RELIGION AND LIFE

SON OF MAN MUST SUFFER
— JESUS' GREATEST WORDS —
"Since Jesus had been facing the necessity of His sacrifice for many months before Calvary, His ideas about it must have found expression in striking thought forms.
A mark to this effect was made by a student of the New Testament some time ago. In this Lenten season we shall study some of the things our Saviour said about the meaning of His death.
There are three features common to all of them:
They are rooted in the past; they rise out of events before Him; and they look forward to the future with confidence.
We shall begin with the greatest words ever spoken: "The Son of Man must suffer."
Jesus said this at Caesarea-Philippi just after His disciples had recognized Him as the long expected Messiah.
Jesus had closed His ministry in Galilee. He had called His disciples apart for a period of rest and reflection.
There were three facts or factors before Him which provoked Him to take a different turn.
The first was the death of John the Baptist. This moved Jesus more deeply than any of His followers realized.
The second was the fact that His nation through its leaders was refusing to accept Him as their Messiah.
The third was Isaiah's prophecy of the suffering of the Servant of the Lord for the sins of His people.
So Jesus said to His disciples: "Come away by yourselves to a lonely place and rest awhile."
His first attempt at retirement was frustrated by a crowd of thousands who followed Him to the other side of the lake, but in due time they did get away.
PUBLIC GUESSES
After a period of intense thought and close fellowship Jesus asked the Twelve: "Who do men say that I am?"
After they had mentioned a few of the public guesses about Him, Jesus asked: "But who do you say that I am?"
St. Peter, speaking for them all, answered: "You are the Christ."
St. Matthew adds to St. Mark's account the statement that Jesus greeted this reply warmly and said that it was His Father in Heaven who had revealed this to him.
Then Jesus went on to explain what this involved. Since in the Messiah, it means the Cross for me.
He began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer many things and be rejected and killed by His own people.
The significant words in his prediction were just these: "The Son of Man must suffer."
In these words two prophecies are brought together.
The first is found in Daniel 7: 13-14: "I saw in the night visions, and behold, with the clouds of Heaven there came one like a Son of Man, and to Him was given dominion and glory and kingdom, that all peoples . . . should serve Him."
In Jesus time, the devout in Israel were expecting their Messiah to come in this power and glory.
The second prophecy is the fifty-third of Isaiah in which we read of the Servant of the Lord that: "He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities; Upon Him was the chastisement that made us whole, And with His stripes we are healed."
In the six words, "The Son of Man must suffer," Jesus brought those two remarkable prophecies together as finding their fulfillment in Himself.
The suffering was the way to the glory. The suffering immediately before Him, and the glory just a little later on. So He said that He must be "rejected by the elders and the chief priests and the scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again."
THIS TRUTH
It was this truth that the disciples found it impossible to accept. St. Peter spoke for all of them

Clinton Sets Pace in Red Cross Campaign

Among the first districts to be completed for the 1957 Red Cross Campaign was Clinton where the canvass was organized by Mrs. Ivan Pickering and resulted in the excellent amount of $100.50 being subscribed. With 49 contributors this represents an average contribution of $2.00 per person, but there were several $3.00, $5.00 and one $10.00 included.
Subscriptions of this calibre are proof that the residents of Clinton realize fully the great benefits to be derived by sharing in providing Red Cross services through subscriptions at Campaign time.
Other districts from which returns have been received last week were: Margate where double the amount subscribed last year came in; Elmwood, Green Bay, Cable Head West, Rollo Bay West, Mt. Hope and Dover.
