IN MEMORIAM

JAMES H. CUMMISKEY

As we watched the glory of the evening sunset fade away, at the close of another day Feb. 17th., how little did we think, that ere the sun would rise again, the gentle spirit of a beloved one, in the person of James H. Cummiskey had taken its flight to Him, who gave it.

The deceased was talking to members of his family only a short time before when he suddenly became ill with a heart attack. As a coincidence his Pastor Father Butler was returning from celebrating Evening Mass at Mt. Ryan. He was summoned, and performed the last sad rites, of his church, and, the good "Apostle of Christ", remained at his side till life had ebb—away.

What a consolation to his grief-stricken family to have with them their devoted Pastor in their hour of sorrow.

James H. was the son of the late Hon. James H. Cummiskey, and Katherine Wood Cummiskey, and was born at Webster's Corner 57 years ago. He attended school in his native district, and St. Dunstan's University. Later he engaged in farming with his brother, Fred, and they worked in harmony most sucessfully.

"Jimmie", as he was familiarly known to his countless friends and acquaintances was an outstanding person. In his dealings with his fellowmen, he was honest, upright, and self-respecting, kind and charitable, ever ready to assist a neighbor, when he felt assistance was needed. He was an ardent supporter of any enterprise, that was in the best interest of the community. Throughout his entire life, he always succeeded in putting first things first, the support of his church and home uppermost in his mind. Possessed with a quiet unassuming manner, yet loved and respected by all who knew him, especially the children, and aged of the district, who he made feel happy with innocent fun, as he passed along on his way. He was a living example of Christian Virtues, and endowed with a wonderul character, cheerful, optimistic under crosses and suffering, and when they had gone, the world seemed brighter for his presence.

Tangible Tributes to his memory consisting of Mass Cards, perpetual enrolments, Spiritual Bouquets, Letters and Messages of Sympathy were numerous, not only from home and surrounding districts, but also from his many friends in U.S.A. and Rev. Henry Duffy, Edmonton, Alta. and Sister Joseph Eugene, Minneapolis. He will be sadly missed by all, but especially in the home, where loved ones long for his kindly word, and will venerate the qualities of heart and soul, that are to them without an equal, fond recollections of happy days will be ever with them, and an inspiration, as time goes on.

There are left to mourn three brothers, and four sisters namely —Patrick, Fort Augustus, John, Boston, Fred at home. The sisters are Mrs. Wm. Mullen, Tracadie, Mrs. Kathleen MacKenzie at home, Mrs. Eugene Callahan and Mrs. Joseph Curley, Fort Augustus, also Mrs. Walter Mullen, Tracadie, who predeceased him fifteen months ago.

Many people from country and City accompanied his remains from the Hennessey Funeral Home on Wednesday evening, to his late residence after the arrival of the Boston plane, on which his brother John R. was a passenger. The funeral was held on Friday morning Feb. 20th., from his late Residence, Webster's Corner to St. Patrick's Church, Fort Augustus, where Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. T.P. Butler Parish Priest, assisted by Rt. Rev. R.V. MacKenzie as deacon, and by Rev. Dr. L.P. Callahan as sub-deacon. Services at the grave were conducted by Father Butler and Rev. Dr. L.P. Callahan. The Pallbearers were Tryell Baird, Joseph McEachern, Charles McGuirk, Reginald Smith, Ivan Smith, and Martin Holman. Interment was in the church cemetery. The funeral under the capable direction of Mr. William Brown was very largely attended.

In the midst of life, came a Heavenly call,
And our brother went home to stay
With the same sweet smile, that made life whorth while
There for us, He will wait and pray.

New Cooking Methods Said 'Needed' For Fish

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian fishing industry was told Monday that if it wants to increase sales it should do something about "invading the Canadian stomach."

Mrs. Jehane Benoit, Montreal food consultant, said at a panel discussion at the annual meeting of the Fisheries Council of Canada that "too much has been said by producers on 'buy my fish' and too little has been done on 'learn to cook my fish.'"

Frozen fillets and canned fish are not the answer, she said.

LT. COL. H. H. STERNS

Souris Native Dies In West

EDMONTON, Alta., — Lt.-Col. Henry Haldane Sterns, 75, of 11031 126 Street, died at his home Sunday, March 15, 1959.

Born in Souris, Prince Edward Island, he has lived in Edmonton since 1912. During the First World War he went overseas with the 202 Battalion and served in France with the 33rd Battery, Canadian Artillery.

After the war, he organized the 92 Battery of Artillery and was in command of the 20th Brigade, CFA for three years. He was the first president of the Canadian Artillery Association residing west of Winnipeg.

Funeral services were held from the Howard and McBride chapel at 1:30 p.m. Thursday. Rev. J. W. Bainbridge officiated and burial was in the Edmonton Cemetery.

Lt.-Col. Sterns is survived by his widow; three daughters, Mrs. F.C. Whitefield of Jasper, Mrs. I. G. Green and Mrs. Z. D. Young, both of Edmonton, and one grandson, Hal Whitefield.

HOUSEWIFE'S IDEAS

Mrs. Dorothy Dew, Toronto housewife and teacher, said the industry could make its products more attractive by providing a greater quantity and selection of fresh fish.

Armand H. Mathieu, Montreal food manufacturer, proposed better merchandising and packaging, and Ward Parker, New York advertising executive, suggested an industry-financed campaign to popularize fish as a food.

Mrs. Benoit said three out of five men order fish in restaurants. But they don't get it at home because their wives won't cook it.

Most housewives complained that fish always broke up when they cooked it. It smelled up the house and it was difficult to prepare a tasty dish in a short time.

She said most Canadian women don't know how to cook frozen fish. It was up to the industry to tell them ho .

"Must thousands of young housewives and even old ones live their lives without knowing that fish comes in other ways than frozen fillets in a carton or canned in a little tin can?"

If the industry insisted on selling only frozen fillets "at least give specific instructions on your packages." There would be a lot of "sin on your side" if the industry didn't do something to teach Canadian women how to cook fish.

Mrs. Dew said frozen fillets should be separated by sheets of wax paper. Housewives now had to chop the fillets apart.

He proposed the sale of large economy cans of salmon and tuna fish for large families.

Mr. Mathieu said steps should be taken to erase the idea of eating fish only on Fridays. Canadians could be persuaded to eat fish on other days of the week.
