

Medals, Awards Given By Hero Commission

PITTSBURGH (CP) — Three men who helped rescue a trapped miner in British Columbia, an Ottawa man who saved a janitor from a fire and a 12-year-old Campbellford Ont. boy who rescued another lad from the Trent River are among 25 persons given medals and cash awards by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission. The awards in recognition of acts of bravery were made here during the commission's 50th annual meeting. The award winners are: George J. Prestler, 29, a shop foreman who saved his minner from Britannia Beach, B.C. who now lives in Cadillac, Mich., silver medal and $500; John Johnson, 49, Britannia Beach mine shift boss, bronze medal and $500; and Dr. Ronnie C. Flather, 26, of Surrey, B.C., bronze medal and $500, all for their part in the rescue at Britannia Beach of minor Heinrich W. Wenzel Nov. 1, 1960. Douglas S. B. Ellis, 12, of Campbellford for his rescue of eight-year-old Paul G. Irwin, June 19, 1960; and John Nelson, Carroll, 23, of Ottawa, a fireman who saved his

Winter Data From Canada Suggested By British Peer

By DOUGLAS MARSHALL LONDON (CP)—A conservative peer suggests it's about time British sought help from Canada and other northern countries for ways to deal with winter. Lord Mancroft, a former minister without portfolio, has tabled a question in the House of Lords about "the tendency of abnormal weather in this country to become annually more normal." He asks if "the government will inquire of the appropriate authorities in Sweden, Switzerland and Canada how they manage to prevent their transport and other public services grinding to a standstill as soon as the weather in winter becomes wintry." Britain's current cold spell, with average temperatures five degrees below freezing, has already lasted 33 days and brought two heavy blizzards. It is the sharpest taste of winter the country has had since 1947. Train failures, blocked pipes, dangerous road conditions, flooding and gas-main explosions are becoming a normal part of daily life—hardly worth a mention in newspapers. Train failures, blocked pipes, flooding and gas-main explosions are becoming a normal part of daily life—hardly worth a mention in newspapers. Voltage reductions in electrical power are common and most outdoor construction work has stopped. Domestic gas is rationed during non-peak periods in London. GAS RATIONED As usual the plight of animals—waterless swans and hungry deer—is receiving almost as much attention as householders shivering in heatless rooms. One major grievance is the inability of councils to mobilize equipment for clearing snow and slush from side roads. Mounds of snow accumulate in gutters to form what the more enterprising rural coun- PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Reading railroad commuter train plowed into the back end of another one at a mid-city station Monday, and a surgeon says the weather is likely to become still colder and the taken to hospitals, most of them for treatment of slight injuries.
