Canada at Bisley.

The Canadians are highly pleased with their successes so far at the annual prize meeting of the National Rifle Association at Bisley. The shooting of the young men of the team has been particularly good, while the names of the veterans like Ogg, McVittie and Mitchell do not appear so frequently in the prize lists as heretofore. The shooting of Lieutenant Davidson of the Eighth Royal Rifles, Quebec, has been particularly brilliant all through the meeting, a fact which is all the more creditable as he had not been practising so hard for Bisley as some of his comrades, he only having been chosen on the team two or three days before it sailed from Canada.

Lieutenant Davidson has just won the highest distinction perhaps ever gained by a Canadian at the National Rifle Association meetings, securing third place in the hundred for the second stage of the Queen's, the highest place ever secured by a Canadian in this match. His score was 197, only eighteen points behind the winner of the gold medal and three points behind the winner of the silver medal and badge.

Mr. Davidson made a splendid score at 600 yards, and at one time it was thought he would win the silver medal, but the low scoring at 500 yards defeated his chances.

The other Canadians in the Queen's Hundred are, Horsey, 186 points; and Henderson, 185 points.

Private Kambery, of the Royal Scots, took five pounds in the Prince of Wales match with a score of 90, and Major Weston won three pounds in the same competition with a score of 88.

These successes give the Canadians every hope of again winning the Kolapore cup.

Later.—The Canadian marksmen at Bisley continue to do unusually well. The whole team, shooting as a squad, won second prize in the Mackinnon contest for quick volley firing, with 102 points. England came first with 109; Wales, third, 85; Jersey, fourth, 71.

In the Corporation of London the Canadians won the cup and all the fifteen prizes, totalling £120, except one £5 prize which goes to an East Indian.

A Great Disappointment.

[Family Herald.]

Mrs Dean said to a friend the other day: "I am so glad you can stay to tea. There is to be such a joke on Mr. Dean. He's always criticising my cooking. To day his mother happened in, and I persuaded her to make some cakes. Will it not be very funny when he finds fault with the cakes and I tell him that his mother made them herself?"

Half an hour later Mr. Dean remarked: "My dear, you are becoming a perfect cook. These cakes are as fine as those my mother makes."

Never Be Idle.

Never sit down idle. If you have an hour, or ten minutes, or five minutes to wait between duties, take up a book, and learn something which will be of use to you, or take the time to do some little bit of work that needs to be done, or to write a letter that ought to be written. Learn thus to fill every moment of time, not allowing even a minute to go to waste. Then you will form a habit which will go all the the way through life with you, and enable you to make your years really twice as long, and your life worth really twice as much to the world as if you should go along dropping and losing the fragments of precious time all the way.
