Island Finals Near End

THE ISLAND Senior Hockey League finals are about over and Sandy's Royals, the heavy pre-season favorites, seem certain to represent this province in Maritime playdowns.

We do not think the Evinrudes or their supporters are going to find too much fault with this speculation. They trail in the best-of-nine series four games to zero and any hopes they had are all but wiped out. Next Tuesday night should finish the whole affair and Royals are almost certain to receive the Maritime Central Airways trophy on that night.

After two close battles with the Frizzellmen, the Evinrudes reverted to their earlier season form and lost by lopsided scores in games three and four. For the first five minutes of Thursday's contest, they actually outplayed the Royals but it was the last gasp of the night. After that the Royals ran wild on the Cape lads as fans witnessed the shabbiest game of the entire season.

NOW DON'T get us wrong right at the start. We aren't trying to belittle these Evinrudes. After all they ousted the defending champions, the Old Spain Penguins, in the semi-finals. Not only did they oust them but they took four straight contests after dropping the opener. If you're suggesting that we are poking fun at the Evinrudes then what must we think of those Penguins.

No, we just think the Royals are too good for anybody in this league. The Cape's style of play may have bothered them for a couple of games but after that things came mighty easy.

We aren't going to try that old stuff about Evinrudes thinking they still have a chance. We know well they have no such foolish notions. Neither have we. However, the formalities must be gone through on Tuesday next to make everything legal.

But even then, Edgar Cannon and his boys can look back with satisfaction on a good season. The fact that they made the finals against the Royals surely has given them and their hundreds of supporters much about which to rejoice. A few faces were blushing when this series became a reality and those blushes were on the faces of Penguins and Crystals' players.

Mulligan To Royals

PLAYING coach Roy 'Buck' Whitlock has informed us that if his team goes against Saint John Oilers, they will pick up Penguins' great playmaker, Billy Mulligan.

This didn't surprise us one bit. We weren't sure whether the Royals would strengthen or not but we figured Mulligan would be number one on their list if they decided to do so.

Billy was a big star in the series with Oilers last March when the Penguins sidelined the New Brunswickers. He always plays his heart out and keeps digging all the time. Nobody has a better appreciation of his values than 'Buck' who has played against Billy so many times.

We're sure Billy will be a big help to the Royals' cause as they go hunting for more honors.

Tough Luck Gord

IT WAS surely regrettable that Gord Cutcliffe suffered that painful injury just above the eye in Thursday's game at The Sports Arena.

It was a puck that nailed the Evinrudes' playing coach and sent him to the 'repair shop' where Dr. Killorn put something like 15 stitches in it to close the wound.

Gord is surely a hard luck guy. Last season in playoffs he was sidelined with a broken ankle. However, he was back this season playing better hockey than ever.

We don't know of any guy who has been more valuable to his club than Gord. He has played in practically every Evinrudes' game and was always dangerous every time he got hold of the rubber.

We don't know whether Gord will return to action Tuesday night. He was thinking of playing in the second and third periods Thursday after the stitching was completed but a lot of well wishers, including manager Edgar Cannon, advised Cutcliffe not to take the chance.

A truly great competitor, this Mr. Cutcliffe.

SPORT OF KINGS

Columnist Claims Kings Never Got Its Fair Share

Souris Legion have won the first round in are Intermediate "B" playoff round. They have two games to play, but the outcome of these games will not make any difference one way or the other. These games are against Montague and Murry Harbour. Their next series will be the Island semi-finals, probably against Parkdale.

Souris and Parkdale met twice during the past season. The first game was halted half way through the third period due to the rough play, with Parkdale leading. At the time, Souris was making a spirited comeback, and quite possibly might have won. The second game ended in victory for the locals. If these two teams should meet, it should be quite a struggle, but we'll have to give the edge to Souris, and entry into the finals for the second year in a row.

All games in the King's County playoffs have been close. The best thing about winning, as far as Souris is concerned is the fact that, as yet, they have not unleashed their full scoring punch. Some noted scorers such as Reg. Peters, Jim MacIntosh, and Fan MacIntyre have done little or no scoring to date, and are bound to start any time.

