

Agricultural News

P. E. I. Department of Agriculture

Provincial Exhibition

The annual Provincial Exhibition has opened with large entries in all divisions...

We are honoured to have as our guests the Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Canada...

In last week's column we described the outbreak of Anthrax in Western Prince County...

Internal Parasites of Swine

Swine suffer from both the lung worm and intestinal round worm...

Control

For control to be logical it is necessary to know something of the life history of the parasite...

Prevention and Treatment

A study of the life history of the worm makes it easily understandable why sanitation is so necessary in the control of this parasite...

Poultry Club Tours

The Kingsboro Poultry Club held a very successful poultry tour on Friday afternoon, August 1...

Club News

The members of the Busy Bees Ayrshire Calf Club of Head of Hillsboro and vicinity took part in a tour sponsored by the Provincial Department of Agriculture...

CENTRAL GUARDIAN

This column is reserved for news of local interest, but advertising of a new nature may be inserted at five cents a word...

COOK'S for Perfect Pictures. SEE the Gilson Refrigerators and Furnaces at the Exhibition.

HOWARD MACINNIS FOOTWEAR at 175 Queen Street.

CRASWELL for Better Photographs.

MILK — the perfect food, order another quart.

"WE TREAT THE SICK WELL." Giggey's Pharmacy.

ICE CREAM — the perfect dessert — no preparation — economical.

DON'T FORGET there will be no dance Winaloe Station Hall, Thursday, August 14th.

FOR CATTLE APPEARANCE and sanitation use Sunbeam Clippers and Blades.

ENGAGEMENT. — Mrs. J. J. Trainor, Spring Park Road, announces the engagement of her daughter Joan Theresa to Gerald Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McQuaid.

SAD NEWS RECEIVED — Mr. Finlay MacKinnon, Charlottetown, has received a wire from Hollywood, Calif., telling the sad news of the death of his sister, Belle.

PERSONALS

Mr. Arnold L. Hubley, Boston, Mass., has accepted a position as instructor at the Union Commercial College in Charlottetown.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Peck and daughter Helen of Sydney Mines are visiting the City and taking in the Provincial Exhibition.

Miss Ena and Irene Morrison, South Granville, have returned home after an enjoyable vacation spent visiting relatives and friends in Niagara Falls, Kitchener and Toronto, Ontario, also in Fredericton, N.B., and Lincoln, Maine.

Miss Minnie Leavitt of Old Town, Maine, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ray Archer, Malpeque Road, City.

BUILDING BOOM

REGINA — (CP) — City building inspector H. A. Jones predicts 1952 will be Regina's biggest construction year since 1929.

It is comforting to patient, his family and the physician to know beforehand that the success of the operation is assured, other things being equal.

Ellen's Diary

out of a grain-box!" So James will find this same characteristic in the faintly fascinating Bantam or exotic fowl intriguingly plumaged.

The eighteen members present also discussed problems in connection with the Royal Winter Fair.

The Bear River Calf Club held a judging class on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. Chester McCaugh. It was decided that three members would go to Charlottetown to compete for a possible trip to the Royal Winter Fair.

The Kingsboro Poultry Club held their regular meeting in Red Point School on Tuesday evening at 8:15 p.m.

A large gathering consisting of members, friends and parents were given a talk and demonstration on the culling of non-laying hens by the Poultry Fieldman, Harry E. Robbins. The club also discussed and planned for a poultry tour on Friday afternoon.

The Morell Poultry Club held a meeting in the Co-op warehouse on Thursday evening at 6 p.m.

On Thursday evening the Baldwin's Road Poultry Club held their regular meeting in the school house.

The members present were given a lesson on the care and management of eggs.

Miss Marjorie Trainor gave an interesting talk on the care of baby chicks.

Former Deputy Postmaster-Gen. Dies In Maine

MONTREAL, Aug. 12 — (CP) — Ool. J. A. Sullivan, 72, former deputy postmaster-general for Canada, died Monday in hospital in Biddeford, Maine.

He was born in Beauharnois, Que., and graduated in law from the University of Montreal.

He was solicitor for the town of Notre Dame de Grace before it was annexed to Montreal and was also solicitor for several companies and labor unions, including the Longshoremen's Union and the Police-men's Union.

Col. Sullivan was a former Conservative member of parliament for the old Montreal riding of St. Ann. He was elected in 1930 and served for five years.

In 1935 he was appointed by the Conservative Government as Deputy Postmaster General and remained in that post for 10 years, retiring in 1945.

