Acadians Plan Giant Rally At Mont Carmel This Sunday

A mammoth picnic will be the form for an Acadian Rally to be held in Mont Carmel Sunday, August 16. Occasion for the get-together is the Feast of Our Lady of the Assumption, patron of the Acadians, the day before.

Visitors from other areas are expected to bring their lunch baskets and a canteen service will be made available on the Rally grounds.

Following benediction a program of music, song and dance will be presented in the parish hall, beginning at 8 o'clock.

To finish the rally a huge camp fire will be built on the shore.

Organizers of the rally are anticipating good representation from each branch of the Society.

and added the aim of the government of Archbishop President Makarios "is to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery" and prevent a peaceful solution.

Rossides was the opening speaker.

He said the air attack occurred Monday 11 hours after the cease - fire went into effect, causing 10 casualties. He said the aim was to terrorize the Greek - Cypriot population.

He charged also Turkish vessels violated territorial waters of Cyprus midnight Sunday and early Monday and landed military materials. He added two Turkish jets violated Cyprus airspace Tuesday.

REPORT ON VIOLATION

Rossides said the violation of the cease-fire was confirmed in a report received by Secretary-General U Thant at the United Nations from Gen. K. S. Thimayya, the commander of the UN peace force.

Turkey has denied the charge saying the jets did not fire while on a scouting mission.

Serious Split Reported Between Greece, Makarios

By HAL McCLURE

NICOSIA (AP) — A serious split between Greece and President Makarios was reported from Athens Tuesday night as the Greek - Cypriot leader declared he would fight on "alone or with others" to victory in Cyprus. But in view of Turkish air raids on Cyprus, Greece pledged full support for the Greek-Cypriots.

Athens government - controlled radio said the Greek-Cypriot attack on Turkish-Cypriots in northwest Cyprus last week was launched without consultation with the Greek government, as previously agreed upon.

The attack brought air raids by Turkish jets on the Greek-Cypriots, precipitating a situation that threatened war between Greece and Turkey.

All Is Set Today For Alberton Ex.

ALBERTON — Truckloads of livestock began arriving at the Alberton Exhibition Grounds yesterday afternoon and long after dark they were still coming in. By early evening the new pig barn was filled to capacity. Among the entries is a sow with her litter of 15.

The new Jacques Cartier Arena will be used for the judging of horses and cattle. The judging of beef cattle will get underway at 9.30 a.m. today.

Sheep, swine, poultry, vegetables, grains, flowers and fruit will also be judged today.

Ladies' work and domestic science work were judged yesterday and the usual excellent display is on hand. Of particular interest this year are entries which have special connection with centennial year and they vary from rugs to cakes.

OVER 70 YEARS

Another new feature this year is the introduction of two sections in the needlework class which are open only to ladies of 70 years and over.

Dinners and suppers will be served in the main dining room and there are several lunch booths besides a canteen. All of these will maintain the fine standard of excellence they have attained in previous years.

In the evening a program of entertainment in the arena will feature the Charlottetown Majorettes, Centennial Girls' Chorus and barbershop quartettes.

The official opening at 2 p.m. will be preceded by a parade through the streets of Alberton led by Burke's Pipe Band.

Pope Paul Takes Ride In 'Copter

By BENNET M. BOLTON

ORVIETO, Italy (AP)—Pope Paul VI made history's first papal helicopter trip Tuesday carrying the message of Christ into this medieval town where popes once ruled and Communists now govern.

The 66-year-old Roman Catholic pontiff, on his longest trip outside the Rome area since his January Holy Land pilgrimage, flew here to commemorate the 700th anniversary of the Roman Catholic feast day of Corpus Christi.

It was a trip of contrast.

Soon after he stepped from his helicopter, a symbol of the modern world, he told the crowd in the great gothic cathedral of Orvieto:

"To us moderns, formed in the rational and imaginative mentality . . . it is difficult to admit the reality that this sacrament (the eucharist) presents us. Faith is necessary."

Corpus Christi is the feast day celebrating the Roman Catholic sacrament of the eucharist, in which the body and blood of Christ are considered present in the bread and wine.

Orvieto turned out en masse. An estimated 50,000 persons cheered The Pope—more than half of them foreign visitors and villagers from other parts of the Umbria.

Yet the town's Communist mayor, Italo Torrani, and other municipal officials were not present. They were not invited and they were not expected, for the Vatican made it clear the Pope's trip here was private.

But their absence at a papal visit, that most mayors in Roman Catholic Italy would consider a major occasion, pointed up the Catholic - Marxist contrast of modern Italy.

Frick's Term Is Extended

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick's term officially was extended Tuesday through the 1965 World Series and plans for a football style player draft of free agents were shelved.

