Curtain Falls For Big Week

By JIM CULLEN

Today is the official close of Old Home Week activities and, in our opinion, this also marks the close of the summer sports scene, with little more than a couple of weeks to go before we get into fall and winter sports activity on the sports pages.

We will be looking anxiously towards the camp of the Chicago Black Hawks in September to see what they intend to do with their "Golden Hawk" who stated in July that he intends to demand a salary of $100,000 this season.

We think Mr. Hull is probably the most valuable athlete in the National Hockey League today, but we also think that his demands are ridiculous.

Hockey arenas don't have anything near the seating capacity of ball parks and this was one of Hull's reasons for demanding the huge salary hike: "because that's what Mickey Mantle gets from the Yankees and I think I'm just as important to the Black Hawks and hockey as he is to New York and baseball."

It should also be pointed out that what hockey clubs receive in television money doesn't begin to compare with what the ball clubs get.

Gordie Howe is reported to be the highest paid player in the National Hockey League at $35,000. Hull whose five year contract has run out drew approximately $30,000 last season.

The guess of this columnist is that he will get a substantial raise this year, but that he will sign for less than half of the $100,000 balloon he floated this summer.

Other National Hockey League clubs, who have players on their roster who had relatively good seasons last winter may experience a little difficulty signing these players without dipping into the cash box: as a result of Hull's demands on the Black Hawks organization.

Normie Ullman will undoubtedly go after a substantial hike on the wage scale when he meets with the Detroit Red Wings top brass.

Tid Bits From Here And There

Our sincere congratulations to all those who took part in yesterday's Gold Cup and Saucer parade. They performed like true sportsmen (and women) and came through in flying colors with weather conditions waging a strong battle against the annual classic.

Among the many participants that stand out in our mind the most predominate would have to be Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster who choose to drive in an open convertible despite heavy rain showers and appeared to be having a hell of a good time doing it, as their part in helping Prince Edward Island celebrate Old Home Week.

The City Recreation department's annual city closed tennis tournament is scheduled to get underway at the Charlottetown tennis courts Monday. There will be three age divisions for players under eighteen years-of-age as well as an Open division.

Chuck Brainard of Hamtramck, Mich., had little trouble eliminating Canada's top seeded junior player, Barry Shakespear, Halifax from the Canadian Open junior tennis championships. Brainard ousted Shakespear in straight sets 6-2, 6-1. Barry Shakespear commented that the American victories in this tournament were understandable in view of better training conditions in the U.S.

Righthander Jim Maloney of Cincinnati Reds got his second $1,000 this season Friday by pitching another no-hitter. Bill Dewitt, president-general manager of the Reds, said he gave Maloney the raise since baseball rules prohibit granting bonuses for performances.

First Place Game Set For Tonight

HAMILTON (CP) — First place will be at stake here tonight when Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Ottawa Rough Riders clash in Eastern Football Conference action.

The clubs, deadlocked in first place, each won two games. Kickoff time is 8 p.m. EDT.

Frank Clair, coach of the Rough Riders, said: "While a game this early in the season isn't going to settle first place in the final standings, it's an important one for us."

"We have to play in Hamilton twice this season and they come (to Ottawa) only once," he said. "To finish first, we have to take two out of three from them, so we have to win at least once in Hamilton. In that sense, winning this one would give us a big lift."

Clair isn't concerned that his club has a history of losing in Hamilton. He noted the Riders have won 17 of 19 at home and said: "The Ticats have been concentrating on timing this week."

Mike Souchak Takes Open Lead

SUTTON, Mass. (AP)—Mike Souchak, with four birdies on the front nine and amazingly accurate chipping, stormed into a one-stroke lead Friday in the opening round replay of the world $200,000 golf tournament.

Souchak, the 38-year-old former Duke University football star who has not won a tournament in a year, fired a three-under-par 32-36-68 as the meet started anew after Thursday's rain washout.

At 73 stood Canadian PGA champion Wilf Hanenauk of Winnipeg and Bob Banisuk of Windsor, Ont., the youngest Canadian on the professional golf tour. Other Canadian scores ranged from 74 to 78.

NICKLAUS FAR BACK — Masters champion Jack Nicklaus, who needs only $1,731 to break Arnold Palmer's 1963 record earnings of $128,230 in PGA play, carded a disappointing 74. Nicklaus said he hit "a good shot off the first tee and that was the last one."

