They Were Good Eaters.

One day Dr. Norman McLeod, who was a large and healthy man, and one of his burly elders went to pay a visit to a certain Mrs. MacLaren of the congregation who lived over the Scotch hills. She was a frugal woman, but since she knew that a call from these two meant that they would stay to supper, too, she determined that they should have the best in the house. So she piled the table with jellies and jam and preserves and shortbread and all the delicacies of the season, and, the journey having been long, they partook unsparingly, and after the meal the elder said to her:

"Mrs. MacLaren, were you at the kirk Sunday?"

"Oh, aye," she said, "I was."

"And what did you think of the treatment of the miracle?" The sermon had been on the loaves and fishes.

"I thought it was good," said Mrs. MacLaren.

"And what is your idea on the subject, Mrs. MacLaren?" persisted the minister.

"Losh!" said their hostess suddenly, "I'm thinkin that if you and the elder had bin in the congregation there wadna bin 12 baskets of fragments for the disciples to gather up!"—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Why He Was Awake.

One of the best of the Scotch stories Mr. John Johnston tells is that of a certain sermon in a Scotch church, at which nearly the whole congregation went to sleep.

"The minister pounded on the pulpit," says Mr. Johnston, "and cried them shame to be all asleep when he was preaching the word of God, and then he looked up in the gallery and saw there an idiot boy who attended divine service regularly. He chanced to be wide awake, and the minister pointed to him in admiration.

"See there," he shouted, "even Jamie the idiot is awake and drinkin in the word!"

"Yes," shouted back Jamie then, "but if I hadn't been an idiot I'd 'a' bin asleep too!"—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Some Kipling Maxims.

A Kentish school budget gives a series of maxims from the pen of Rudyard Kipling, among which are found the following: "If you have any doubts about a quantity, cough. In three cases out of five this will save you being asked to 'say it again.'" "When pursued by the native farmer, always take to the nearest plowland. Men stick in furrows that boys can run over." "If it is necessary to take other people's apples, do it on a Sunday. You can put them inside your topper, which is better than trying to button them into a tight eton."

The snail's mouth is one of the most extraordinary objects in nature. By the time the snail has worn out the last one of its 30,000 teeth a new set has been provided for it to begin all over again. These teeth are all on the snail's tongue, which is coiled up in the back part of the mouth.

CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK

When teeth are so far decayed that they cannot be filled they can be restored to usefulness, beauty and durability by our crown system. Crown and Bridge Work is one of the most beautiful operations in dentistry. Crowns are so useful and so comfortable to the wearer, that he or she soon forgets they are different than his or her own teeth. It is astonishing to see how many roots and teeth that are considered worthless can thus be made good comfortable teeth. Crown and Bridge work with its improvements, when rightly performed, is scientific dentistry and covers a large number of cases.

We claim to be thoroughly

Fun From the French.

A boulevardier is at once surprised and enchanted to meet an old time companion whose suicide had been reported.

"It's true," said the latter. "I did want to kill myself, simply from distaste of life. And then came along the doctors and discovered that I had a grave disorder. Since then, you understand, I take care of myself!"—Figaro.

Surely He Wouldn't.

"If I were only a man," she said, "we could"—

"Possibly we could," he said, "but the chances are we wouldn't. If you were a man, I wouldn't be here. I'd be saying nice things to somebody who wasn't a man."

Sometimes it is worth while to think of such facts as these.—Chicago Post.

Mr. George C. Chalker's Terrible Sufferings Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Howsey's Rapids, Sept. 12.—Mr. George C. Chalker, of this place, tells a remarkable story of restoration to sound health, that rivals the far-famed St. Anne de Beaupre cures.

Briefly, Mr. Chalker's story is as follows: "I suffered horribly for years from kidney disease. I could do no heavy work. My pain was almost unendurable. No remedy did me the least good till I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes of this wonderful medicine have cured me completely—made a new man of me. I cannot speak highly enough of them. I can state with the utmost confidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure the very worst case of kidney disease.
