Liner's Engineer Cleared In Racial Prejudice Case

NEW YORK (AP)—A second arbitration ruling in a dispute aboard the liner America has cleared an engineer of a maritime union's charges of racial prejudice.

The dispute caused the America, second largest passenger liner in the U.S. merchant fleet, to be removed from service. The ship now is berthed at Hoboken, N.J., with a security watch aboard. Hoboken lies across from New York on the Hudson River.

Jesse M. Calhoun, president of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, announced the ruling of arbitrator Donald F. Shaughnessy at a press conference Monday.

In an earlier ruling, arbitrator Theodore W. Kheel, refeing to the engineer, Louis B. Neurohr, suggested that the "cause of the trouble" be removed from the America.

Kheel is the arbitrator under the NMU's contract with the United States Lines, operator of the America. Shaughnessy is the arbitrator under the MEBA contract.

CHARGES FALSE

Shaughnessy found the bigotry charges against Neurohr, 40, of Newtown, Pa., first assistant engineer of the America, "false and without merit," Calhoon said.

The National Maritime Union had accused Neurohr of prejudice toward Negro and Puerto Rican crew members, who refused to sail with him.

Saying he felt vindicated by Shaughnessy's decision, Neurohr said, "I intend to return to my job on the America."

NMU President Joseph Curran has indicated that NMU crew members will not sail with Neurohr, but Calhoon said the MEBA stands behind Neurohr in his plan to return to the ship.

So far, the America has missed six sailings because of the dispute which flared up Sept. 14. Calhoon said he doubted that a planned Dec. 5 sailing would take place because of mass cancellations by passengers and indicated that it might be as late as February before the America return to the high seas.

Reds Squeeze East German Border Guards

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany's Communist rulers, irate about a rash of escapes, are stepping up the pressure on their border guards to shoot to kill, Western sources said here.

The reluctance of guards to carry out orders to kill their fellow countrymen was believed to be a factor in the large number of successful defections from East Germany. Some of the defectors have been border guards.

At least 24 persons escaped during the weekend. Eight came into West Berlin, the others crossed the mines and barbed wire along 800 miles of frontier between the two parts of Germany. There may have been other escapes not yet reported.

Sources report the Communist regime has sent its top propagandist, Prof. Albert Norden, around border guard units to give pep talks inciting them to shoot to kill.

He tells the guards they need have no moral scruples about shooting at refugees because they are traitors going over to the enemy, these sources said. Of border guards among the 2,924 refugees in the first nine months of this year. Two more guards bolted during the weekend.

The order to fire a warning shot and then to shoot to kill refugees is the reason given for fleeing by most of the hundreds

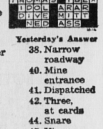
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X E
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	4♠	5♦	Dble.

Opening lead—nine of spades.

There are some plays that run against the grain, due to force of habit, but this does not mean that they should necessarily be avoided.

For example, take this hand where South is in five diamonds doubled, having overcalled the preemptive four spade bid.

It seems to be natural to win the spade lead with the ace and play a diamond towards the A-Q. That is what would be done in nearly every hand where declarer had such a trump combination, but it is not what should be done in the present case.

The bidding indicates that there is a good chance of finding West with all four missing diamonds, and, if this is the case, a trump play at trick two will result in the loss of three trump tricks and the contract.

Faced with such a prospect, South should consider playing the trumps in an entirely different fashion. Since the only losers he has are in diamonds, he should take steps to avoid losing three trump tricks, which can occur only if West has four diamonds.

Accordingly, after taking the ace of spades, he should enter his hand with a heart and lead a low diamond towards the ten. This unusual play renders West helpless. If he follows low, dummy's ten wins and West is automatically held to two trump trick.

And if West goes up with the Jack instead, he still does not defeat the contract. Regardless of which suit he returns, South loses only one more trick and makes the contract.

Thus, if West takes the jack of diamonds and returns a spade, declarer ruffs and leads a diamond to the ten. West can take the king now or later, but in either case, he winds up with two trump tricks and no more. Declarer's unnatural method of handling the diamonds by leading from strength towards weakness, instead of vice versa, pays good dividends.
