

DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

Star Boy, a trotter by Caretaker, bred in Quebec and developed by Louis Praught, formerly of Cherry Valley, won the Junior Free For All Trot at Exposition Park, Quebec City, recently with the best summary—2-1, time, 2:12, 2:12 2/5. Archie Volo (Cottler) won the first heat. The same afternoon the Free For All Pace was won by Indian Lang (Giguere) with 1-1, time, 2:08 1/5, 2:07 1/5.

At Foxboro, Mary S. Budlong (Parker) won the 224 pace in 2:12 1/5 with Kay Budlong third. The same night Dannie Steele won the 225 Trot with Arch's Easy Flo in 2:15 2/5. Later Mary S. Budlong won again in 2:11 1/5. At Roosevelt Raceway the Italian trotter, Drachma won the one and one-sixteenth mile trot, purse $2,000 in 2:15 4/5. She was driven by the Italian reinsman, P. Branchini. He has been at Roosevelt for the past two weeks and it took him some time to get accustomed to driving the opposite way races are contested in Europe.

At Yonkers Raceway Colonel Dan, 11-year-old gelding by Calumet Fingo, dam, Nancy Carroll by Red Ace, bred in New Brunswick and well known throughout the Maritimes, won the B Pace, purse $3,000 for owner-driver Bob Ryan in 2:07 1/5. The same night Jollity Girl, a three-year-old by Jollity, was second in the C Pace, purse $2,000 in a field of seven aged horses, time, 2:09 4/5. In a later start by Jollity Girl she was second in a $2,000 pace, time, 2:07 4/5. At Roosevelt Raceway the same night Earle Avery won the $4,500 pace with Freddy Hawk in 2:02 1/5, cutting two seconds off his record. It was probably the greatest mile that Earle ever drove over a half-mile track, but we doubt if it gave him any bigger thrill than the 20th of August, 1936, when he drove Bud Wengert to a pacing record of 2:05 1/2 at Charlottetown. That is still the track pacing record.

Billy Haughton became the first driver to score 100 wins at Yonkers Raceway when he came home first that same evening with Stanton Hal in the 6th and Harold Abbe in the 7th races. Next behind Haughton in the races won column is Stanley Dancer with a total of 91 victories at Yonkers.

The flashy Billy Direct pacing stallion Dudley Hanover, owned by the Hayes Fair Acres stable, DuQuoin, Ill., is now the leading money winner of the year with $79,299 to his credit. It is the largest sum ever earned by a pacer in one year. The former record was $73,387 by Scottish Pence in 1950. The most money won by a trotter in one year was $87,175 by Proximity. That was also in 1950. Dudley's lifetime winnings total over $171,000, which puts him second on the all time list for pacers behind Good Time.

Mulloy Defeats Young Aussie

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 5—(AP)—Veteran Gardner Mulloy today kept alive the hopes of the United States in the U. S. men's singles tennis championships today by turning back Australia's wonder boy, Ken Rosewall, in a marathon duel 6-4, 3-6, 4-6, 7-5, 7-5.

The 17-year-old Rosewall, who Thursday scored an upset over the No. 1 U. S. player, Vic Seixas, a walk by the cagey, smooth-stroking Mulloy in today's quarter-finals.

Two Australians, defending champion Frank Sedgman and Mervyn Rose, pounded their way into the semi-finals.

Sedgman, who has not yet come close to losing a set in five matches, registered another convincing victory over the Australians' other fine 17-year-old, Lewis Hoad, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3. Rose also claimed a straight-set victim in big Dick Savitt, No. 2 U. S. star, 6-3, 8-6, 8-6, in a stadium duel between two of the world's hardest hitters.

In the mixed doubles the Aussie pair of Mrs. Thelma Long and Hoad eliminated Mrs. Lucille Davidson, Lee's Mucken, Mo., and Brendan Macken of Montreal in the third round 3-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Ladies Curling Club Meeting

Not to be outdone by the men, the Ladies' Branch of the Charlottetown Curling Club held its first general meeting of the season at the Club House Wednesday evening. The President, Mrs. W. R. MacNeill, presided at the well attended meeting.

