Adjudicators Have Praise At Music Festival Concert Here

A goodly number of music enthusiasts were present at Queen Charlotte High School last evening for the "Stars of the Festival" program, and were treated to a two-hour performance during which brief addresses were given by adjudicators.

Dr. Lloyd Shaw, chairman of the program, briefly introduced each number after welcoming the audience and thanking them for their support.

Indicative of the official's desire that the program be presented in an orderly and efficient manner was Dr. Shaw's request that "while at times you may be tempted to extend applause for an encore, you will understand that it is not advisable in view of the length of the program."

Many of the Stars were presented with certificates, awards, or prizes at the conclusion of their respective numbers. "Certificates," said Dr. Shaw, "certify that the contestant has obtained the highest marks in his or her class—they are not given unless the contestant has attained an average of 90 percent or over."

Dr. Leslie Bell, of Toronto, stated that this was his second consecutive year at the P. E. I. Music Festival Association, who presided, remarked that though the ten-day festival now concluding had at times been "hectic, and at times fraught with headaches, problems and some disappointments. . . On the other hand, the contestants offered very fine competition in friendly rivalry, and must have profited much from the remarks of the very capable adjudicators."

Referring to the festival, Mr. Bell said: "The standards of the festival have really been raised since I last adjudicated here, the contestants are playing with much more understanding. . . I wish you every success in your future efforts."

Miss Helen Yeo, who adjudicated the choral reading classes at this year's festival, noted that there had been a great deal of progress and "excellent improvement" in these classes since they were included in the festival program several years ago.

During the course of the performance, a number of awards—certificates and scholarships—were presented by members of the Association's award committee, Mrs. W.E. Massey and Mrs. K.A. Parker.

Junior Board Of Trade Meeting

The regular monthly dinner meeting of the Charlottetown Junior Board of Trade was held Thursday night at the Charlottetown Hotel, with the President Walt Wheeler in the chair.

This was a "New Members Night" and four new Jaycees were inducted into the organization in an impressive ceremony. Prior to this they took part in a couple of humorous activities designed to endear them to the hearts of their fellow Jaycees. Those inducted at last night's meeting were: Emery Melanson, Lloyd Patricken, Vince Gallant, Gordon Rogers.

Also present as a guest was former Montague Jaycee Peter Austin. Chairman of Effective Speaking and Leadership Training Committee, Elmer Blanchard outlined the program for the month ahead and gave first lesson which dealt with Parliamentary Procedure.

The minutes of past meetings were read by Secretary, Ed MacKenzie and adopted.

Short reports were presented by Don Beardsley for Ways and Means Comm.; Garth Crockett for Membership; Ian MacLeod for Teen-age Roadoe, Wendell Spencer for Safe-Driving Week.

A report of the Jayce Regional Council Meeting at Moncton given by Henry McWilliam.

Reference was made by Elmer Blanchard to the Oratorical Contest and congratulations extended to the semi-finalists.

Vice President George Scantlebury made a presentation on behalf of the Board to Gerry Birt who is leaving to reside in Sydney, N.S. A motion was passed changing the night of meeting to every second Thursday of the month. The next dinner meeting to be May 18 at which time the Oratorical Contest finals will be held. On motion the meeting adjourned.

Muskrat In City Has Cat Escort

On Thursday night a City Police patrol saw a muskrat travelling along Upper Queen Street followed at a respectful distance by three cats. It's as though the muskrat be chosen as Charlottetown's constitutional, and not Summerside, was a comment, otherwise guns might have been blazing.

Contrary to some, muskrats are not man eaters and will not attack a person. If crowded they will make short rushes at an adversary in an act of self defence.

Muskrats are perfectly harmless unless molested, according to an authority, and have been converted into pets. Incidentally the season is closed on muskrats and anyone found with one in possession is liable to a fine of not less than $5.00 or more than $100.00.

It's not unusual for muskrats to be found nesting some distance from their natural haunts during March and April. Males in particular are addicted to this habit. The season on muskrat extends from November 19th to December 31st.

Union Agrees

Continued from page 1 and other benefits. Coun. O'Neill also called to attention the fact that street sweepers and the square attendants were getting only $25.40 a week. He pointed out that the City had agreed to pay a basic rate of 70 cents per hour for labour and claimed the City was the first to break the law.

Broken Time Coun. Nicholson said these men were of the older citizen type and they had much broken time due to rainy weather. If they were paid 70 cents per hour for their actual hours of labour, he said they would in all probability be getting less than they were now receiving.

Coun. Johnstone said he would not go along with the 40 hour week. He said the difference in cost between the 40 and the 44 hour week and the 48 hour week for policemen would involve more cost than the City could afford. One point however he noted in favour of the policeman was the fact that officers have to return to testify in court on their off hours. Coun. Johnstone felt they should be entitled to a minimum of two hours pay. He said no other employee of the City was required to work outside his regular working hours without being paid for it.

