOCRAT.—We find in the New York Post the following account of an insult offered to the Prince of Wales in the streets of New York, by an English Democrat: "After the Prince of Wales and his suite had left the Fifth Avenue Hotel on the 12th, his broughie passed by two or three blocks down the Fifth Avenue from a stout-built fellow, wearing a blue shirt of blouse, rushed out of the crowd on the sidewalk, gesticulating violently, shaking his fists and exclaiming, 'Who are you? I can whip you, any way? You will never be king of England if you live a hundred years.' Some of the spectators also declare that he threatened to shoot the Prince, but others deny it. He advanced to within a few feet of the carriage, but his further progress was stopped by a crowd of persons who gathered around him, and at that moment a policeman ran up and arrested the fellow. The Prince and his suite paid no attention to the disturbance, and very possibly did not hear his insulting and threatening language. The officer took his prisoner forthwith to the station house in Twenty-second street, followed all the way by a large and highly indignant crowd. At the station house the man gave his name as Edward Moneau, and said he was born in England, and is thirty years of age. He appeared to be quite intelligent and well informed, but was apparently in a disordered state of mind. He said he was employed on a steamboat lying over at Red Hook, and came over this morning to see what sort of a boy the Democrats of America were making fools of themselves over. He declared himself an English Democrat, and raved about the oppression of the aristocracy. He insisted that Albert Edward should never be king of England, the English Democracy would prevent it; and when they rose for that purpose he would go and help them fight their battles. They would never have another monarch in that country. No weapons were found upon him. He was taken before Justice Connolly, at Jefferson's Market, and committed for examination on the charge of disturbing the peace."

SEVEN WHITE MEN BEHEADED TO DEATH BY INDIANS.—A correspondent of the Sacramento Union, writing from Virginia city, gives an account of the burning of Norman H. Canfield, of Battle county, Cal., and party, by the Vashee Indians. The bodies were subsequently found tied to the trees with chains and thongs, and the process of burning had not been so slow that the upper portion of the bodies had not been consumed. The wipers of the victims were not even saved.

A GENERAL FIGHT.—A desperate fight recently occurred in Gates, N. C., between two men named Davis and Jackson about some hogs. Davis and his wife armed themselves with guns, axes and knives, and presented themselves at Jackson's house, where a general fight ensued in which both men, and women and children participated. They shot until their ammunition gave out, and then closed in with axes, knives and gun barrels. During the shooting a son of Jackson, a mere boy, was killed by a shot of Davis, also a lad. Seven of the party were dangerously wounded, one of the women having received a broken arm, and it is said, fifty buckshot! From all accounts they fought as long as they could, and quit with mutual consent. The surviving parties were arrested and placed in the county jail to await trial.