Morell High School defeated Souris High School in two straight games to win the King's County High School "B" championship. The first game was a ragged affair with the Souris team seemingly not to know at times what they were doing on the ice. The second game was a real thriller with the outcome undecided until the final whistle. Morell will now advance in Island playoffs.

Morell Meteors were hurt badly in their first round playoffs by the three game suspension of Gerald MacCarten. According to the reports we received he was given a minor penalty early in the first period. He refused to accept the referees decision, with the result that he was given a match misconduct. The next day the Morell team were informed that he was suspended for three more games. Now, we are not questioning the fact that a player must obey the referees, but we think that throwing him out of the game was sufficient, and that the suspension was unnecessary. Especially in view of the fact that we saw no official release from the people that meted out the suspension.

GEORGETOWN BEEF

Georgetown also has a beef in this department. Here's the story as we were told it by officials from the Eagles team, and backed up by the other referee in the game concerned. During a Montague-Georgetown game, a Montague player informed the referee that he was tripped, and demanded a Georgetown penalty. The referee concerned issued a penalty to one of the Georgetown players who politely inquired as to how the referee could asses a penalty when he did not see the play.

The referee's reply was that if the player would report to the office between periods the referee would show him the rule in the book where he had such authority. The player then went to the penalty box and between periods visited the referee, who informed him that unless he returned immediately to his dressing room he would be thrown out of the game. This the player did. Next day word was received that the player was suspended for two games. The referee not involved in the ruckus backs up the Georgetown team in this and stated that the Eagle team was unfairly penalized. No official word was released on this suspension either.

To carry this protesting business a little further, word has been received in Souris, unofficially, of course, that the main reason why some of the Open Events for girls, for the Island Ice Sports, has been eliminated was that the girls from Souris dominated the scene too much last year. Guess the major centres can't stand it when they lose, so the proper steps were made to correct the situation. Because of the girl's showing last winter, Souris finished on top at the Meet.

The King's County Meet was held in Georgetown this year, with the Souris Schools, led by the girls, coming out on top. Souris finished with more firsts, seconds, and thirds than any other school. The end result is that Souris will probably be favored to win top honors at the Island meet again this year. Probably if they do, all open events for girls will be forbidden to the girls from Souris.

We may have been a little harsh in some of our statements, however we have always felt that King's County have never got their fair shake when it comes to Island sports activities, from here on, we shall always be ready to carry the ball to see any unfairness corrected. If the Physical Education dept. wishes to make any statements concerning the suspensions or the charges brought forward by Souris school sport followers then we'll be only to happy to read such statements and try to be impartial to their reasonings.

2 City Rinks In Running For Legion Curling Crown

ALBERTON — The Royal Canadian Legion provincial bonspiel goes into its final round this morning with only two rinks in the running for the Gooderham and Worts and Moosehead trophies, emblematic of the championship.

Four rinks received their second defeats and consequent elimination yesterday leaving two Charlottetown rinks to battle this morning for the championship.

In the first round At. MacDonald's Montague rink was defeated 16-9 by Bert Hunter of Summerside and Earl Cannon of Summerside lost to Danny O'Rourke of Charlottetown.

The afternoon games provided plenty of excitement for the "behind the glass" curlers as two undefeated rinks, G. Stewart (C) and P. Sinclair (M) played a close game that was tied on four occasions following a dead first end. Victory finally went to Stewart giving his rink their third win in the three-day bonspell.

In the final round last night D. O'Rourke (C) and Peter Sinclair (M) fought to a tied score with O'Rourke taking the extra end for a hard earned victory and entry into the finals this morning against the second Charlottetown rink skipped by G. Stewart. A win by O'Rourke would require a further game to decide championship rink.

Saskatchewan Unbeaten In Winning Curling Title

By KEITH KINCAID

HALIFAX (CP) — Saskatchewan swept undefeated to the Canadian schoolboy curling championship Friday although a scrappy Quebec rink almost spoiled their bid for an unblemished record.

