Wedding Of Interest In New Glasgow

A lovely June wedding of wide interest took place in Trinity United Church, New Glasgow, N. S., on June 9 at 2:00 p.m. when Daisy Bell Watkins, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graydon A. Seaman of New Glasgow was united in marriage with George Arnold Wightman of Montague, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil K. Wightman of Halifax. The double ring ceremony was performed by the minister of the church, Rev. C. R. F. MacLennan, assisted by Rev. G. H. MacLean.

The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of lacy white lilac intermingled with pink tulips in the chancel and a crystal bowl of pink roses on the Baptismal font. The nuptial music was played by Mrs. E. Stewart MacDonal of Halifax and the soloist was Mrs. Doane Bent of New Glasgow, who gave a lovely rendition of "Through the Years" during the signing of the register. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk taffeta, made on princess lines with a deep v-neck outlined in wide lace. The fitted bodice came to a yoke over the hips and the bouffant skirt to a short train in back. A panner of lace adorned the skirt and edged the hemline, and the bodice buttoned down the back with tiny covered buttons and the long sleeves came to points over the hands. Her embroidered net veil was caught to her hair with a narrow bandeau of corded ribbon and had clusters of fragrant lily of the valley over each ear. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom, and her bouquet was a cascade of white roses, pink carnations and bouvardia.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Phyllis Watkins as maid of honor, Miss Vesta Lockhart and Miss Gladys Spangale, both of Halifax, as bridesmaids, and her niece, Phyllis Joan MacDonal of Sydney as flower girl. The maid of honour wore a gown of pink nylon with full skirt and tiny matching jacket, and her headdress was a half veil with fluted bandeau of nylon net and she carried a bouquet of spring flowers. Miss Lockhart wore a dress of yellow nylon, and Miss Spangale wore a mauve dress of nylon net and satin, both wearing elbow length mitts and carrying shower bouquets of mixed baby mums. The flower girl wore a gown of blue organdy and blue and white poke bonnet with white flower trim and carried a matching basket filled with sweet peas and baby mums.

The bridegroom was supported by Malcolm Johnston of Montague as best man, and the ushers were Robert Hart of Charlottetown and Donald MacDonal of Sydney, brother-in-law of the bride. The reception which followed the ceremony was held at the home of the bride on Pleasant St., when the parents of the young couple received with the bridal party. Mrs. Wightman was gowned in a three tone dress of heavy silk linen, straw hat with flower trim, turquoise accessories, a fur neckpiece and corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Seaman wore a gown of lilac crepe with navy blue hat and accessories, a fur neckpiece and corsage of Talisman roses.

Receiving the guests at the door was Mrs. Isaac Sutherland, while Mrs. Robert Hart of Charlottetown had charge of the guest book, and Mrs. Aubrey Sutherland the gift room. The bride's table was covered with an ecru lace cloth centred with a three tier wedding cake flanked by tall tapers in low silver holders. For going away the bride wore a wheat coloured English wool bolero jacket suit with matching accessories and mauve shortie coat and corsage of red roses. On their return, after a visit in New Glasgow, they will take up residence in Montague where the groom conducts a bookkeeping office. The bride for the past six years has been employed in Halifax where several lovely showers and teas were held in her honour. Many beautiful presents were received by the popular young couple. Out of town guests were present from Halifax, Sydney, Amherst, Montague, Charlottetown and other places in P.E.I.

Card Of Thanks I wish to thank Dr. G. S. A. Inman, Dr. P. MacIntyre, nurses and staff of the King's County Hospital, also Rev. F. N. Young and W. D. Johnston, for their kindness to me while a patient there and in my home. Mr. James Stewart, Montague
