The P. E. I. Commercial College of which Principal Oxenham is manager and proprietor, reopens on 15th inst. In fact, it has not had a whole week of holidays this season. Its work has been first-class in every respect; and its students and graduates are, to day, occupying the best positions in this country and the United States. Not a single student has failed in his studies. This is an actual Business College, and up to date in every respect. We strongly advise our young people, ladies and gentlemen, to take a thorough course at the P. E. I. C. C.

Dewey's Thanks.

ATLANTA, Ga., August 11.—Congressman Livingston, of Georgia, has received the following letter from Admiral Dewey: Flagship Olympia, off Cavite, Philippine Islands, July 11.

My Dear Sir:—I have just learned from the last papers that I am indebted to you for the introduction in the house of resolutions extending to me the thanks of Congress for the naval engagement of Manila Bay, May 1.

I need hardly tell you that I am most grateful to you as the author of that resolution, bringing as it does the highest honor that can come to an American naval officer in his professional career. But it is a great pleasure to acknowledge my debt of gratitude and to thank you in unstinted measure for the part you took in obtaining for me that greatest distinction.

It is also a source of additional pleasure to me, as a Vermonter that the mover of this resolution was not from the north, but one from the far south. This is one of the good signs of the times. In the hour of danger there is no south, no north, but one united country. May we never hear of sectionalism again. There are no lines drawn in the navy. I need not say it may interest you to know that my flag lieutenant, Lieut. Brumby, is a Georgian, by birth and appointment. And thanking you most cordially, I remain very gratefully and sincerely,

V. GEORGE DEWEY.

To the Hon. L. F. Livingston, House of representatives.

MAY BE THE MISSING LINK

A distinguished paleontologist claims to have discovered facts serving to show that the vermiform appendix, that mysteriously useless organ that has annoyed the human family so much of late years, is no more nor less than the rudimentary remnant of the gizzard with which he believes the monstrous progenitors of man of the tertiary period of the earth's existence were supplied. Some of these gigantic creatures, lizards in form, birds in kind, animals in some functions, are believed to have developed by the gradual stages described by the supporters of the theory of evolution into the semblance of a human being.

If the bird form be the original of the human race, it is reasonable to believe that it may have been supplied with a gizzard, which in the bird of modern time possesses a definite and important function in the digestion of the food. The bird having no teeth the food is in many cases swallowed whole. Some birds can crush the food with their beaks, but normally the digestion is permitted largely through the agency of the gizzard, where the food is ground into fine particles. The interior coating of this organ is rough and muscular. Many birds swallow, as far as the gizzard, small pebbles that aid the process of attrition. Thus if the latest theory be correct a curious paradox is presented. Whereas in the beginning, as now, the gizzard performed its functions most satisfactorily when supplied with indigestible substances, its rudiment that now remains in the human structure becomes a center of dangerous conditions as soon as any foreign substance, and especially any hard matter, is deposited in it.

One of the marvels of anatomy for some years has been this strange sac in the upper intestines, apparently without the least function in the digestive system and capable of being removed without affecting the health of the patient save to a favorable degree. Researches have revealed many traces of such rudiments in the human system. Darwin's studies brought to light many resemblances between man and the lower orders. It may now be that the despised vermiform appendix will be exploited as the real "missing link" binding man to the past ages, when life assumed many forms that are today unknown.—Washington Star.

A Curious Fact

It is really remarkable the number of cheap plated watch cases that are made and sold these days—cases that will wear anywhere from six weeks to three years, and most of them containing a guarantee warranting them to wear for 20 years. A good filled case, one that will wear for 20 years, costs within a dollar of what it did seven years ago. That dollar represents the reduced cost of making—the gold costs just the same.

I sell gold filled cases, cases that have stood the test of years, and personally guarantee every case that I sell in addition to the manufacturers warrant.

I have some of the latest and most desirable patterns in stock, also silver. Any make of movement you want.
