C. P. Fletcher, Esq.

DEAR SIR,—I do not wish to return to Montreal without expressing my gratitude to you for the very excellent Bell Piano that you placed at my disposal for my recital. I have tried many Canadian Pianos of different manufacturers, and must say that, considering the size of the instrument, I have never found one to equal it for depth and brilliancy of tone. The action is quite as elastic and responsive as in American Upright Pianos of the highest grade. Again thanking you, very sincerely,

I remain,
Yours,

The Advocate of the Rats.
According to the historian De Thou, Chasseneuz himself first became famous through the skill with which he advocated the cause of the rats of Autun. They had been summoned to appear before the bishop's proctor and show cause why they should not be excommunicated. Chasseneuz was appointed to defend them and began by demanding that the summons should be read in every parish, since the rats were widely scattered and might otherwise not hear of it. He next excused their nonappearance by saying that the roads were dangerous for his clients, seeing that cats were everywhere lying in wait for them, and finally, having exhausted all modes of delay, he made an eloquent speech on the injustice of proceeding against the whole number at once and demanded that each rat should be tried separately. This speech, says the historian, was recalled to his memory by the Waldensians when, as president of the parliament of Provence, he was obliged to take part in the persecution of those unfortunate sectaries.—Cornhill Magazine.

Stage Tragedies.
One of the dramatic little stories of Mr. F. Frankfort Moore, the London novelist, turns on the actual stabbing of a Juliet by a jealous Romeo during a performance in a German court theater. Such tragic incidents have not infrequently occurred in the annals of opera and playhouse. In our own city's chief lyric theater last season we had what seemed the lively comedy of an actor something leading up to his sudden death, when the unfortunate Castlemary, as Sir Tristan Mickleford, was pursued by the crowd of Richmond fair folk in "Martha." There are at least a dozen well attested suicides that have been consummated by luckless actors or singers under cover of the tragic movement of their part. A more recent example occurred at the theater in Arad, Hungary, when a well known leading member of the company, Koloman Balla, put a real and loaded revolver to his forehead in concluding the last act of the night's drama. He fell dead, amid an immense demonstration of applause from a crowded house quite unaware of the reality of the actor's emotion and gestures. He was a man of excellent family and bright in professional prospects, disappointed in love, morbid, and, as he grimly wrote to a friend, "determined to end his days as an actor ought to do—to the satisfaction of his public."—Harper's Weekly.

Halfpenny Dinners.
Near to Whitechapel church, London, is a shop where a dinner can be procured for a halfpenny. The "halfpenny dinner" is not served up in the shape of a cut from the joint and two vegetables. It is a big brown "pie," very juicy and very hot. The absence of beefsteak is evident when you bite the pie, but you find inside a good sprinkling of onions, carrots and sheep's liver, with a plentiful supply of gravy. Between the hours of 12 and 2 the poor and hungry from all parts of the east end flock to this shop. There are shoeblacks, penny toy men, costers and clerks "out of collar."—London Standard.

The Nerves.
Piercing the flesh with even the finest needle hurts, because the nerves are so thickly matted just under the skin that not even the finest point can be introduced without wounding one or more.

FOR SALE.

RARE CHANCE

The property occupied by J. J. Gay and son situate in the village of Pownall, 7 miles from Charlottetown, is offered for sale. The proprietors have carried on a large market garden nursery and seed business for thirty years, and the purchaser will no doubt retain a large share of the local trade. The premises comprise a large dwelling house, store, warehouse, barn, shed, orchard, and about 15 acres of the most fertile land on the island. This land has been manured year after year, for so long that as an old man said the other day, "It is all a bed of manure and could be hauled for top-dressing." This would be an ideal spot for a country merchant, or it would be admirable for a summer resort. The situation is one of the most beautiful on the island. Good bathing, fishing, boating, shooting and within easy distance churches, post office, school, telephone and shops all at the door.

AFTER MANY YEARS

Of Illness That Was Developing consumption.

Paine's Celery Compound Gives New Life and Health to a Young Lady.

Another Proof of the Life-giving Virtues of the Great Medicine.

Too many women have an apparent disregard of the principle that pertains to good health and true womanhood. The pains, aches and tired feelings of today are treated lightly, and often viewed with an utter indifference. When weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, debility, constipation, headaches and prostration are doing their terrible work in the destruction of nerve power and breaking up the physical system, many women only apply themselves to harder work and plunge more deeply into society pleasures so as to drown all thoughts of trouble.

Such reasoning an action is vain and foolish; the end comes quickly and surely. Frail nature cannot cope with the strong brand of disease; the victims are soon broken down and lay on sick beds. The wise woman acts promptly when the first symptoms of disease are manifest; she makes use of Paine's Celery Compound, the medicine that strengthens the nervous system, cleanses the blood, and puts the whole digestive organism in perfect condition.

A prompt and early use of Paine's Celery Compound means a speedy restoration to good health; but it must not be that, even though the case be a deplorable one, Paine's Celery Compound is always an unfailing cure.

If failure has resulted from the use of other medicines; if you are not progressing under the treatment of your doctor; then we urge you to make use of Paine's Celery Compound, that has so successfully met the cases of thousands in the past.

The following letter from Miss Blake, Euston Street, Hamilton, Ont., saved at the eleventh hour by Paine's Celery Compound, fully proves that the great medicine is truly a life-giver:
"For years I suffered greatly, and was under the care of doctors who finally told me I was going into consumption. I was becoming worse through the use of medicines and I gave up my doctors. While in a very critical condition, not able to sit up or rest, always faint and weak, appetite and digestion bad, and my system run down and little life left in me, I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound. After taking one bottle I felt much relieved. I have used in all seven or eight bottles, and am now a new woman, can enjoy life, and am as well as I wish to be. Many thanks for your great medicine."
