THE HEAL-ALL.
Dear blossom of the wayside kin,
Whose homely, wholesome name,
Tells of a potency within,
To win these country fame.
The sterile hillocks are thy home,
Beside the windy path;
The sky, a pale and lonely dome,
Is all thy vision hath.
Thy unobtrusive purple face
Amid the meagre grass
Greets me with long-remembered grace,
And cheers me as I pass.
And I, outworn by petty care,
And vexed with trivial wrong,
I heed thy brave and joyous air
Until my heart grows strong.
A blessing from the Power I crave
That moves in thee and me,
That makes thee modest, calm and brave,
Me restless as the sea.
Thy simple wisdom I would gain—
To heal the hurt life brings
With kindly cheer, and faith in pain,
And joy of common things.

A REMARKABLE MIRAGE.

Kingston Distinctly Seen at Oswego—Everything Reflected.

Just before the sun sank to rest in the blue waters of Ontario last night persons along the lake front and from lower bridge witnessed one of the most beautiful and rarest phenomena witnessed in this climate—a mirage. It was first discovered shortly after 7 o'clock. The Duck and Gallou is and the entrance to Kingston harbor, the masts of vessels, and what appeared to be buildings like fortifications hung suspended in the sky.

It was a remarkable picture and was witnessed for more than half an hour by hundreds of people, and then gradually faded away. Records of such phenomena are not kept, and data regarding them on Lake Ontario are not to be had. That of last evening, however, is said to have been the clearest and most distinct seen in many years from Oswego. A mirage on the lake is not infrequent in midsummer, but is rarely seen at this season of the year. When first it was seen last evening, it

KIDNEY-SICK PEOPLE!

By far the largest army of sufferers in the world are the kidney-sick people—but by far the largest army of the cured ones attribute their release from disease to the great South American Kidney Cure—Cures Bright's disease. Cures diabetes. Cures all bladder ailments.

tested by eminent medical authorities on kidney diseases, and proved and testified to by them as the surest and safest cure for all diseases of the kidneys and bladder. It's a purifier—a healer—a health builder—efficacious alike to man or woman.

Good News from the North Country.—A young machinist in a large manufacturing concern in Northern Ontario, fell a victim to the dropsical form of kidney disease through atmospheric changes in following his daily labors—he continued his work until almost commanded to quit by the physician from whom he had been receiving treatment. He visited Toronto and consulted an eminent authority on kidney diseases. The doctor sent him home with a hopeful story of himself as he could give, but wrote privately to the young man's physician that it was only a matter of time with him until death would claim another kidney victim. When he is said by some who were on the pier, that the reflection of the sun-light upon what appeared to be church spires could be plainly seen. One large building, evidently a church, had the spires hanging down almost into the water.

The mirage is most frequently seen in hot climates, more especially on the sandy plains of Egypt. It is a phenomenon of reflection which results from the unequal density of the different layers of the air when they are expanded by contact with heated soil or water. The hot sun has warmed the water and no doubt yesterday afternoon the cool currents of air that came into contact with it were expanded.

To see the city of Kingston suspended in the sky over Lake Ontario, and its inhabitants walking about its streets head down, is a sight seen but once in a lifetime. However, it was not quite as vivid as that last night, but it was all very beautiful.—Oswego Palladium, June 25, 1896.

Burns' Inevitable Pleck.

"It is a mistake to suppose, as many do, that Burns was altogether given up to gallantry and carousal," writes Arthur Warren in Ladies' Home Journal. "He was not, and he never pretended to be, an exemplary character. Whatever he did he did with all his energy. He was a creature of emotions and strong passions. His nature was undisciplined. The right influences of the discipline of such a character as his were but seldom around him. The influences he knew were all too severe and repressive on the one hand, or all too lax on the other. He was subject to moments of fiery enthusiasm, and to days of acute remorse. But for all that, he worked, and worked hard. He used to say that he could not conceive a more mortifying picture of human life than a man seeking work. 'Make work,' he would say, and he made it. * * * On the other hand, Burns was honestly touched by real evidences of devoted living, and especially among the poor. The old Scotch habit of family worship always appealed to him, and he would suffer no one to make sport of it. There were some recollections that were sacred to him through life, and one of these was of his father, who, as the household gathered around the ingle, would kneel, saying simply, 'Let us worship God,' and then, with patriarchal grace, read from 'the big ha-Bible.' And all this was something more than a memory, for when Robert had won wide recognition as a poet, and all Scotland was flattering him, he passed the tedious weeks of a long illness in a study of the Scriptures. While in one of his dark moods, feeling that poverty must always be before him, he said, 'But I have sturdily withstood these buffetings many a hard-labored day, and still my motto is, I Dare!' Burns ever contemplated with indignation the inequality of human conditions and the contrast between his own worldly circumstances and his intellectual rank. He expressed this thought a thousand times, in a thousand ways."

Fascinating Advertising.

We have had much pleasure from the contemplation of a piece of advertising enterprise from over the Scots border, says the Canadian Grocer. To us the appeal seems irresistible and as safe to draw the custom desired as the magnet is to draw the needle. "Boys!" one of the notices begins, going on to enquire whether they have anything on to-morrow, in which extremely probable case a "good stiff game at marbles" is recommended. Then follows a list which, on referring to our own memories of days gone by and the boundless possibilities that lurked in the humble copper, we know to be absolutely irresistible. "Jarries, 20 a penny," "commies, 40 a penny," "Chinese glasses, 12 a penny," and so forth, finishing up with the stirring counsel: "Go in and win, and dream you dwell in 'Marble Halls.'" The appeal is not to be despised, beneath a heading of a snatch of dialogue very much to the point, "15 China marbles in a bag for one half penny!" It strikes us that the author of these notices has when he chooses only to extend his field and appeal to the adult population to reap the reward of all good advertisers. He has the golden gift of fascinating his hearers.

CURTAIN RAISERS.

John Drew is to publish his mother's reminiscences.

Charles Frohman has bought the American rights to "Lord and Lady Algy."

McKee Rankin has taken Nancy O'Neil and a dramatic company to Honolulu.

The first theater in the United States was built at Williamsport, Va., in the year 1752.

Next season the Liebler company will send out two organizations to play "The Christian."

Lillian Russell is talked of as Mme. Sans Gêne in an operatic version of that familiar story.

Robert Taber has been delighting the Londoners by his fine performance of Laerte in "Hamlet."

Zangwill's novel, "The Children of the Ghetto," will be dramatized by him for the Liebler company.

The rumor is again current that Mrs. Patrick Campbell of London will visit America as Lady Macbeth.

George Meredith's "The Egoist" is to be dramatized. There will, of course, be a rush for the leading role.

John L. Sullivan is preparing to put on a motion picture show next season, depicting each of his big fights.

"The Little Minister" has been played in Kirriemuir ("Thrum") in the "guyed" by the natives as a caricature.

Jacob Litt has arranged for the production of the funny English farce, "The Club's Baby," at a New York theater later in the season.

Coquelin will soon present in Paris an adaptation of Dumas' "La Dame de Montsouris," in which he will play the part of Chicot, the jester.

No wonder that all the novelists are turning playwrights. Juit ex M. Barrie is said to have cleared $200,000 in royalties.
