Traffic Tie-Up Continues On West Prince Roads

—The worst traffic tie-up of the winter continued in West Prince yesterday. Snow plows cleared the main highway through to Alberton, reaching the town about noon with very heavy going near Elmsdale. Last night three plows were working on Gordon's Hill near Huntley and were not expected to reach Tignish before noon today.

Practically all side roads remained closed to motor traffic. Snow banks in some sections are reported eight to ten feet high. It is expected to be several days before all side roads are opened.

Strasser Promises Fight For Independent Germany

By HANNS NEUERBOURG

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) Otto Strasser, onetime political crony of Hitler, returned to Germany Friday night from exile in Canada and promised "to fight for a Germany independent of the Kremlin and Wall street."

Strasser, who broke with Hitler in 1930 and lived for the last 12 years in Paradise, N. S., after fleeing Germany, told reporters his return "means a victory over the unholy alliance of Hitler, Morgenthau and Adenauer."

"These three," he said, "kept me out of Germany for the last 22 years."

Henry Morgenthau was U. S. treasury secretary and close political adviser to the late president Roosevelt.

"Morgenthau continued to block my return," Strasser said.

BUT PACTS APROVED

While in exile Strasser often expressed opposition to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's rearmament program for West Germany. Ironically, he returned home on the day Parliament completed ratifiation of the Paris treaties for rearming the country.

The 57-year-old former Nazi plans to take over the reins of the new "League for German Renewal" (Bund Fuer Deutschlands Erneuerung), a right - wing nationalist movement.

Strasser told reporters the league stands for an "armed neutrality" for Germany.

On hand to meet him at Frankfurt airport was the Hesse state chairman of the league, Wilhelm Meyer.

Strasser flew here from Dublin where he had been on a political visit after arriving in Europe a month ago.

Strasser was stripped of his German citizenship by Hitler in 1935, two years after fleeing Germany.

After breaking with Hitler, Strasser and his brother Gregor founded and led a rival "Black Front" organization until Hitler went after him. Gregor was slain by the Nazis and Strasser fled the country.

RE-ENTERS POLITICS

After the war, Strasser launched a vigorous campaign to win back his German citizenship so he could re-enter politics.

It was restored four months ago and he later was granted a German passport.

The government's long objections to his return were based on fears he would revive a form of nazism.

Strasser returned to Europe a month ago. He went to Switzerland and then to Dublin to confer with British friends in a bid for support in Britain for his right - wing league.

U. S. Lifts Ban On Greek Classic

WASHINGTON (AP)—The post office department reversed itself Friday and said it will deliver a copy of "The Lysistrata," 2,400-year-old Greek classic, to a Beverly Hills, Calif. bookseller. The department had been holding up the book as obscene.

The department's solicitor, Abe Mcgregor Goff, asked the federal district court here to throw out a suit designed to force the department to deliver the book.

"The Lysistrata" by the Athenian dramatist Aristophanes (about 411 B. C.) deals with a successful campaign by the women of Greece to end continuing warfare by denying relationships with the warriors.

The post office said it was the illustrations of this edition which led to its ban. It said "Little Red Riding Hood" could be rendered unmailable if reprinted with illustrations of the same type.

LONDON (Reuters) — Middle-aged Mrs. Francis Love Monday put in a claim for having the most "ideal husband" in Britain.

In a letter to the Evening Star, she declared that her husband:

1. Gives her breakfast in bed before going to work.
2. Lights the fires daily and polishes the floors.
3. Peels the potatoes, cooks dinner if she's away, and does the shopping.
4. Washes the dishes—and the family clothes.

"All this after 37 years of married life," Mrs. Love wrote. ". . . I suppose I can say I am lucky. Or did I bring him up the right way?"
