CHURCH WORK IN NEW YORK.

A PREROGATIVE of the recent meeting of the Diocesan Church Society, of this Province, a few facts and statistics, taken from an article in Munsey's Magazine for February, concerning Church work in New York may be of general interest. The writer says that the Protestant Episcopal Church in the city of New York is not only the most numerous, the wealthiest and the most socially powerful, but it has very marked peculiarities of its own; and he instances St. Bartholomew's. "Its motive power," he says, "is the Spirit of Jesus Christ,—Jesus living in a vast city whose people are gathered from all the world, doing his work of comfort, guidance, healing and instruction, by the aid of His disciples; but Himself the same, yesterday, today, and forever. Take away this Divine power, and the whole parish work would stop." The centre of it is the parish church, with its direct worship of God, its sacraments, sermons and pastoral administrations. In the church and chapels connected with it there are religious services in some five or six foreign languages. There is the Swedish Mission, the Oriental Mission, the Chinese Guild, the German Mission. They all have the same motive power. But the motive power is not simply to be looked at,—it moves, and all these missions are pushing, pulling, restraining, steadying, in innumerable ways. There are large Sunday schools with an ample staff of teachers, giving instruction in almost every language spoken in New York, including Chinese. Nobody is obliged to attend religious services; no one gets any material privileges by doing so. There is not the slightest temptation to hypocrisy in this direction. Yet the congregations and Sunday classes are large, even to overflowing; and the dominant religious motive gives a high moral tone to the whole work. The pastoral staff of clergy are at the command of everybody. The very poorest are in no way overlooked. But there is no pauperizing. What is desired and achieved is the promotion of self-respect and self-reliance. The Girls Club affords a good illustration. It privileges are, use of clubroom and library, access to the large hall every evening after nine o'clock, physical culture classes, lectures, glee club, literature class, penny provident and mental benefit clubs, classes in dress-making, millinery, cooking, embroidery, stenography, typewriting, etc. The classes, seem to be full, with many waiting admission when any vacancy may occur.

There are similar advantages for men—tailoring, printing, and so on—all obtained on payment of an exceedingly small fee. There is a loan association; there is an employment bureau; both for men and women; there is St. Bartholomew's Clinic, with its medical and surgical advice and attention; and this is not nearly the full list. The work done by St. Bartholomew's is typical of that which is done in other Episcopal churches in New York. Of course the church expenditures are large. That of St. Bartholomew's amounts to $171,559; Grace $112,582; St. Thomas $93,559; St. Georges, $80,552; Ascension $62,724; St. Michael's $25,926,—not to speak of Trinity, one of the largest, and many other smaller churches.

ON BOARD S. S. MISTO,
February 7th.

"We as passengers on board "S. S. Misto" desire to say that in our opinion this boat is admirably adapted for the work for which she was built. In ten inch green ice, she to-day travelled at a good pace, surpassing, we believe, anything the "Stanley" could have done, and we are of the opinion that in heavy ice she will give a good account of herself under the skilful management of that noble officer, Captain Allan Fialayson.

Benjamin Rogers, L. E. Prowse,
James S. Grey, Robert L. Mellish,
E. J. Anderson, R. H. Cameron,
D. A. McKinnon, Wm. Richards,
D. Farquharson, L. G. Wheat,
P. J. Quinn, J. C. Rhude,
F. Hyde, Master Mariner,
Richard Stockman,
J. W. Robinson."

We copy this from the Patriot. It is pleasing to hear upon such excellent authority that we are to have some value in The Misto for the immense sum of money expended upon her.

But The Patriot does not attempt to estimate the additional advantages accruing to the people of this province and Canada at large on account of the possession of The Misto,—seeing that The Stanley is tied up at the wharf! Nor does The Patriot, nor do the gentlemen whose names are attached to the certificate, refer to the reported order for a new slide valve for a costly new vessel upon which something less than $10,000 were expended after her arrival in Charlottetown last fall.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—Rev. Dr. Pope, of St. John, died yesterday. He was very well known in Charlottetown, having resided here as pastor of Prince Street Methodist Church for a number of years.

