S'side-Tignish Rail Service Reduction Gains Approval

By FARMER TISSINGTON
Capital Bureau, The Guardian

OTTAWA — The Board of Transport Commissioners yesterday announced the daily passenger train service between Summerside and Tignish will be reduced to a mixed service operating three times weekly.

Terming the second of two CN proposals as "reasonable" and that the new service would meet the needs of railway patrons, the board stated, "therefore mixed trains 251 and 252 may be discontinued and the proposed service instituted on a date not earlier than April 1, 1964."

In handing down its decision the board left the door open for further review of the service, in the event the CNR finds after a year the service exceeds the area's needs or if the patrons feel that it is inadequate.

When the proposal was first made by the CN, strong opposition was voiced which led to a public hearing at Alberton in mid-November. At the hearing the railway argued that the trains concerned were primarily for passengers and very few passengers were carried.

MORE ECONOMICAL

The CN also claimed that by operating a thrice-weekly service, made up primarily for freight and cancelling the daily passenger runs and combining them with the freight service a more economical operation would be devised.

In addition to the thrice-weekly service, extra freight highway truck service will carry the less-than-cahload-lot freight and express.

The commission's decision was given in five parts:

(A) Trains 220 and 241, mixed trains, will travel between Summerside three days weekly, west on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and east on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

(B) Less than carload lots and express to be carried on highways by trucks.

(C) Tenders will be called for the carrying of mail between the two points.

(D) Freight extras will be sent out if traffic is offered on days alternate to the movement of trains 240 and 241

(E) Trains 259 and 260 will run between Summerside and Emerald Junction to make connections with trains to Borden and Charlottetown.

The board said the CNR has estimated that the new service will result in an operating surplus on this run of $68,000 annually and provide a financial improvement of about $116,000.

TURNED DOWN

The first proposal of the railway, designed to result in an operating surplus of $95,000 and an over-all financial improvement of $143,000, was turned down by the board.

By this proposal the CNR wished to establish a three-times a week mixed service using trains 241 and 220 with freight extras travelling from Borden to Tignish on alternate days to the service provided by these trains. Service would be provided on other days when at least five cars were offered.

The board's decision was announced by H. Griffin, deputy chief commissioner, and Commissioners W.R. Irwin and A.S. Kink.

Guidance Consultant Speaks At Alberton Home & School

ALBERTON — Miss Carrie Thomson, guidance consultant with the department of health was guest speaker at Alberton Home and School Association's February meeting.

In her talk, Miss Thomson pointed out that the child starting to school has the motivation to learn but as he moves toward his goal an obstacle may come in. It is important that in each experience he may have a little success, she said. If he cannot cope with the obstacle to get to his goal he becomes a drop-out.

An IQ test shows only one thing, she said, that in every classroom there are some children who are bright, some who are average and some who are slow. The exceptionally bright child can have problems as well as the slow child. The trouble to accept where the child is it is important for the slow child to have his share of attention and that he have an opportunity

To illustrate her meaning she said it is as important to be a good bricklayer as to be a good doctor. The important thing is to do one's work well, whatever it is.

The second part of her talk had to do with remedial reading A number of schools now employ a teacher from remedial reading only and she pointed out the need for remedial reading is found in all IQs. It is of the most benefit to the child who is below grade five and the length of course needed may vary from six months to two years

In closing she likened the teacher, the parent and the child to a triangle. If one side of the triangle breaks down all others are affected.

A panel comprised of Mrs. W. R. Oulton, William Cain, Kerry Campbell and Owen Oliver, and moderated by Mrs. Vernon England, discussed how much high marks mean, if too much emphasis is laid on high marks, and whether a student who has not learned such things as public speaking, good sportsmanship, sound judgment and discipline may end up with a diploma but not an education. At the conclusion a summary of the discussion was given by Andrew Wells.

The president, Mrs. Herman Corcoran, conducted the meeting and Miss Marion McEwen acted as secretary.

Miss Thomson was introduced by Mrs. England and thanked by Rev. Gerald Steele.

Vocal music by Miss McEwen and Beck Jordan was appreciated

S'side Planning Bigger Lobster Carnival Show

SUMMERSIDE — Plans for this year's Summerside Lobster Carnival call for a bigger and better than ever before celebration carnival president, Francis "Ginger" MacQuarrie said yesterday.

The tentative budget for the week-long celebration was presented by Charlie Hogan at a meeting held Tuesday night in the Royal Canadian Legion Home.

Speaking of this year's parade, Mr. MacQuarrie said that interest in the floats at the moment is very high. It's hoped that there will be 64 floats in this year's parade along with 10 bands.

The carnival committee will attempt to have the large Oromocto Lions Band back again this year. This group appeared at the carnival for the first time last year and proved most popular.

Mr. MacQuarrie also hopes to revive King Neptune and his mermaids, at one time a feature of lobster carnival. This was discontinued three years ago, he said, but this year he hopes that Neptune and his entourage, consisting of local citizens, will arrive by boat at one of the wharves in time for the parade.

