PRETTY WEDDING PARTY.

Reception at North Tryon in Honor of the Happy Couple.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. John's Church, St. Elanors' on Wednesday evening, June 15th, when Miss Lucy Marion Mills, daughter of Hubert Mills, Esq. was joined in marriage with Mr. George Amos McWilliams, of North Tryon, by Rev. J. M. Wilthycombe.

The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of cream-colored cashmere, and was attended by her sister, Miss Annie Mills, and her cousin, Miss Janet Tanton, while Mr. Gordon M. Lean, of Tryon, supported the groom. Mr. Albert Tanton and Mr. A. C. Crawford acted as ushers.

The ceremony being ended the bridal party with the guests drove to the home of the bride's parents where a repast was partaken of which could only have been prepared by connoisseurs of the culinary art. The beauty and value of the numerous presents showed that the bride and groom were held in high esteem by their friends. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful brooch set with pearls. After spending a very pleasant evening the happy couple started for their future home in Tryon accompanied by the best wishes of their friends.

RECEPTION.

A grand reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Muirhead, of North Tryon, on the following evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams. Quite a number of young ladies and young gentlemen representing the elite of Summerside Society drove down and were joined by others from Tryon, Cape Traverse, Crisp and Hampton all knowing that their entertainment at Mr. Muirhead's would be par excellence. The time was most pleasantly spent in dancing, music, singing and conversation, and the refreshments provided could not fail to satisfy the epicurean. At a late hour the entertainment was brought to a close, and the guests departed after thanking their kind host and hostess for their pleasant entertainment, and wishing Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams happiness unalloyed.

BORACIC ACID INJURIOUS.

The following is taken from the St. John Globe:

It is said boracic acid is being used by some of our lobster packers. The law in England is very stringent as to the use of adulterants. If such are found it means a total confiscation of the goods. The following from an English paper regarding boracic acid may prove of interest:

Boracic acid in butter still remains one of the burning questions of the day. The authorities in the country are carrying forward their prosecutions with considerable vigor. In Birmingham last week a co-operative society was summoned for selling butter containing the acid to the extent of 70 grains per pound equal to 1 per cent. The attackers' medical witness plainly said that the acid was injurious to health; it was not like salt, a natural ingredient of the human body, but was a foreign element. According to this medical witness boracic acid induced kidney complaints, indigestion and skin disorders; it also was a "cardiac depressant." Mr. Chamberlain's brother was one of the magistrates, and the case went against the retailer. The case is valuable, as the report gives a full and clear exposition of the argument of the folk who maintain that this kind of preservative is harmful. Supposing that a person ate one half pound of butter per week, with boracic acid to the extent of 70 grains per pound in it, he would then consume 5 grains per day, which amount the doctors say is injurious to health.

Mr. George Johnson, Dominion statistician, Ottawa, will ere long begin preparation for the big task of arranging for the Dominion census of 1901, much of the material for which is prepared in the preceding year. The actual enumeration of the population takes place in 1901. Mr. Johnson anticipates that the result will show an increase of population of about twenty-two per cent.
