DRISCOLL and HORNSBY QUEEN STREET

"Strawweiger," one of the pictures, represents a little maiden, supine in bed, very ill—and no wonder—with an immense cherry tree growing out of her mouth. This was the sad result of swallowing the stones along with the fruit, in spite of all warnings. But we all know that truth is stranger than fiction, and the Petersburgskaya Gazeta of June 28 and July 8, 1897, quotes the following exemplification of this saying from the foreign papers: "A little girl 7 years of age, Amelia L., whose father worked at the sawmills in Belgard (Ain), was at play the other day, when she managed to push the seed of a plane tree deep into her ear. Shortly after she began to experience acute pains, and it was found that the seed had taken root in the waxy secretions of the ear and was growing apace. The father proceeded to cautiously uproot the intrusive plant, and the girl has now recovered."

If this story is true, it is to be hoped that Miss Amelia L., now that her ear is once more free and in working order, will incline it to hearken to the exhortations of her elders and will not go on planting plane trees in such obviously uncongenial soil.—Notes and Queries.

Position in Society. To all those who spend their time wondering how other people live we would suggest that an examination of the plaintiff's petition in the case of Schneider versus Hosier, 21 Ohio St. 98, might throw some light on the subject. It was a suit under a civil damage act, and the plaintiff alleged in her petition that she "was the wife of one Zimri Hosier, on whose good conduct, frugality and personal labor she was dependent for the support of herself and their seven minor children, for the proper culture and moral training of the latter, and to a good extent, for her own position in society. The said Zimri Hosier, when not intoxicated or laboring under the effects of intoxication, was an industrious laboring man and regularly earned and received for his labor $1.50 a day." There's management for you. Seven children and a wife supported, the children properly cultured and morally trained and the wife's position in society maintained—all on $1.50 a day. Perhaps there may have been extenuating circumstances in the intoxication of Zimri.—Law Notes.

The Deal Was Off. A German university professor received a large package containing six boxes of cigars, with a letter saying: "Permit us to send you these six boxes of cigars. We believe that they will give you every satisfaction and trust that you will recommend them to your friends. Kindly send the amount, 6 marks ($1.45), by postoffice order." The professor replied: "I have the honor to remit to you 12 dissertations, which will no doubt afford you the utmost satisfaction. Should you wish for more I am at your command. The cost is 3 marks each." By return of post came the reply: "Be good enough to return the cigars. We send herewith the cost of carriage and package. We are returning your dissertations."

Free Translation. "I guess Mrs. Frills doesn't like that new French maid." "What French maid?" "I didn't know her name until I met Mrs. Frills yesterday. I said, 'How worried you look! Do I?' said she. 'Well, it's only embroggong.' And so I suppose that's the maid's name." "What is?" "Emma Bongpong." — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Pride of Ancestry. "Mamma, the Smytheses are claiming that they, too, are descended from kings and are just as good as we." "The insufferable upstarts! Why, they have to go back 37 centuries to find a king in their lineage, while we have to go back a scant 35. The very idea!"—Detroit Journal.

None For Him. "The doctor would like to see you inside," said the maid to the caller who was waiting in the reception room. "Not much," said the startled patient, "he can't try any X ray on me." —Yonkers Statesman.