—Referring to Tarte's claim to be an Imperial Federationist, the Montreal Star says: "A darkie caught in a hen-coop might as well announce himself a member of the Good Government Club."

—Mr. John D. Bell, of Montague, P. E. Island, writes the Star protesting against the use of the word "English" in the affairs of the Empire, and pointing out that the term "British" would more aptly represent the forces and agencies employed in the work of carrying the flag in the vanguard of civilization. Mr. Bell cites the heroism and sacrifice of Scots in the Black Watch on the field of Magersfontein; points out that "our best generals" are not English, such, for instance, as Wolsley, Roberts and Balfour. Moreover, we are under the flag and loyal to a British Queen. "Let," concludes Mr. Bell, "the rose of England, the Shamrock of Ireland and the Lion of Scotland (which is a true emblem of the latter) be blended together for the enduring welfare of the British nation. The Home of the Brave, and the Pride of the Free."

CARD!

To the Electors of Ward 4.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—At the solicitation of a large number of the electors of Ward Four, I have nominated as a candidate for the election, on Wednesday next. I confidently appeal for your support on my record, as Chairman of the Finance Committee for the past two years. I have not made a personal canvass, as I believe the electors will exercise their franchise for the candidates they think best suited to conduct the business of the city.

As the debt of the city, when the sewers are completed, will be over $500,000 I am opposed to any further addition to that debt without first consulting the citizens at a public meeting called for the purpose.

Yours truly
SIMON W. CRABBE.

LOVE'S ETERNITY.

Silently, steadily, slowly,
Snowflakes are falling adown the sky,
Filling the Earth with their beauty and brightness,
Petals they are of rare, radiant whiteness,
Wafted from flowers that blossom on high.

Silently, steadily, sweetly,
Love finds its way to the human heart,
Filling the soul with such exquisite gladness,
That even sorrow is left of its sadness,
By the sweet power that love doth impart.

Silently, steadily, surely,
Snowflakes will vanish and melt away,
Spring time advancing—but tho' they surrender
Love that is deep, that is true, that is tender,
Lives and endureth forever and aye.
M. MARTIN.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Sir,—If we have a law in this city to protect animals from cruelty I fear it is a dead letter. Cases of gross cruelty occur daily on our streets and squares and no notice is taken of them. I do not believe it is possible for us to escape some very unpleasant consequences to ourselves if we fail to protect animals from abuse and wrong.

On Wednesday, going along Prince Street, I saw a horse tied to a telephone post shivering with cold, being in an exposed place, with no blanket. I stood a while to see if anyone had charge and not seeing any I walked around several blocks until I came again in site of the horse which was still tied in the same place. How long he was there before I saw him I cannot tell.

Now here was a case of gross cruelty, and it is by no means unusual; but if any one were to attempt to rescue the animal he would be fined. We have no simple, workable law that everyone can understand. The citizens are run down on our streets by rude, careless, drivers, and the police seem powerless to check the evil.

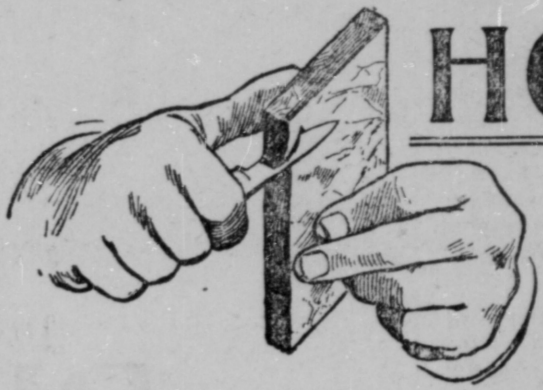

In my opinion it would not be difficult to devise a law to put an effectual stop to much of the cruelty to animals we see on our streets. If it were enacted that every horse in the city should have a number on some part of the harness large enough to be seen easily and that some person were appointed before whom information could be laid and some stiff penalty attached for violation we would have something to work on, but as it is now, there is no chance. It might not be amiss for clergy or teachers to refer occasionally to the subject. It is important to enlist the boys in a strong body to protect animals from wrong.