Mike Lukowich's powerful foursome from Speers, Sask., clinched the crown in the 10th round Friday afternoon with a 12-4 victory over Northern Ontario, but then was forced into extra ends in the 11th and final round in the evening before edging Quebec 7-6.

The Quebec game, however, had no bearing on first place in the round-robin tournament. Saskatchewan's 10 victories had given it too big a lead over second - place British Columbia which ended with eight wins and two losses.

OTHER RESULTS

In other games in the final round defending champion B.C., skipped by John Munro of Salmon Arm, went an extra end to beat Prince Edward Island 9-7, Manitoba beat New Brunswick 11-5, Alberta defeated Northern Ontario 9-6, and Nova Scotia beat Ontario 9-8.

The champions were presented the Pepsi-Cola Trophy by President Frank MacIntosh of Pepsi-Cola of Canada, Limited.

Western Canada teams dominated the final standings. In third place was Manitoba with seven wins and three losses, followed by Alberta with six and four.

Quebec and Nova Scotia were tied for fifth with five wins and five losses, New Brunswick and Ontario were 4-6, Northern Ontario and Prince Edward Island were 3-7, and Newfoundland, badly outclassed, was winless in 10 starts.

MADE IT CLOSE

Quebec made the last game a hair-raiser. By the end of the fifth they led 5-1 and Saskatchewan showed no signs of coming to life, However, they scored doubles in the seventh and eighth, gave away one in the ninth, and tied it up in the 10th when Lukowich took out Quebec's shot, rolled out himself but still had enough in the house to count one.

In the extra end Saskatchewan switched to a draw game and got the counter in behind two guards. Quebec's last rock hit the spot but didn't move it enough.

Both B.C. and Manitoba had a mathematical chance to catch Saskatchewan going into Friday's rounds. Both would have had to win their remaining games and count on Saskatchewan losing both its. The win over Northern Ontario scrubbed their chances. After 10 rounds, B.C. was 7-2 and Manitoba 6-3.

GO EXTRA END

In other games in round 10 Alberta was forced to an extra end before edging Manitoba 8-7, Quebec beat Prince Edward Island 9-4, Nova Scotia beat New Brunswick 9-8, and Ontario hung a 13-4 defeat on Newfoundland, which was outclassed all through the 11 - draw round-robin.

Saskatchewan coach Percy Scott said his shot-makers were confident of taking the crown after they defeated Manitoba 6-5 in a nip-and-tuck ninth-round battle Thursday.

"We were believed after that one, although New Brunswick and Nova Scotia also gave us close games."

To the fans Saskatchewan appeared confident all the way through and, except for occasions during the Manitoba game it appeared they were never forced to go all out.

This year is the third Speers has represented Saskatchewan in the Canadian finals. In 1959 they finished well down the standings, but last year, under 18-year-old Lukowich's steady shot-calling, they showed an improved 7-3 record.

STARTED AS CHILD

Lukowich is a poised 18-year old who has been curling since he was six. Playing with him are his 15-year-old brother, Eddie, David Moore, 16, both in their third year with the rink, and 16-year-old Doug McLeod, playing his second season.

The champions played a typically western knockout game, resorting to draws—and they were good at it—only when forced to. They wasted no time and their games were usually the first completed.

Northern Ontario, given little chance to upset Saskatchewan's drive towards the title, made things close when it narrowed Saskatchewan's margin to one rock in the sixth, but the champions salted it away with five in the next end.

The closest game in round 10 was the Alberta-Manitoba contest. Brian Taylor's Edmonton foursome rolled up a 6-1 margin by the end of five. Manitoba pecked away and tied it up in the 10th when Alberta's last draw stopped short of Manitoba's shot. Alberta, with last rock in the extra end, took out Manitoba's counter and stuck for one.

Memo from your Master Feeds Dealer:
Top Layers don't just happen — they're the result of breed, management and feed!
Feed is only one element in the success of the top producing flock. But it is a very important one!
Without the proper nutrients the best-bred laying hen cannot realize her full potential.
Master Complete Layer is the result of the broader experience, greater care and more extensive development that goes into all Master poultry feeds. It has been painstakingly formulated and tested to give you more eggs for your feed dollar.
