

Montreal Edges Detroit; Takes Series 4 Straight

Detroit (CP) — Maurice (Rocket) Richard scored three goals Tuesday night as Montreal Canadiens defeated Detroit Red Wings 4-3 to take semi-final in four consecutive games. Canadiens now meet the winner of the New York Rangers-Boston Bruins series.

It was the roughest job ever delivered to any Red Wing captain as the champion Canadiens romped to four straight triumphs in the best-of-seven semi-final.

Thus Montreal qualifies for the final round, the world series of professional hockey, against the winner of the New York-Boston series deadlocked at two games apiece.

The Rocket, a magnificent specimen who is still going strong at nearly 37, personally charged up his team for a come-from-behind victory after the Canadiens trailed by two goals after two periods of play.

"You don't celebrate winning this series," coach Toe Blake said.

But you couldn't help get the feeling the Canadiens are just coolly awaiting the next victim of their march to the Stanley Cup.

Montreal took the semi-final in four consecutive games.

Richard flicked the puck through a maze of red shirts to make it 3-2.

It was an unnecessary penalty that brought on Montreal's tying goal. Rookie Pete Gogean was put off for tripping Bert Olinstead and the Canadiens wasted no time taking advantage of the manpower situation.

Dickie Moore, who had done little but fight earlier in the game, flicked in a 10-footer after getting a pass from Bellevue from behind the Wing nets. The penalty was only 26 seconds old when Moore converted.

Richard made the clincher look easy. Just 49 seconds after Moore tied it, the Rocket took a pass from brother Henri, skated into position around the Detroit defence, anchored a shot over goalie Terry Sawchuk's outstretched arm.

The Rocket's production, including playoffs, now totals 1,008 points—585 goals and 423 assists.

NEVER RECOVERED

The Red Wings never recovered. They tried to put on a rally, but Toe Blake's Canadiens controlled the remaining 10 minutes.

Showing amazing spirit for a club that went into the contest three-down and only a breath out of the series altogether, the Red Wings strung together three mid-period goals that stunned the NHL champions.

Detroit beat the Canadiens at their own game — hard body checking and hustle — and had the capacity crowd of 13,732 on its feet much of the time.

Jack McIntyre started it early in the period with a 15-footer directly in front of the nets after Gordie Howe dug the puck out from the boards.

SENSATIONAL PLAY

The Rocket scored on a sensational play and tied the score three minutes later. His brother Henri carried in from the blue line and was crashed to the ice by two Red Wings. Rocket retrieved the puck from a wild scramble in front of the cage and blasted a 12-footer through.

Howe got his first goal of the series at the 10:27 mark with Plante sprawled on the ice after turning back Norm Ullman's short range poke.

Johnny Wilson made a brilliant solo effort seconds later but his shot caromed off the goal post. Billy McNeill turned quickly and rifled Wilson's rebound by the surprised Plante for the goal that made it 3-1.

The rest of it was all Montreal — and mostly Rocket Richard.

New York Evens Series; Bathgate, Prentice Star

By BOB HOORING
BOSTON (AP)—Dean Prentice and Andy Bathgate scored with their team short-handed as the alert, smooth-passing New York Rangers defeated Boston 5-2 Tuesday night and evened their Stanley Cup semi-final playoff series 2-2.

Down 2-1 in the best-of-seven semi-final entering the contest, the New Yorkers utilized their superior speed, a net jamming defence and the sparkling 39-year-old goaltender of Gump Worsley.

Bathgate, who intercepted passes setting up both New York scores while a Ranger teammate was in the penalty box, fed Prentice for the opening goal of the game.

Prentice fired a 15-footer past falling Boston goalie Don Simmons. It marked the first time in the series the Rangers had registered the initial score.

Bathgate, a 30-goal scorer during the regular season, put the game out of reach at 15:12 of the middle period when he intercepted a pass at the New York blueline and outraced Don McNeill down the ice to score unassisted from close range. That made it 4-1.

New York's Lou Fontinato was sitting out an interference infraction on Prentice's goal and Larry Cahoon was absent when Bathgate connected.

PULL GOALTENDER

With 58 seconds remaining, Boston pulled Simmons but Bathgate intercepted again in the Boston zone and scored in an open net for his second of the night and fourth of the series.

Dave Creighton scored for New York at 9:47 of the first period on a 20-footer which squeezed between Simmons and the near post while a Boston skater was off.

The Bruins narrowed the margin to a single goal at 2:04 of the second period with a man advantage. Jerry Toppazzini blasted a well-screened 30-footer on the ice through a mass of skates and legs. He also scored the capacity Boston Garden crowd of 13,909 with a third-period tally after Flem Mackell had stolen from Fontinato.

Andy Heberton accounted for the other New York goal.

The fifth game of the series will be played here Thursday night.

Invest 2 Cents Wins Fortune

LONDON (AP)—The Riley family from the coal mining town of Horden in County Durham came to London Tuesday to collect £209,079 won on a two-cent investment in a soccer pool. It was a 26,000,000-to-1 shot.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Riley won the record prize on last Saturday's soccer games. In England such winnings are tax free.

