NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Storming the Ice Palace.

A COLD DAY FOR PEOPLE FROM WARMER CLIMATES.

MONTREAL, Feb. 8.

When we arrived here it was just in time to see the grand Trades Procession that had been so widely advertised. As a trade exhibit it was not a success, there being only one or two industries represented; but the shoe-shoe clubs and the allegorical cars made a fine turnout. The several cars or sleighs were profusely decorated with flags and banners. The most grotesque masks were worn. Cousin Jonathan with his silk hat and ears covered by a handkerchief was duly satirized. Reference to the fishery question was made by a sleigh with an enormous fish as the most prominent feature, and the legend, "If you want cod for supper, you must apply to Sir Charles Tupper." The sidewalks were crowded with people, who had great difficulty in keeping themselves from freezing. It was a very cold day for strangers from warm climates like P. E. Island and Nova Scotia. One of the prettiest parts of the procession was when the several sleighs passed under the arch of Victoria Square. This arch was manned by hundreds of snow-shoers in costume, each carrying a small flag in his hand, and when the different clubs were passing, the cheering and enthusiasm were immense.

It is difficult to select, where so much is going on, what will be most interesting to the readers of THE EXAMINER; but certain is the fact that the city was crowded with visitors, and that some interesting event was constantly in progress. The curling rinks were in full blast. The skating rinks were well patronized; and, notwithstanding the unpleasant weather, the toboggan slides were kept going at a great rate. What a sensation it is to go rushing down one of these slides. A whiz, a swish, and away you glide down the long incline. The slides are separated into two tracks, and it is quite exciting to see two parties racing along them.

I have not said anything about the Ice Palace. It, of course, was the great attraction on Wednesday night, and even now crowds are constantly around it. When illuminated at night it is simply gorgeous. There is a small chime of bells in one tower that are constantly playing some music, and stalls for the sale of different beverages are to be seen in the angles of the castle. Owing to the soft weather when the castle was building, the blocks are not very well joined together, and gleams of light can be seen through the crevices, and many blocks are discolored. Dominion Square is one of the handsomest in the city, and is surrounded by some of the finest buildings. To the east the new Roman Catholic Cathedral rears its lofty dome, copied from St. Peter's at Rome. To the south-west the magnificent depot of the C. P. R. takes up nearly a block. To the west are two fine stone churches, and on the north the Windsor Hotel occupies the most commanding position.

On Thursday night the principal event was the Carnival in Victoria Rink, but I did not feel equal to attending—having been pretty well tired out by the long journey by rail, and walking around to see the procession.

On Friday morning we secured admission to McGill College in good time to see the Governor-General receive an address from the Governors and Faculty of that Institution. The medicals are quite a lot of "boys." During the wait for His Excellency they kept every one lively with their chaff. The lady students had seats reserved for them at the upper right hand side, and when they gazed in the medicals began to sing, "Hop along sister Mary, hop along." When the Governor-General arrived he was received by all standing up and the students sang the National Anthem. The Governor-General is a fine specimen of the typical English gentleman, and was evidently well pleased with his reception. In his reply to the address he said that judging by what he heard of the strength of the lungs of the students, if their brains were equally vigorous, there would be no fear of the future of the present classes nor of the country they lived in. A perfect roar of laughter arose when Lord Stanley, in alluding to the Medical Faculty called it the Medical Factory, for some of the students sang out, "It is all the same, go ahead." The Governor seemed greatly amused, and Lady Stanley laughed heartily. Continuing his remarks His Excellency said he hoped the students would always be as attentive to what was said to them. Altogether the reception at McGill was most enthusiastic, and was patronized by the wealth, beauty and fashion both of social and literary circles. By the way, I was pleased to see our friend Mr. McLellan, from Indian River, among the students, and his commanding figure was a prominent object in the Hall.

Long before the time for the bombardment of the Ice Palace, crowds of expectant sight-seers gathered in Dominion Square and its vicinity, and every window and roof that commanded a view of the glittering electric-lit palace was taken advantage of. Your correspondent fortunately secured a roof. At nine precisely the guns of the Montreal Garrison Artillery boomed out from the top of Mount Royal, and under their cover the invading snow-shoers advanced. No sight could be imagined more beautiful than the snake-like glittering files winding down the sides of the mountain. Each snow-shoer—and there must have been over a thousand—had a lighted torch. As they approached, Roman candles went up from the line, and colored lights lent their beauty to the scene. On they came till they reached the palace. They surrounded it, and then the storming began. The invaders sent rockets and Roman candles against the structure, and were answered from within by bursting shells of many colored lights. The scene was one of fairy-like beauty. From every tower and bastion of the palace exquisite balls of many colored lights came flashing forth, and the whole structure seemed one mass of many colored flames. At one time it seemed as if the great central tower were actually on fire. One could hear the exclamations of the delighted crowd as the bursting rockets and showers of golden rain made the scene one of surpassing beauty. At one time the palace was a glittering crimson mass, at another a green, and before the eye could take it in, had again changed. Finally, the castle was stormed, and the blanketed torch-bearers marched into the well fought citadel.

