[This column is reserved on each Tuesday for the contributions of Boys and Girls.]

The Sailor and the Monkeys.

A sailor one day was travelling along in a country you'll find on the map. The scene he admired, but he soon felt tired, and thought he had best take a nap.

In a bag he carries a lot of red caps, which he'll sell when he reaches the town. And for fear, perhaps, of thieves or mishaps, he hides them before he lays down.

A good sleep he takes, and when he awakes he hears a great noise overhead, and up on the trees some monkeys he sees, each one with a cap on his head.

They had watched the sailor hiding the bag, and when he had gone asleep they had crept to the ground without making a sound, and taken the caps to keep.

He doesn't know, alack, how to get them back, 'tis no good to threaten and shout, the apes didn't care but up in the air they gaily gambol about.

The sailor got into a terrible rage, and taking the cap off his head, and jumping around, dashed it down on the ground, "You can take that one, too," he said.

To his great surprise, the apes did likewise, and pitched the caps at his feet, so he got them all back, popped them into his sack, and thought he'd got off pretty cheap.

Wise Words.

A kindness is never lost, labor conquers everything, he conquers who overcomes himself, be gentle to manners, brave in deeds, resignation dulls the edge of affliction, boy's faults so seldom to themselves appear, when a boy is wrong and won't admit it, he always gets angry, the most manifest sign of wisdom is continued cheerfulness, if thou desire to be borne with, thou must also bear with others, work to-day, for you know not how much you may be hindered to-morrow, were everybody to sweep before his own house, every street would be clean, light sorrows complain loudly; deep distress is silent, the brook is noisy; the lake is quite.

A Modest Monarch

King Frederick VI. of Denmark, while travelling through Jutland one day, entered a village school and found the children lively and intelligent and quite ready to answer his questions. "Well, young-ers," he said, "what are the names of the greatest king of Denmark?" With one accord they cried out "Canute, the great Waldemar, and Christian IV."

Some Smart Young Men.

Klopstock began his "Messiah" at the age of 17. Thomas Moore began to write poems at the age of 14. Milton began to woo the muse when he was about 10 years old. The poet Southey began to write verses before he was 11. Schiller wrote and published a poem on Moses in his 14th year. Henry Kirk White published a volume of poems at the age of 17. Dickens had produced "Pickwick Papers" before he was 25. Bryant's "Thanatopsis" was published before the writer had reached the age of 20. Shakespeare wrote "Hamlet" when he was only 30 years of age. Balwer Lytton, Bayard Taylor and Keats were successful magazine writers at 18. Fitz-Green Halleck's best verses were penned when the author was but between 14 and 17 years of age. Poems by Chaucer were known and read before the writer had reached his 12th year, and Leigh Hunt made a stir at the age of 13.

If you have a friend worth loving, love him. Yes, and let him know that you love him, ere life's evening tinge his brow with sunset glow; why should good words never be said of a friend till he is dead? -Anon.

PARSONS' PILLS

These pills were a wonderful discovery. No others like them in the world. Will positively cure or relieve all manner of disease. The information around each box is worth ten times the cost of a penny. One box will do more to purify the blood and cure chronic ill health than $5 worth of any other remedy yet discovered. If people could be made to realize the marvelous power of these pills, they would walk 100 miles to get a box if they could not be had without. Sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. Illustrated pamphlet free, postpaid. Send for it; the information is very valuable. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 23 Custom House Street, BOSTON, MASS.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST HOW RESTORED!

JUST published a new edition of DR. CUL

VERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure of SPERMATORRHOEA or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Menstrual and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also CONSTRUCTION, EPILEPSY and FITS, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

The celebrated author, in his admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.