Every Saturday about 8,000,000 Britons try their luck on the national pastime. They attempt to pick eight games which will end in the scores.

They were only eight times and nobody picked all of them, but the 58-year-old Riley and his 57-year-old wife, Elizabeth, hit the jackpot by selecting seven.

All the happy Rileys—17 of them including Mrs. Riley's 82-year-old mother—came 200 miles to London to collect the riches.

Riley, a slight man who was hurt in a pit accident about 20 years ago, said "mother's name was on the pool coupon."

Home Runs Are Feature Of Exhibition Games Tuesday

Home runs were hit in pairs and even threes Tuesday as several baseball sluggers had themselves quite a time in exhibition ball games.

Minnie Minoos of Cleveland walloped three home runs and led Cleveland to a 14-triumph over Chicago Cubs. Ernie Banks of the Cubs homered twice.

Bill Skowron slammed two homers—one a grand slam—and drove in eight runs as New York Yankees outslugged Chicago White Sox 11-1. Skowron shows a spring batting average of .417.

Big Steve Bilko also hit a pair of circuits and had four RBIs in Cincinnati's 9-2 triumph over Philadelphia. Harry Anderson connected for the Phils. Vada Pinson, the Redlegs' fine rookie outfielder, had three hits.

Hank Aaron homered and Eddie Mathews drove in three runs with a pair of doubles as Milwaukee downed Pittsburgh 7-2. Pirate outfielder Ramos Mejias injured his right leg trying to break up a double play and was carried off the field.

Northside Combines Down Royals 8-6 In 3rd Game

NORTH SYDNEY, N. S. (CP)—Northside Combines hammered out an 8-6 win over Charlottetown Royals Tuesday night to take their first game in three in the Nova Scotia-Prince Edward Island senior hockey semi-final.

Charlottetown won the first two games on their home ice. The next two games in the best-of-seven series will be played here.

Emmett O'Callaghan was the big gun for the Northside club with three markers. Doc MacLellan (Cap L) fired two for the winners with McFurrow (Cap P), Cormier and McCarron picking up one apiece.

Only three penalties were called. The Combines' McCarron was thrown out of the game in the final stanza when he argued a minor penalty, was handed a misconduct and then elbowed referee Pat Shelter as he skated to the penalty box.

Allie Carver took a penalty shot given the Royals but Madinsky, who stopped 44 shots, turned aside the Royals' marksman.

Doyle handled 42 shots in the Charlottetown net.

Juvenile Championship To Be Decided Tonight

Charlottetown Fans are in for some exciting hockey this evening at the Sports Arena when the Juvenile Abbies clash with the Chatham All Stars in the second game of a home and home series for the N. B. P. E. I. Juveniles Hockey Crown.

In the first encounter at Chatham, N. B. the New Brunswick champions edged the local team by an 8-7 score in what proved to be a thrilling game. The line of Mulligan, Mulligan and Burke, which caused such a furor in the recent Junior series, is also quite a sensation in this series. In Monday night's game these three lads scored five out of seven goals with Burke connecting on four of them.

With the recent Junior series still fresh in mind, local hockey enthusiasts should definitely attend this encounter to see a continuation of this exciting brand of hockey. This is a do-or-die effort for the Abbies and fans can be sure that the local team will come out fighting. Home ice advantage will probably tell the tale for the local squad.

The probable lineup for this important game is as follows: Goal-Ronnie MacDougall; Defence-Bradley, M. Hughes, G.

Gardiner Plans Enjoyable Time

MELVILLE, Sask. (CP)—Hon. James G. Gardiner, the Liberal party's spunky "little fighter," Monday took his first election defeat in 44 years of campaigning.

The former agriculture minister, now 75, was defeated in Melville by district farmer Jim Ormiston, a Progressive Conservative candidate whose twice-daily campaign meetings for weeks gave Jimmy Gardiner a tough battle.

Mr. Gardiner had held Melville since a 1936 byelection, after resigning as Saskatchewan premier to accept the agriculture portfolio in Mackenzie King's pre-war cabinet.

14TH ELECTION

This was Mr. Gardiner's 14th election. He was first elected to the Saskatchewan legislature in 1914.

Will he run again for Parliament?

"You can never tell about that," he told a reporter. "I never felt better than I do now. I feel like fighting another campaign."

But right now he intends to have "an enjoyable time" on his farm at Lemberg, Sask., and plans to "say what I have wanted to say about farming for a long time." He did not elaborate, but added: "You won't have too long to wait for what I have to say."

Mr. Gardiner said the Conservative landslide brought Canada back to the two-party system, and in that way "it is a good thing." But he predicted that if the Conservative government produces its "usual results," the voters will be "ready to turn them out long before four years is up."

TORONTO (CP)—Charlie Burns, voted the outstanding forward of the world hockey tournament in Oslo last month, leaves here today for a five-game trial with Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League.

Burns was put on Detroit Red Wings negotiation list after Whitney Dunlops won the world amateur title.

At the end of the 17,000 miles his owner did not find out that it would cost him $100 to replace his bearing, rebuild his magnets and take the carbon out of his cylinders. Truly, the horse may be humble, but there is much comfort in him."
