LETTER FROM MAJOR WEEKS.

and was perhaps not so widely acquainted. I personally saw and overlooked the fitting up of the graves of Taylor and Riggs. They are covered with stones and surrounded by a wire fence. Suitable crosses are erected bearing their names.

After the surrender we advanced our camp beyond the Boer laager and camping ground, and remained at Osontein a few days. We were suddenly ordered to advance against the enemy who had come down upon us from the north east. We were to begin the march before daylight against the Boer night, while our other forces attached the left. This was still along the Modder River by which the Boers occupied strong positions. They also held some kopjes. On seeing our approach on their right flank, the Boers retired without firing in our direction. We had no occasion to fire either. As the Boers retired we were all ordered to follow up. We did so till dusk when we arrived at Poplar Grove. Here we slept on the ground without cover, our great coats, etc., having been left behind with the transport wagons. It was a cold night, and we shivered till nearly daylight, when our blankets and coats arrived. We remained there next day, and on Sunday morning, the 17th March, started for Bloemfontein. After four days' weary tramping under a scorching sun, we arrived on the 15th. The enemy offered no resistance to our occupation of Bloemfontein: We are encamped outside the town and very few are allowed in the city at a time. I was in yesterday afternoon for a short time.

It is a beautiful city. President Steyn's late residence is a beautiful place. There are many other lovely private houses. All the people speak English; the store signs are all in English; the hotels have all English names. Everything in the shops is expensive; about three times the price we would pay at home is demanded.

I do not think we will be here much longer. The general opinion is that we leave for home in two or three weeks.

It is a long time since I have heard from Charlottetown, and I have not received any papers for the same time, and have no idea of what is going on there. I have no doubt the people of Charlottetown have been somewhat anxious about the regiment, so far removed as we from our base of supplies. Our rations were sometimes very small. The men particularly suffered from want of food and water.

We are all more hopeful now. You can tell Mayor Warburton that the Christmas boxes sent to the men of "G" Company have been last traced to Modder River and we are in hopes of receiving them before long.

We get no news of the doings of our other forces till we read of them in the Cape papers. Remember me kindly to all inquiring friends. The mail is just going.

DR. GAUTHIER ENDORSES

The statement that Mr. Major owes his life to . . . DR. CHASE'S Kidney Liver Pills

Dr. J. T. A. Gauthier, of Valleyfield, Que., writes: "I, the undersigned, certify that the contents of this letter, in regard to the cure of Mr. Isadore Major, by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, is correct."

Here is Mr. Major's letter: "After 20 years of suffering from backache and kidney disease I owe my life to Dr. A. W. Chase. I had tried an endless variety of remedies to no avail, and on the recommendation of a friend began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Two pills that night and two next morning gave great relief, and I continued their use until now I am completely cured. My friends are surprised and pleased to see me well again, for I spent hundreds of dollars in vain trying to get cured. Before using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills my back ached so I could not put on my shoes and couldn't lift so lbs. My shoulders were sore, I had headaches and a bad taste in the mouth. These troubles are now entirely gone and what I say I am ready to prove. I have told my friends of my wonderful cure, and many have been greatly benefited by using these pills."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the greatest kidney cure the world has ever known. One pill a dose, 25c. a box at all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

MRS. F. PARKER CARVELL

Needed in His Business.

"I've decided," said the dignified old man, "to let you have that young Britely after all if you are positive that you can't be happy without him."

"Oh, father," the beautiful girl cried, "you don't know how happy you have made me! Now I can see the gates of paradise opening. Dear, dear, good, old papa! Let me kiss you for those sweet words! Oh, I can hardly wait to fly to him and tell him the glorious news. He will be so glad! We shall all be so happy now. It seems almost like a lovely dream! I can hardly believe that I am awake! But, tell me, what has made you change your mind? Yesterday when I tried to plead for him you said you would never permit us to see each other again. Ah, if you had known how those words bruised my heart! What has happened, father, to make you relent?"

He kissed her fondly and then, with tears in his eyes, replied:
"I sat in a little game of poker where he happened to have a hand last night, and if we don't get that money back in the family some way my business is going to suffer."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Afraid to Bid.

At an auction sale of miscellaneous goods at a country store the auctioneer put up a buggy robe of fairly good quality. An old farmer inspected it closely, seemed to think there was a bargain in it, and yet he hesitated to bid.

"Think it cheap?" asked the auctioneer, crying a 10 cent bid.

"Yes, kinder," was the reply.

"Then why don't you bid and get it?"

"Waal, I've bought heaps o' things in dry goods and so on," slowly rejoined the old man, "and I never yet took home anything that the old woman thought was worth the price. If I get that 'ere robe for even 15 cents, she'd grab it up, pull at one end, chaw on a corner and call out: 'Cheated again! More'n half cotton!' That's the reason I don't bid."—Ohio State Journal.