Plans are being made to have entertainment every morning in the business sections of town, and Friday night, July 12, there is a possibility that a street dance will be held on Summer St. between Water and First Streets.

The RCAF Central Band from Ottawa will give a concert on Friday of carnival week from 3 to 5 p.m. but plans have not been finalized as to where this concert will be held. Two sites have been mentioned, Civic Stadium and Memorial Park.

At the meeting Tuesday there was also some discussion regarding the RCMP Musical Ride appearing here during the week but no decision was arrived at concerning the ride.

Another feature of the eventfilled week will be 'Fishermen's Day.' This will consist of boat racing, canoe racing and Mr. MacQuarrie expressed hope that there will be displays of model fishing boats, fishermen making traps, etc. at the stadium on that day.

Four Canadian warships will be here for the length of the carnival and the personnel are expected to participate in the parade.

The carnival committee has been promised the largest midway ever presented in Summerside and the stage acts will be of better quality than in years gone by.

The carnival president said that it is hoped that organ music will be provided continuously in between stage programs, and, if possible, be piped in to the people partaking of the lobster suppers.

Tuesday night Francis "Peg" MacNeill, representing Rotary, was elected first vice-president of the carnival committee.

Each year a local service club provides a vice-president who in turn becomes president the following year. Mr. MacQuarrie represents the Summerside Lions Club.

Slemon Park Home, School Boosting Island Centennial

The Slemon Park Home and School Association chose "The Island Centennial" as the theme for its regular February meeting, held last Wednesday at AM Johnson School.

Entertainment centering around the Centennial was provided by the grade five and six classes.

Miss Belinda Scheffelmaier began the program with a recitation of the poem, "Forest Fire", commemorating the days when P.E.I. was a vast forest. This was followed by Mr. Fraser Clark's grade six class, which presented the history of P.E.I. in capsule form. Following this, the grade five pupils sang "The Island Hymn".

Guest speakers were David Carnegy, a director on the Provincial Centennial Committee, and Edgar Cannon of the Summerside Centennial Committee. They briefed the group on preparations made to celebrate the 100th anniversary of confederation and laid the groundwork for the discussion groups which followed the program.

A team composed of Murray Shanks, principal of the school, Cpl. Palmer, Mrs. Churchill, Mrs. Nickerson, Mrs. Ramsay and Miss McClure was elected to consider suggestions about the school's Centennial contribution and ways and means to effect them.

Brotherhood Wk. Opening Sunday

Brotherhood Week which was initiated 16-years ago by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews will be observed this year Feb. 16-23.

The purpose of the event is stated as follows: "to promote justice, amity, understanding and co-operation among the racial, religious and ethnic groups of our country and to analyze, moderate and finally eliminate disfigure and distort religious, business, social and political relations, with a view to establishment of a social order in which the religious ideals of brotherhood and justice shall become standards of human relationships".

In commenting on and endorsing 'Brotherhood Week' Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson notes that "brotherhood calls for more than resistance to the violence that hatred inevitably begets. It must also reject just as resolutely, the moral cynicism and hush-hush social discrimination which are the roots of more violent bigotry.

"Our country has been built by men and women whose racial origins and religious convictions are as richly varied as our other resources. Yet these differences, the basis of our strength and the source of our once-unsurpassed traditions of tolerance and justice, are at times made the objects of fear, suspicion or discrimination. This we must end".

While the event is not marked by any special program locally, a meeting of the Charlottetown Rotary Club recently subscribed to the general theme in the observance of 'International Students' Day' Rotarians had as their guests a group of foreign students attending colleges here. They hailed from six different countries including, Hong Kong, India, British Guiana, South Africa, Holland, and the United States.

Field Representative Addresses Boys' Club

ALBERTON — E.A. Cotton, field representative, Boys Clubs of Canada, visited Alberton last Friday and showed a film on boys clubs work in Canada.

This was the second showing in the Maritime provinces of this film which was recently produced. The first showing in the Maritimes took place a week ago at Saint John with commentary on the film by the national director of boys clubs, Vernon F. McAdam.

At the showing in Alberton there was in attendance a group of citizens who are members of the board of directors in that community. The spark behind the boys club is Rev. Steele and Rev. D. MacDonald. They realized the need for a club and interested others in the project.

Rebekah Lodge provided the building for the exclusive use of the boys club and the town provides light and heat.

The film shown pointed out that in the great majority of locations boys clubs started in a small way and once citizens saw the value of a club, facilities were enlarged and the clubs grew beyond anything at first anticipated.

It was pointed out that boys clubs (and there are over 80 such clubs in Canada) are character building organizations Clubs have done a terrific job in boy guidance and for this reason prominent community minded citizens in Canada are supporting the movement tremendously. The motto of any boys club is "to meet the unmet needs of boys."

At present the Alberton Boys Club operates on a limited scale but expects to increase its operation as time goes on. The club has applied for a membership in boys Clubs of Canada, the national organization.

The field representative on Friday expressed his pleasure at seeing such great strides being made in such a short period of time.