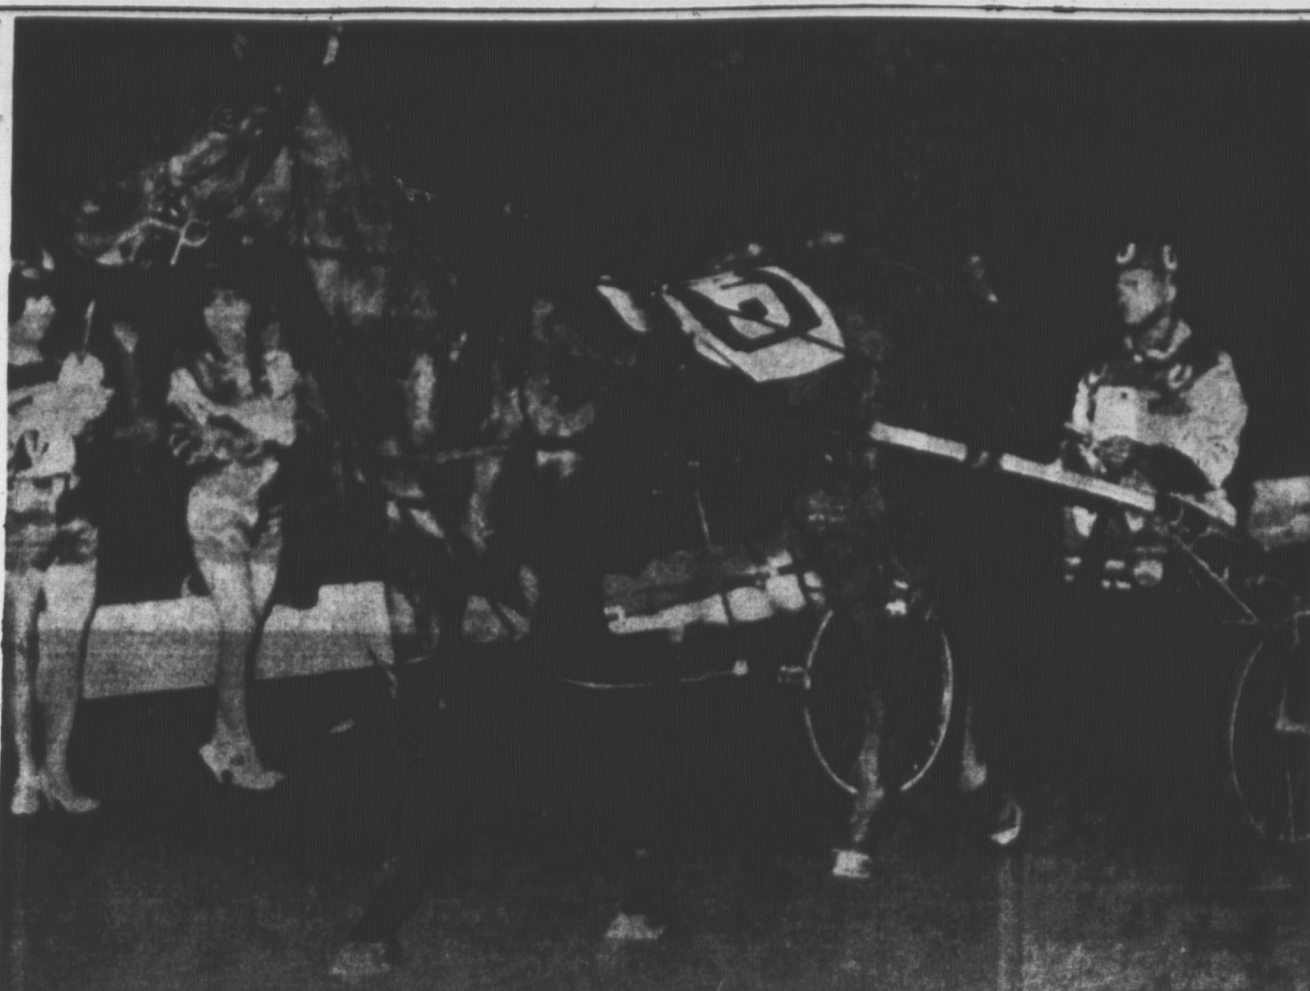

Dave Marr, a new PGA champion, took a 73 while defending champion Bobby Nichols had 72. George Archer, whose sparkling 67 was wiped out by Thursday's early evening thunderstorm, soared to a 73.

MOE NORMAN OF BARFIE, Ont., battled back from a first-nine 40 to finished with 74. Three-time Canadian amateur champion Nick Weslock of Toronto scored 76. Adrien Bigras of Montreal carded a 77 and the British Columbia Open champion, Len Collett of Vancouver, a 78.

All but Weslock and Bigras improved upon their Thursday scores — which will not be counted.

U.S. Open champion Gary Player of South Africa and Tony Lema were locked in a 10-way tie at 71.

Toronto's George Knudson led seven Canadians with a 37-35-72.

ANDY'S SON, holder of the Maritime three year old pacing record, is shown in the winners circle at the Charlottetown Driving Park last evening immediately following the completion of the second heat of the Evening Patriot Gold Cup and Saucer race. The brown pacer trained by J. Moore and owned by Eric and Harry Wheebly of Dartmouth, N.S. won both heats on a very heavy track in times of 2:07.2 and 2:07.3. This was the second big free-for-all triumph of the week for the horse. He won the Patriot $2500 invitational on Monday evening.

