The warriors returned to Europe with new concepts of travel and exploration, new maps and mapping techniques, new medicines, new tools and other influences that were to become important in Western culture.

Provincial Responsibility

The Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion has done well to bring before the Provincial Government the need for financial provision in the training and education of retarded children. For some time past the Charlottetown branch has been sponsoring training classes for a number of these children; and from all accounts good work is being done. But no organization or group of interested persons can be expected to expand the work to its maximum efficiency and coverage on a Provincial basis. This, clearly, is a Provincial responsibility and an important one. Our people will be glad to know that Premier Matheson and the members of his Council are aware of it and anxious to do whatever is possible respecting it.

As the Premier has pointed out, it is first of all necessary to obtain statistical information on which a policy can be built. This ought to present no difficulty, especially in view of the Legion's proximity to assist in making the survey. We feel that no member of the Legislature and no citizen of the Province would begrudge the amount necessary to set up an effective program.

Welfare Appeal

The Protestant Family Service Bureau is making an appeal this week for funds with which to carry on its humanitarian activities. Its first eleven months of operation, this organization dealt with 135 cases involving 72 families, 30 individuals and 206 children. The cases had to do with family and marriage counselling, budget financing, alcoholic problems, wife desertion, unmarried mothers, financial home and foster home applications, supplementary assistance, aged clients, etc.

The agency has as one of its greatest needs more suitable foster homes in the Quebec County area. It has received encouraging help from church groups and individuals, but there are many who apparently do not appreciate the gravity of the problems with which it is dealing. The list of activities, cited above, shows the nature of the services and how important it is that the appeal now being made should receive generous public response.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The question of who is causing the friction on the Turkish-Syrian frontier has been answered by Syria's refusal to accept Saudi-Arabian mediation of the dispute and by Turkish consent to the proposal. If they had nothing to hide, it would seem that the Syrians would be only too glad to accept the offer, especially when it was made by a friendly neighbour.

The Canadian Tourist Association thinks that a number of tipping would attract a large number of Americans. It might have that effect. On the other hand, it is possible that not even a larger number who are accustomed to tipping on a large scale in their own country would be so shocked at the innovation that they would never come back again.

The Swedish Government is said to be facing difficulties and probably a premature election over opposition demands for an increase in old age pensions. This is an issue which seems to be coming to the forefront in more than one country. It is of course, of some importance; but it would certainly mark a radical departure in political processes if it were to become the sole reason for making and breaking governments.

When Queen Elizabeth paid tribute to the leaders of the Revolution she was only following the precedent set in 1799, when all the flags of the British Navy went to half-mast at the news that George Washington was dead. And almost 100 years ago her great-grandfather, Edward VII, visiting the United States as Prince of Wales, made pilgrimage to Mount Vernon and laid a wreath on George Washington's tomb.

Liberal Leadership Race

Cabinet Ministers are said to be behind Mr. Pearson too. Campbell's are coming with Irish and French blood predominating but with two of Campbell's unrelated among his grandsons on his mother's and his mother's side respectively. You cannot keep the S.C.'s in order, they pop up all over Canada.

Mr. Martin has many supporters for the leadership, who cry out in indignation against his suggestion that "French" and "English" must alternate as leaders. Anybody that asks "who is Ontario-born?" with the true Canadian blood of bloods.

Fearful Symbol Of Red Power

The Turks have a new and ugly worry, now that Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky has come to live beside them. It would be hard to find a more feared symbol of Russian power than the 80-year-old warhorse, stepped in combat and Red power.

Heart Disease And Life Span

By Herman N. Braden, M.D. It may seem paradoxical, but the fact that more persons are now dying of heart disease is actually an indication of medical progress.

CAUSE OF DEATH

In 1956, these diseases caused 40 per cent of the deaths in the United States. In 1950, only one-third.

How can we boast of medical progress in the face of these statistics? The simple explanation is that heart disease is chiefly an affliction of age.

HEALTH PROBLEM

As a result, heart disease has become a major health problem. Right now an estimated 5,000,000 Americans are suffering from heart disease.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

C.B.: While she was sick recently, I was told that my 3-year-old daughter had severe convulsions. Will they recur?

Answer: In most cases, convulsions following fever do not recur unless the fever is allowed to climb to a high level.

NOTES BY THE WAY

The general belief that fat people are jollier than thin ones may be an erroneous conclusion based on the fact that fat people jiggle more when they laugh.

It is said that all men may have been created equal, but the clothing manufacturers are making a big mistake if they do not make the same size appl's to ladies.

Even Ottawa's maple product expert D'Arcy McGee must have been a little startled when he found on presenting his credentials as Canadian Ambassador to Israel he was accompanied by a guard of Honor of handsome Israeli soldiers bearing tommy-guns.