HONOR PATRIOTS

OSLO — (CP) — King Haakon and Crown Prince Olaf recently attended the unveiling of a six-foot-high granite monument commemorating the 19,000 Norwegian patriots who were interned at Grini concentration camp during the German occupation of Norway.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our infant son and daughter, John Kenneth and Carolyn Ann McDonald, who died August 10th, 1950 and October 20th, 1951.

One year has passed since that sad day, Since the ones we loved was called away.

The blow was hard, the shock severe, To lose the ones we loved so dear.

Sadly Missed by Mom, Dad, Sisters and Brother.

That Body Of Yours

Continued from page 2

chiatric (behavior) symptoms were selected for the experiment. "Two simple trepanations (cutting openings through the skull to the brain) were made under local anesthesia at the classic sites for lobotomy according to Drs. Freeman and Watts and 4 cc. of 2 per cent procaine were injected very slowly.

Improvement followed which continued for several days. The favorable results obtained from the procaine block of the nerves showed that the operation lobotomy would be successful if tried and it was carried out. The symptoms of all three patients were relieved and two were discharged directly to their homes.

However, these physicians and others now will study this nerve blocking method of treatment "and it may be that a series of prefrontal procaine injections will bring about a cure without the necessity of operation."

It is comforting to patient, his family and the physician to know beforehand that the success of the operation is assured, other things being equal.

Ellen's Diary

Continued from page 2

Old Homer, however, and he is far in the majority, as any one can see, cherishes the values of the past and tries to keep them, wherever possible, in the present. He realizes that nothing can quite equal the pleasure of entertaining and being entertained at a large family table.

But homes are much smaller; help is harder; food is higher. He compensates by having big gatherings at Christmas and other special occasions. He and his family take advantage of the modern cabins and fine eating places, and he bundles his hosts of yesterday into the car for a change from the round of home-cooked meals.

Old Homer enjoys every minute of the week. He finds friends of his youth at the Grandstand and everywhere. In between times, and when the last race has been run for the night, and the exhibits are in darkness, and the rocks are fixed out, and the midway is deserted, he swaps stories and brushes up on the characters he once knew. What, for instance, became of Old Will Captain, so called because his grandfather was supposedly a captain at Waterloo? Remember the time he wooed the widow McGrath leaving a pig or lamb in her kitchen at night? Said pig or lamb having been gently lifted from a neighbour's barn?

To laugh, to play, to take a chance on the horses, to joke, for a few days with old cronies, to escape for a while from adult cares and responsibilities, enables one to attack waiting problems with more vigor and clarity. But the shining band of friendliness has another value. It draws parents, grandparents and children more closely together. Intriguing any show at the grandstand or midway, is the sight of Mom and Dad, Grandpa and Grandma, pointing out the wonders to the young ones and taking part with them in the mad whirl of swings and slides and

SEE AND TRY

ZENITH RADIONIC HEARING AID $85.00 Batteries for all Aids.

TOOMBS Music Store 167 Queen St.—Phone 185-L

New Cream Deodorant Proved 53% MORE EFFECTIVE

Safely Stops Perspiration 1 to 3 Days

Doctors now find that new creamy Arrid is 53% more effective than any other leading deodorant in keeping underarms dry. They find that no other deodorant compares with Arrid in stopping perspiration and odor.

That's why more Canadians use Arrid every day than any other deodorant. Arrid is half-safe! Only new Arrid gives you this exclusive 5-way protection: 1. Safely stops perspiration 1 to 3 days... is 53% more effective. 2. Saves your clothes from stains and clinging odor. 3. Deodorizes instantly on contact... keeps you shower-bath fresh up to 48 hours. 4. Creamy! Contains Creamogen—won't dry out. 5. Antiseptic. Safe for skin.

DON'T BE HALF-SAFE. USE ARRID—TO BE SURE!

We And Our Neighbours

by Ruhamah Scheinfeld Frank

OLD TIMERS AND OLD HOMERS

Old Home Week with its numerous projects would be as meaningless as a history book that gives dates and events without an understanding of the feelings of the people involved, were it not for the broad and gleaming strand that weaves in and out of every activity.

Call it the joy of getting back to the friends and scenes of childhood or neighbourliness, or simple friendliness that wants to share good things and good times. It is the all-pervading good-will that gives Old Home Week real value and significance.

Last Wednesday, somewhat giddy from an over-abundance of Island blueberries, washed down by a dipperful of the ambrosial water from the moss-covered bucket that hung (and still hangs here and there) in the well, we dealt rather harshly with the Old Timer. On first thought, the chronic Old Timer should be happy. Old Home Week isn't so what a wonderful chance, we suggested to him, Old Home Week offers to meet friends of the past. But the Old Timer wasn't even sure about that. Old Home Week isn't what it used to be. People now run here and there, sleep at hotels and summer cabins, one scarcely sees them. Years ago, why there would be twenty or more staying at the farm house. That was real hospitality, said Old Timer.