It was announced that a design for a Club pin has been approved, and it is hoped that the pins will be on hand when curling begins.

Routine business was transacted, after which plans were finalized for the floral display and tea which the Club is holding next Thursday, September 11th, in their Club House. Mrs. Ernest C. Evans will be in charge of the floral arranging and demonstration, while Mrs. Gordon MacMillan will show a number of colour films of her gardens.

A busy fall program is being planned so that all members of the Club may have opportunities to get well acquainted before the roarin' season is ushered in later on in the season.

HUNTERS' CORNER

It is expected that the opening of the goose season on October 1st will see a record early flight of wild-geese on hand to assist in lessening the hunting pressure on our local wild ducks. The first flock of geese reported in the province this fall flew over Annapolis on Monday, September 1st. There were 8 in this bunch. On Wednesday, September 3rd a flock of 13 followed along the same aerial course as the first which was southeasterly in the general direction of Fortune and Rollo Bay. I checked this information and am satisfied the birds were not mistaken for some other species. The flock of 15 were doing considerable honking. Sometimes cormorants, sometimes referred to as shag or solan goose, are mistaken for Canada geese when seen at a distance. They often fly in a ragged V formation. When the pulse strutting notes of the flying geese float earthward there is no mistaking the identity of the birds.

In the old days before the eel grass died out I have shot geese as early as September 5th and have seen them here in large flocks on August 28. It's an encouraging sign to see geese in this early date as it presages a south-wind movement morning in keeping with the late 1920's and early thirties. Many goose hunters will regret to see the passing of stubble shooting as water shooting of geese is a rugged game. Some flocks will undoubtedly patronize the grain fields for years to come but the bulk of the birds are expected to revert to their old habit of feeding on the salt water eel grass beds. The fare may be plainer but it's a lot safer.

It's amazing what certain private individuals are doing to foster and save wildlife, particularly game birds. A few evenings ago I stopped in at Harvey Moore's at Milltown Cross. Three years ago Mr. Moore, who is an ardent hunter and trapper, built a large dam on his property at Milltown Cross and began to feed and care for the ducks and geese that visited this man made home. No hunting of any kind is allowed on the premises. I was requested to wait awhile and see a sight worth waiting for.

We sat on a grassy bank within fifty yards of his house and, as the afternoon faded into evening black ducks began honking in over the trees and pitching into the water without any preliminaries. They came in singles, in pairs and in flocks up to 17 until, as deep dusk settled over the dam, over 200 ducks had arrived and the flooded alder fringes were literally alive with birds.

They recognized the stranger in their midst and the main body hovered at long gun shot range. Fifteen or twenty of the bolder youngsters moved in close and I had the thrill of having four wild black ducks eating wheat out of my cupped hands. One of them hopped up on my leg and tried to peck the metal buttons off my dungarees. These were ducks hatched and reared in the wild this summer. My host told me that the evening before he had over 200 ducks eating grain within a few yards distance. He informed

Bobby Dykes Defeats Turner

NEW YORK, Sept. 5—(AP)—Sharp-shooting Bobby Dykes of Miami blazed from behind tonight to squeeze out a split decision over Gil Turner of Philadelphia in a rip-roaring 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Dykes, an 8-to-5 underdog, weighed 151 to Turner's 150 1/2.

Flourished in the fifth round for a count of eight, Dykes came on to chop out his victory in a thunderous finish.

Referee Peley Scalzo and Judge Harold Barnes each voted for Dykes, 5-4-1. Judge Jack Gordon scored for Turner 5-4-1. The Associated Press scoreboard had Dykes in front 6-4.

League Leading Yanks & Dodgers Suffer Defeats

The pennant hopes of New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers suffered severe blows Friday as the Yanks bowed 3-2 to Philadelphia and the Dodgers lost a 3-1 decision to Boston Braves.

Philadelphia's triumph cut the Yanks' American League lead over Cleveland Indians to three games. The Indians met the Chicago White Sox in a night game.

