Statement By Railways

MONTREAL, August 2 — The following statement was issued today by the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways jointly:

"In view of the fact that meetings designed to effect settlement of the labour differences between the companies and their employees have been taking place and have been arranged to continue, the railways are surprised and disappointed by the action taken by the International Labour Organizations headed by Frank Hall and the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Workers and other transport workers headed by A. R. Mosher in announcing that the members of their unions will go on strike August 22, if a satisfactory settlement is not reached by that time.

"Before and since the recommendations of the two boards of conciliation were made known, the railways have sought a peaceful settlement of these differences. On May 1 last, they informed the Minister of Labour that 'having weighed their responsibility to the employees and to the public the railways are willing to accept the findings contained in the majority reports and are ready to negotiate a settlement on that basis.'"

"The railways stated that this undertaking would involve them in an additional expenditure of $19,225,000 a year when applied only to the employees concerned and that this cost would rise to approximately $27,000,000 a year when the benefits were applied to all employees.

"The recommendations of the conciliation boards were summarily rejected by both the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers and the international labour organizations but nonetheless the railways have continued to hold discussions with labour, and have indicated their willingness to go farther than the recommendations of the boards and give the dissident labour groups a reduction in working hours from 48 to 44 hours a week with no reduction in take home pay, thus putting them in an advantageous position in relation to industrial labour generally in Canada. This offer would cost the railways $27,000,000 a year when applied to the organized employees concerned and $37,000,000 a year when applied to all employees.

"As late as yesterday talks between the railways and the men were continuing and more are scheduled to take place later this week. Therefore, the out-of-hand announcement by the leaders of the labour groups that they have set a strike deadline for August 22nd comes not only as a shock and disappointment to the railways but seems to them to be an unfortunate method of conducting amelioratory negotiations and to show small concern for the welfare of the public or the workers which has been, and continues to be, uppermost in the railways' mind.

"Despite this unexpected action of the labour groups and having regard both to the domestic and international situation, the railways are sincere in their belief that negotiations toward a peaceful settlement of this dispute should not be abandoned."