We didn't argue but checked up. Emma came to Uncle Henry and Cousin Nora with her six children. Others dropped in for the day and often stayed for the entire summer. There was a grand bustle of cooking and baking and eating. Everybody had a good time. Everybody? Except the women who toiled in the kitchen and seldom got to the festivities. "No, come to think of it," said one woman, "it wasn't fun. I taught during the winter and dreaded the summer. Company! All the time!"

A number of men and women recalled the Old Home Week (or Exhibition Week) and often the entire summer, meant sleepless nights in a hot attic, to make room for extra guests. On the other hand, of course, some didn't mind the heat and wouldn't exchange that memory of the doings in the hide-away, for anything.

We'll leave the extreme Old Time (we're all like him to a degree). He doesn't want to come to the Exhibition Grounds, anyway. There are too many people, people he doesn't know, (and likely doesn't care to know). It is too noisy. The show is rougher than in his day. And worst of all, friends from far away have changed! He'd really rather brood at home about the past.

The Old Homer, however, and he is far in the majority, as any one can see, cherishes the values of the past and tries to keep them, wherever possible, in the present. He realizes that nothing can quite equal the pleasure of entertaining and being entertained at a large family table.

But homes are much smaller; help is harder; food is higher. He compensates by having big gatherings at Christmas and other special occasions. He and his family take advantage of the modern cabins and fine eating places, and he bundles his hosts of yesterday into the car for a change from the round of home-cooked meals.

Old Homer enjoys every minute of the week. He finds friends of his youth at the Grandstand and everywhere. In between times, and when the last race has been run for the night, and the exhibits are in darkness, and the rocks are fixed out, and the midway is deserted, he swaps stories and brushes up on the characters he once knew. What, for instance, became of Old Will Captain, so called because his grandfather was supposedly a captain at Waterloo? Remember the time he wooed the widow McGrath leaving a pig or lamb in her kitchen at night? Said pig or lamb having been gently lifted from a neighbour's barn?

To laugh, to play, to take a chance on the horses, to joke, for a few days with old cronies, to escape for a while from adult cares and responsibilities, enables one to attack waiting problems with more vigor and clarity. But the shining band of friendliness has another value. It draws parents, grandparents and children more closely together. Intriguing any show at the grandstand or midway, is the sight of Mom and Dad, Grandpa and Grandma, pointing out the wonders to the young ones and taking part with them in the mad whirl of swings and slides and

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. ALLAN WYAND

On Thursday, July 10th, at the P. E. I. Hospital, Mrs. Allan Wyand of Cavendish passed away to her eternal reward. The deceased was in her seventy-third year.

Her immediate family and friends were deeply saddened by the loss of one so dear and yet she has left a cherished memory that not even time can erase.

Her life was a noble one and her work is a lasting monument to her name. Her keen, active mind was devoted to the welfare of those with whom she came in contact.

Nature endowed her with initiative, foresight and perseverance, qualities which made it possible for her to undertake great tasks and carry them out successfully.

She was a pioneer in the establishing of Cavendish Beach as a popular tourist resort and was a member of the Innkeepers Association of P. E. I.

She was a life member of the Federated Women's Institute of Canada having been honoured for welfare work, chief of which was the establishing of Dental Clinics on P. E. I.

She was an ardent member of the Church of Christ at New Glasgow and did much to further the work of the Master. She was an active participant in all that was good and had the courage of her convictions to speak at every opportunity.

Those who mourn the loss of a loving mother are Montague and Irene of Toronto; Ethel of Topsfield, Mass.; Emma (Mrs. F. Moyle) Streetville, Ont.; Herbert, Lowell and Blanche of Cavendish; also nine grandchildren.

The following brothers and sisters also survive. Miss M.E. Campbell, New Glasgow, P. E. I.; Mrs. Ralph Dodson, Fortland, Ore.; R. B. Campbell, T. B. C.; A. J. Campbell, Topsfield, Mass.

Her remains were laid to rest in the family plot at Cavendish in the presence of loved ones and a host of friends, for her funeral was one of the largest ever seen in the province.