The American and National Leagues, meeting in a 30-minute joint session, quickly accepted the recommendation of the executive council that Frank be asked to finish his term.

Frick, 69, readily agreed to stay at his $65,000 a year job and serve with president Warren Giles of the National and Joe Cronin of the American League in preparing a report on the functions of his office.

"We are going to study the office and suggest possible changes in its functions in the light of changing conditions," said Frick. "We will send our report to the owners before their December meeting in Houston."

The owners voted to include the players of the fifth place clubs in the World Series money pool, following another recommendation by the executive council. Each fifth place player would get about $200 on the basis of last year's receipts.

The owners split down the middle on the proposed free agent player draft. No formal vote was taken, but Frick estimated about half the clubs favored some sort of football-type draft of high school and college boys. The others preferred the present first-year rule with alterations.

Mets Obtain Garry Kroll

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Mets obtained pitcher Garry Kroll from Philadelphia Phillies today as part payment for outfielder Frank Thomas, who went to the National League baseball leaders in a waiver deal last week.

To make room on their roster for Kroll, a 23-year-old fastballing right-hander, the Mets returned pitcher Darrell Sutherland to Buffalo in the International League.

The Mets also received Wayne Graham, an outfielder - third baseman, from the Phils in the Thomas deal and will get a third player after the World Series.

Nfld. Ferry Sets Records

NORTH SYDNEY, N.S. (CP) —The CNR ferry William Carson set records last month for the number of passengers and vehicles carried on her 93-mile run between here and Port aux Basques, Nfld., the railway said Tuesday.

The Carson carried 35,852 passengers in July, an increase of 5,136 over the same month last year. Vehicles handled last month increased to 5,500 from 4,418 for July, 1963.

The railway said the increases result from work carried out on the Carson earlier this year. Alterations to the vessel increased her passenger capacity to 500 from 262 and the vehicle capacity from 50 cars to 130.

lar value can be placed upon representation but this naval presence should not have a dollar tag placed upon it when at low cost it reminds the population of a largely inland oriented country of its responsibilities," the report states.

In specific recommendations as to how the division could be operated more economically, the report suggests converting the coal-fired heating unit to oil-fired with reduction of civil service staff by two at a saving of $7,500; reduce the staff by one MTS driver at a saving of $3,500; reduce the RCN by two storemen at a saving of $9,000; and combine duties of staff officers with area officers recruiting, reducing RCN personnel by one officer and one petty officer, at a saving of $14,000, for a total saving of $34,000.

MacLEAN PLEASED

Outside the House, Hon. J. Angus MacLean, a member of the special defence committee, said he was very pleased with the recommendations of the report.

"I feel the points in the report about Queen Charlotte are very well taken with regard to keeping this division operating," Mr. MacLean said.

He said it made some telling arguments in favor of the division which he said was one of the oldest in Canada and had an excellent record. Closing of it would wipe out navy representation in P.E.I., leaving it as the only province in Canada without a naval establishment.

First Day Lobstering Very Poor

SUMMERSIDE — If the catch on opening day is any sign of what is to come, south shore lobster fishermen are in for the worst season ever according to reports yesterday.

One spokesman said last night "today was very poor — not even half of the catch brought in on opening day last year".

A spokesman for Island Packers Ltd., said the situation yesterday was the same all along the south shore. As an example, he mentioned the situation faced by one Summerside fisherman.

Two years this fisherman's catch on opening day was approximately 2,000 pounds. Last year, which was considered a poor year, he pulled in some 1,100 pounds and yesterday his catch was only 200.

The spokesman said the traps averaged approximately one pound per trap yesterday and he recalled only a couple of years ago the average catch per trap was 10 pounds.

There are some thoughts however, that due to the rough seas Monday when the traps were set they wouldn't have been completely settled by yesterday. It could be a different situation today and the fishermen are hoping this is the case.

Buyers are also giving top prices with the fishermen getting 57 cents a pound for canners and 60 cents for market size.

Sonny Liston Did Not Quit

BALTIMORE (AP)—Former world heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis says it was Sonny Liston's manager who threw in the towel in last February's title fight with Cassius Clay.

"Everyone keeps saying that Liston quit in his corner after the sixth round, but it isn't true," Louis said Tuesday.

"I was the first person in the ring and Liston was yelling to his cornermen: 'Let me fight, I can still beat him.'

"But Jack Nilon, his manager, made him quit. He knew that they had a return-bout clause and he didn't want to take a chance on Sonny hurting his shoulder so bad that he would be able to fight again."

Louis, who was at the ringside in Miami Beach as a television commentator for the heavyweight title bout, said: "Clay was the one that really wanted to quit. After the fifth round, he was yelling at his seconds 'Don't let him hit me no more.'"