Employee Dismissed Coun. Gormley said he wanted to bring to the attention of the Council what he termed the shabby treatment of an employee who dismissed one of his employees who was a member of the fire department. Coun. Gormley said the employee had volunteered for night watchman after the Co-op fire and when he took the forenoon off to catch up on some sleep, he was fired.

Mayor Stewart said it should have been a matter of his checking with his employer before he volunteered for such duty.

The Council gave ratification of the sale of debentures: One for $250,000 at 5 1/2 per cent; for $627 of the principal thereof; another for $43,250 at 5 per cent at 90.29 per cent of the principal and another for $700,000 at 5 1/2 per cent at 96.27 per cent of the principal.

The first is for permanent works; the second is for government and general improvement and the third for the City School Board to build a new school.

Results of the adjudication are as follows: Class 96 - Girls' Duet, 16 years and under: 1. Margaret McIntyre and Myrna Nicholson, N.D.A. - 84; 2. Virginia MacDougall and Patty Grant, N.D.A. and Carol MacLean, Summerside and Elizabeth Anderson, Charlottetown (tie), 83; 3. Jean and Margaret Murray, Kensington - 82.

Class 183 - Piano Duet - 16 years and under: 1. Beulah Moase and Marjorie Ireland, S'ide - 84; 2. Joan Ramsay and Hester MacPhee, S'ide - 83; 3. Jean and Margaret Murray, Kensington - 81.

Class 171 - Piano Solo, Junior Open, 17 years and under: 1. Gail E. Williams, Charlottetown - 84; 2. Marina Kays, Charlottetown - 83; 3. Elise Love, East Royalty 82.

ADJUDICATOR'S REMARKS Concerning class 96, Mr. Geen said that "all the contestants were very sincere, but of course not all with equal talents. Those with very ordinary talents may, however, with hard work, become very proficient." He also emphasized the importance of both enunciation and pronunciation.

Of class 183, the adjudicator stated that the balance between the performers was very important, and remarked that this class was very pleasing. Of class 171, he stressed that it was "very important to know the selection thoroughly, and be able to think through the selection, as well as to appreciate the spirit of the pieces."

Officials were - Platform Secretary, Mrs. G. MacLean; Chairman, Dr. L.W. Shaw.

Class 146 - School Chorus, a 7 grades: 1. Queen Charlotte High School, City - 87; 2. Rochford Square School, City, 86.

REMARKS OF ADJUDICATORS In class 44, the adjudicators said it featured "lovely, spirited singing." Class 46, Dr. Bell described as "lovely-but we would have preferred a stronger performance with action and a cumulative flow. Musically, the choirs were very sweet with a lovely tone." Class 42, the adjudicator described as having "a nice, smooth blend," and class 147 as "a pleasing folk-song, well thought out by the choir. There were some thrilling notes, but some words did not come through properly-sometimes the tone was lost in the crescendo."

"Sing it as a song, rather than a waltz," the adjudicator advised contestants in class 144, adding "the humming passages were lovely, but at times the choir lost pitch. However, there was nice flexibility in the voices."

Class 131 was described as "good basic singing for 13 eese grades," and in class 132, Dr. Bell stressed the rhythm factor, advising the youthful participants to "find a central goal in the song and establish it-the right tempo is very important."

Class 133, the point emphasized by the adjudicator was that "the melody must be secure, as the descant is merely to add to the brilliance." Dr. Bell thought the singers in class 133 should not be feeling into the song, as it was sung a little too gently with not enough expression. He said it was "a good chorus, but just a little refined." In class 145, the choirs were said to be "very close in a charming musical blending, for it had a musical inter-nice shading, and neat phrasing."

BY: P. R. McCORMAC

Time was when spring cleaning was as much a ritual around the average household as, say, Christmas dinner, or going to church on Easter Sunday.

Things have changed since then, and the change has been so gradual that I'll bet many of you haven't even noticed it.

But I'm sure if you took a survey of housewives across the nation, you'd find that the majority no longer make a big thing out of spring cleaning as such; although I think homes today are cleaner on the average, the year round, than they used to be.

I don't think it's the difference in housewives so much as the difference in the cleaning appliances they have to work with these days.

It's easier and more practical to do a little cleaning at a time.

But there's just one danger in this new approach as I see it. And that is, with house cleaning on more or less a week-to-week basis, some women might be more inclined to forget that some things that are rarely cleaned at home—such as drapes, for example—definitely need regular cleaning attention at least once, and better still, twice a year.

If you've been in the habit of busting through the house with a vacuum cleaner regularly, stop and ask yourself how long it is since you last had your drapes cleaned.

In spite of the respect and admiration I have for the modern homemaker, I wouldn't be at all surprised if there were quite a few housewives in town here who would have to admit to themselves, at least that their drapes are overdue for a good dry cleaning.