The Dodgers' National League advantage was slashed to six games over New York Giants who came from behind to nip Philadelphia Phillies 4-3 on a pair of eighth inning homers. The Dodgers and the Giants square off Saturday in a doubleheader, which opens a five-game series.

Lefty Alex Kellner, beaten four times by the Yanks, struggled to his first triumph over the Bombers. Kellner was solved for nine hits while the A's collected only four off Bob Kuzava and Johnny Sain. Wildness in the sixth inning proved Kuzava's downfall.

Kuzava walked three men with none out in the sixth and took a walk himself. Sain entered and Billy Hitchcock greeted him with an infield single to score Gus Zernial and give the A's a 2-1 lead. Sain then passed pinch-hitter Sherry Robertson to force home Dave Philley with the winning run.

The veteran battery of Jim Wilson and Walker Cooper teamed up to beat the Dodgers. Wilson stopped the Brooks on six hits in besting rookie Ken Lehman who was making his big league debut.

Wilson also had a hand in the Braves attack. He singled and moved to third on Johnny Logan's drive in the third. Cooper brought both mates home with a two-bagger. Wilson singled again in the eighth. He was forced at second by Sam Jethroe. Jethroe stole second and moved to third when catcher Roy Campanella's throw sailed into centre field and scored after Logan flied out.

Eighth inning home runs by Bob Thompson and pinch-hitter Clint Hartung turned the tide in favor of the Giants. Philley relief ace Jim Konstanty, making his second start of the season, entered the fatal eighth with a 4-2 lead. Thomson homered with one out. Wes Westrum singled with two down and Hartung followed with his game-winning blast. Al Corwin, fourth Giant pitcher, gained credit for his fifth victory without a loss.

Washington Senators defeated the stumping Boston Red Sox 2-0 in the major's only other day game. The triumph was Washington's sixth straight and extended Boston's losing streak to seven games. Rookie Paul Sanchez shut out the Sox on five hits.

In the only National League night game Pittsburgh clashed with the Cardinals in St. Louis.

Churchill Cashes On Win and Place

FOLKESTONE, England, Sept. 5 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill cashed a bet of unknown size when his three-year-old racehorse, Non-Stop, won the Sandling Handicap today at the Folkestone track at odds of 15 to 8.

Victory in the 1 1/4-mile race was worth $560 in purse money but trainer Walter Nightingall told reporters: "Mr. Churchill backed Non-Stop each way." "Each way," is British for win and place.

Giles Fines Dodger Stars

BOSTON, Sept. 5—(AP)—Warren Giles, president of the National League, today fined Roy Campanella and Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn Dodgers and warned Manager Charley Dressen to take steps to protect himself and his players from serious entanglements with umpires.

Campanella was fined $100 for an argument with umpire Frank Secora that resulted in his ejection from last night's game with Boston Braves. Robinson was fined $75 for having words with Larry Goetz after the game.

Robinson announced he would refuse to pay the fine until he had a hearing with Giles.

Lotteries For Charity Suggested

VANCOUVER, Sept. 5—(CP)—Lotteries for charity today were recommended to the Canadian Bar Association in annual meeting here.

The recommendation for legalization of lotteries came from the administration of criminal justice section.

It was suggested the criminal code be amended to permit lotteries for prizes having a value of not more than $500. At present prizes for raffles cannot be more than $50.

It was proposed that there should be a strict accounting of all funds with a guarantee that only charity benefit from the draws.

N. B. A. Opens Convention

MONTREAL, Sept. 5—(CP)—The National Boxing Association opens its 33rd annual convention here Sunday and, although sessions will be held behind closed doors, at least part of the agenda is more or less an open secret.

It is expected that at least part of the discussions during the Sept. 7-10 meeting will revolve around the setting up of a uniform scoring system and a possible international agreement with the British Boxing Board of Control on championship ratings.

Another angle in the minds of many of the delegates will undoubtedly be the split of the United States boxing world into two segments.

On one side is the N. B. A. with its affiliated states and on the other the New York State Athletic Commission, the only important state that doesn't belong to the National Association.