Andy's Son Wins Feature To Climax Old Home Week

By JIM CULLEN Sports Editor

Andy's Son, the sensational young three-year-old, owned by Eric and Harry Wheebly, Dartmouth, N.S. walked off with the lion's share of the annual Gold Cup and Saucer feature invitational pace before a standing room crowd only at the Charlottetown Driving Park last night.

Andy's Son by Amortizer, dam Mother's Girl was just too much horse for the select group of Maritime pacers in last night's classic.

In the first half of the main event, the third dash, Andy's Son with Jim Moore holding the reins, won the top on the first turn. Landy with Rufin Barrieau on the bike was in the two hole coming off the first turn.

Eloise Wick owned by the Greenbrier Farms, Charlottetown went to the top of the pack the first time down the backstretch. Andy's Son took command of the race as the field went into the paddock turn for the second time with Landy still close on his heels.

The whole field started to move as they came into the home stretch, but there was only Andy's Son and Landy in the race with the Wheebly owned horse leading the way to the wire.

The track at the local race was in poor condition due to a heavy downpour of heavy rain. Andy's Son and Landy in the most respectable times of 2:07.2 and 2:07.3 in his double dash victory.

Morgan Chief with George Mauger up on the bike captured a double dash win in the first and fifth events. This is a three-year-old pacer owned by Harry Hirsch, Sydney and the gelding paced extremely well over a heavy track with clockings of 2:08.2 and 2:10.4. This three-year-old has been a mile in 2:06 and a bit this season.

Jim Moore who drove the free-for-all victor handled Borderview Renow in dashes two and six and teamed the brown gelding to a double dash victory in 2:09 and 2:09.3.

Arnold Palmer, golf's all-time top money winner with more than $600,000 earned since 1955, made a strong bid to break out of a summer-long slump.

The 35-year-old Palmer conquered the Pleasant Valley Country Club's 6,713-yard, par 36-35-71 layout with nines of 36-33-69, four strokes better than his Thursday count.

RUNNERSUP CROWDED — Moving into a second place tie with Palmer in the 72-hole tournament were Jim Ferree, Miller Barber, Joe Campbell, Dick Hart and Tokyo Open champion Hideyo Sugimoto.

Deadlocked with 70s were Claude King, Bruce Devlin, Jack McGowan, Butch Baird, Miguel Sola and Walt Burkens.

U.S. Open champion Gary Player of South Africa and Tony Lema were locked in a 10-way tie at 71.

Toronto's George Knudson led seven Canadians with a 37-35-72.

Caribbean, U.S. Teams Lead Tuna Meet In N.S.

By CAL HOLLOWAY WEDGEPORT, N.S. (CP) — The Caribbean and the United States appear the best bets to take the world's tuna title when the 16th international tournament ends here at 1 p.m. today.

The Americans, who had no luck the first two days, boasted two of three tuna taken Friday to pull within striking distance of the Caribbean team. Canada also caught its first fish of the tournament to leave behind the last-place Mexican team.

Elwood Harry of Miami, one of the world's top five tuna anglers, had the biggest of the day—a 583-pound bluefin. Osborn Owings of Washington, in his third Wedgeport match, took a 521-pounder.

BOATS BIG ONE — Dr. Murray Newman of Vancouver, noted for his efforts last year to keep captured killer whale "Moby Doll" alive, got Canada on the scoresheet with a 573-pound tuna which he battled for an hour and 48 minutes.

The Caribbean team, on the strength of two fish taken Thursday — a 600-pounder by team captain Louis Mowbray of Bermuda and one of 565 pounds by Louis Devereux of Barbados — has 1,165 points.

One point is given for each pound of fish taken and another 200 points are given for the biggest single fish of the match.

The United States team, 1,104 points, Canada 573 and Mexico 519. The Mexican fish was taken Thursday by team captain Jaime Pena Vera.

The 12 boats, each carrying two anglers, fished off this Acadian community Friday. The two U.S. tuna were taken early in the morning at Soldier's Rip, a tidal stream seven miles off shore.

The Canadian fish was hooked at the mouth of the Tusket River three miles from the Rip.

Owings said his fish was well hooked but he played it carefully. He took it in 37 minutes.

Harry, who won the Bimini, Bahamas, tuna tournament for the third straight time this year, needed only 30 minutes to take his big one.

"We tried to get him fast so we could get back in the Rip for another one," he said. Dr. Newman had the biggest tussle of the day as the giant bluefin went close to an island and into seaweed.

"We went into a reef and at one time I could feel the line crossing some thing. I was afraid of losing it. It took a lot of line. It was a steady fight."

The six fish taken so far are the most taken in a tournament since 1954 when 30 were boated by the seven teams competing. Three tuna were taken in the 1955 match, four in 1956 and three in 1957. The tournament was discontinued after 1958 when the five teams failed to get a strike.

The fog cleared from the area Friday for the first time in two weeks. Sunny weather and light winds are forecast for today.