Local and Other Items.

THE STANLEY arrived in Picton at 8.45 this morning.

CARNIVAL AT GEORGETOWN.—A Fancy Dress Carnival will be held in Georgetown Rink on Tuesday, the 26th inst.

NEW SETTLERS.—The total number of new settlers in Canada last year was 88,700, an increase of 5,200 over the previous year.

POLICE COURT.—George Goodnough, arrested on complaint of his father, remained eight days; three Scott Act cases postponed, and one dismissed.

An Ohio lady was so frightened by a snake that her glossy black hair turned white as snow. It was soon returned to its original color by Hall's Hair Renewer.

SCOTT ACT CONVICTS.—Patrick Clancy, of Cardigan Bridge, was convicted and got two months in the County jail; Richard Hogan, of Birch Hill, convicted and fined $50 or two months in County jail.

ENTERTAINMENT.—It is announced that the Fitzroy and Mac-Lawn Tennis Clubs of this city intend giving an entertainment on Thursday of Easter week. Energetic preparations are already being made.

THE SMELT CATCH.—A Monctonian in Buctouche, in a private letter to a business man here, says $20,000 worth of smelts were caught in the vicinity of Buctouche last week. The streets were lined with sleigh loads of the little fish.

A beautiful young lady became so sadly disfigured with pimples and blotches that it was feared she would die of grief. A friend recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which she took, and was completely cured. She is now one of the fairest of the fair.

BIG CODFISH CATCH.—The captain of a St. John fishing vessel reported to the Customs House there recently a catch of 18,000 pounds of codfish. The vessel had only been out a short time and the catch was valued at nearly $500.

For the restoration of faded and gray hair to its original color and freshness, Ayer's Hair Vigor remains unrivalled. This is the most popular and valuable toilet preparation in the world; all who use it are perfectly satisfied that it is the best.

SUMMER CARNIVAL.—Now it is Moncton that is to the front with the suggestion that a summer carnival be held in that city. The Times suggests that "a programme embracing a parade, sports, including a first-class base ball match on the Athletic Club's new grounds, which will be fenced in and will no doubt be available for such purposes, with torchlight procession in the evening and fireworks should be a grand success." Why cannot Charlottetown have a firemen's tournament or some such display the coming summer?

CAPE TORRENTINE BREAKWATER.—The pier and breakwater at Cape Tormentine will be a very large structure. A stone embankment 1500 feet in length will extend out straight from the shore. Crib-work will extend 1200 hundred feet further out. There will be an L of 400 feet and a double L at the end of the same length. The contractor is Edward Murphy, of Toronto, and he will push the work forward as rapidly as possible. At the present time about 500 feet of the stone embankment is completed.—St. John Sun.

PUGILISTIC.—Tom McCarthy, of Boston, and Arthur Upham, of Norwich, fought eleven rounds with two ounce gloves, on the Criterion Club, Providence, R. I., on the night of the 12th. It was the stiffest fight seen in that city for years. McCarthy weighed 158 pounds and Upham 157. Betting was even, but McCarthy had the call. McCarthy had the best of the fight all through, coming off comparatively unscathed, while Upham was badly punished. According to the knock-out agreement McCarthy had to divide the money. Upham gave sparring exhibitions in Charlottetown a few months ago.

TROTTING RACE.—The Farmer says: The trot in Summerside which was "hanging fire" for a few days, came off last Tuesday afternoon on the ice track which was used on New Year's Day. Two horses put in an appearance, viz.: Wm. McKay's Fred, by Jenkins' Hambletonian, driven by R. D. Waite, and J. B. Russ' Sir John, by All Right, driven by J. F. Power. The judges were Messrs. J. A. Ramsay, Jas. McNeill and Wm. Bowness, the latter being starter. On the second race they were sent off. They kept well together for the greater part of the mile, but Fred succeeded in passing the winning post several lengths ahead. In the next two heats the starts were made on the first scores and the results were the same as the first heat. In the last heat Sir John was driven by R. Hutchison, but this horse broke badly shortly after the start. At the finish he was a considerable distance behind. Quite a number were on the ice viewing the race.
