Active Season Promised For Little Theatre

That the 1955-56 season promises to be one of the most successful ever was evidenced at an enthusiastic meeting of the executive of the Charlottetown Little Theatre Guild held at the home of the president, Mrs. Fred Ranahan, on Thursday evening. One successful studio evening when three one-act plays were admirably presented has already been held, and two full-length plays are now in rehearsal. A real Christmas play "Christmas in The Market Place", directed by Mrs. Charles Willett, is scheduled for December 15th, and "My Three Angels", a comedy which recently had a long run on Broadway and is now being made into a movie, is being directed for Little Theatre by Mr. Bert Foster and will be staged early in January. After this there will be another studio night of three one-act plays followed by the annual children's play. In the meantime, "Angel Street", directed by Mrs. W. E. Scantlebury, which was one of last year's major production staged by Little Theatre, is being rehearsed for entrance, along with "My Three Angels", in the Regional Drama Festival to be held early in February. It was decided to enter these two plays since a festival cannot be held here unless three plays are in competition, and it is understood that the only other play being entered is "Pygmalion" by a group of Montague players. All of this points to a very active and fruitful year.

A progres report submitted by the membership committee revealed that some 265 members have already joined with 12 canvassers still to make returns. Memberships will continue to be available, and plans were formulated to have "Get-Togethers" of active members who have expressed a desire to take part in acting, directing, costuming, make-up, etc., as soon as the membership ilsts are com as he membership lists are com a workshop group for teenagers under Mrs. J.P. Millar's guidance.

Wednesday, November 19th, was set for the next executive meeting which will take the form of a work party at the Empire Theatre.