Service was conducted by Rev. M. Waterworth, assisted by Rev. G. Gough. Pallbearers were Lewis Toombs, merry-go-arounds and kindred contraptions. The truth is, the older folks are not only giving pleasure to the young ones, but yielding for an hour to the child within all of us, and actually sharing the fun. "I'd look silly swinging by myself," said one father, "but Junior and I have a great time!" Children love to know parents are human!

And while parents and the smaller children are indulging in childish pastimes, Old Home Week often gives the older child, his first and valuable feeling of independence. Men and women look back happily to the first visit to the Exhibition Grounds on their own. One man told of riding the horse, twenty years ago at the age of ten while the farmer scuffled turnips. For that, he got twelve cents an hour! He stuck it out three afternoon until he amassed a fortune of one dollar and fifty cents! Swings, merry-go-round, ice-cream, pop, cracker-jack, hot dogs, candy, he didn't miss a thing, and lived to tell the tale!

We have no space here to speak of the more sober values of Old Home Week — the friendly business deals, the exchange of information, the many prizes that give incentive and a sense achievement and prestige when competition is not stressed too much. The advertisements do not exaggerate this time — Old Home Week has something for everyone, and many things for all!

Sunbeam STEWART COW CLIPPING EQUIPMENT

CLIPPING MASTER with Powerful motor inside the easy-grip handle

Clipping avoids contamination, reduces sediment, lowers bacteria. Makes it easy to keep cows clean. Aids in the control of lice, ticks, etc., which greatly affect milk production.

NO end to its usefulness! These Attachments fit Clipmaster or Shearmaster

Clipping head, Shearing head, Grooming Brush, Drillmaster head

No. 31A Shearing Head, No. 41A Drillmaster Head, No. 51A Clipping Head, No. 61A Grooming Brush

THE ROGERS HARDWARE CO. LTD.

PROCLAMATION

By resolution of the City Council of August 12th, Wednesday, August 13th is proclaimed a Civic half-holiday in the City of Charlottetown.

J. D. STEWART, Mayor.

Olaf Stevenson, Chester Cox, Jeremiah Simpson, Andrew Stevenson, Alfred Moore.

"I am the resurrection and the life, he that believeth in Me though he were dead yet shall he live."

Card Of Thanks

The family of the late Mrs. Allan Wyand wish to thank the many friends who aided them in any way during their recent sad bereavement.

The floral tributes and cards of sympathy were also much appreciated.

MUSTARD Pickled Onions ADD ZEST to any meal

3 lbs. peeled, sliced white onions, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 cups vinegar, 3 teaspoons Colman's Mustard, 2 cups granulated sugar, 4 tablespoons mixed pickling spices

Cover onions with boiling water. Let stand for 10 mins. Drain. Cover with ice water and let stand for 30 mins. Drain, sprinkle with salt, place in hot sterilized jars. Tie spices in cheesecloth, place in uncovered pan with vinegar, mustard and sugar. Simmer for 10 mins. Remove spice bag and pour hot liquid over onions. Seal immediately. Makes 4 pints

Colman's D.S.F. MUSTARD

How Do You Get to be an Old Maid, Auntie?

Colgate Dental Cream advertisement with illustrations of people and text: 'I'M NOT AN OLD MAID, BETSY! WHO TOLD YOU THAT?', 'MY MUMMY DID! AND SHE SAID YOU OUGHT TO GO SEE YOUR DENTIST ABOUT BAD BREATH! SO WHY DON'T YOU, AUNTIE RUTH?', 'COLGATE DENTAL CREAM HAS A SPECIAL PENETRATING FOAM THAT CLEANS YOUR BREATH AS IT CLEANS YOUR TEETH. HELPS PREVENT DECAY!', 'LATER — Thanks to Colgate Dental Cream', 'MY NICE NOW POINTS TO ME WITH PRIDE FOR THANKS TO COLGATE, IN A BRIDE!'

ONLY COLGATE DENTAL CREAM HAS PROVED SO COMPLETELY IT STOPS BAD BREATH

New Personal Size 25c Pure! Safe! ALSO 33c, 59c, 89c White! COLGATE RIBBON DENTAL CREAM

Dominion Household COKE

WE ARE UNLOADING CARS OF COKE TODAY

Your order now will help our men and teams over the busy time later and you will be assured of next winter's supply.

A. PICKARD and CO. PHONE 240

DURING OLD HOME WEEK VISIT OUR SHOW ROOM

at 125 Kent Street

The All-Steel FORANO Grain Thresher is on Display. The most popular make in Central Canada

J. J. MUSTARD

MONEY SAVING SPECIAL LARGE SIZE VEL VEL SPECIAL 2 for 69¢ JIFFY WASH VEL SAVES TIME—WORK—MONEY