CHARLOTTETOWN BOOT AND SHOE FACTORY.

SPRING, . . . 1887 . . . SPRING.

WE must thank our friends and the public generally for their ever increasing patronage since we have commenced business.

Our Boot & Shoe Factory, in starting, had many difficulties to overcome, and we are glad that to-day those difficulties have been surmounted, and we are now well able to compete with the best Boot and Shoe Factories abroad.

Some of the advantages purchasers have in buying from us are, saving of freight, ordering goods when you want them (not six months before), getting them without delay—which saves carrying a large stock which deteriorates on the shelves.

Our leathers are bought directly from the tanneries, thereby saving commissions which many factories have to pay.

We are more determined than ever to give the BEST OF SATISFACTION and to merit the whole of the Island's patronage.

We hope to see many new industries arise, thereby increasing the prosperity of the "Gem of the Sea."

The Vancouver Horror.

PARTICULARS OF THE COAL MINE EXPLOSION.

The following details of the terrible mining disaster, of which brief telegraphic accounts have already appeared in our columns, throw additional light on that terrible affair.—The first intimation those on the surface had of the explosion was a terrific shock, followed by an outburst of thick black smoke through the air shaft.
The first explosion was quickly followed by a second, stronger than the first, carrying pieces of wood, miners' lamps, etc., hundreds of feet into the air. In a few minutes flames commenced to issue through the air shaft, with a loud, roaring noise, and in a short time the fan house caught fire and was quickly consumed. Meantime nine white men and four Chinese were brought out through No. 1 or the hoisting shaft. Gibson, the foreman, miraculously escaped from the lower slope by following the air course, making his way to the stable, where he was met by a rescuing party. The rescuing parties continued to attempt to reach the entombed men, but were unable to reach only fifteen. They were overcome with the after-damp and had to be rescued with others. One of those noble rescuers, Sam Hudson, succumbed to the effect of the after-damp. Jules Michael who was injured in the explosion, says he was sitting in his cabin at supper in No. 2 shaft when he felt a concussion. All scrambled out but became insensible, and only one was saved of his four companions, whose dead bodies came up in the cage with him. Several could hardly appreciate their miraculous escape, owing to the darkness which all felt was come out of the deadly pit. He represents the explosion as having been terrific. Everything became dark at once. John Lynch, who was badly injured about the face and head and had his hip fractured, has been dazed ever since the explosion occurred. It is thought he will not recover, having inhaled gas. The others were not injured seriously, though all were badly shaken up. Samuel Hudson's heroic death is unaccountable.
He was a miner of great experience, while those who were with him to rescue their fellows were comparatively inexperienced.
He died from the effects of after-damp.
His brave deed was one of the brightest things in this carnival of misery. All day yesterday gangs of men endeavored to extinguish the flames in No. 1 shaft, and it is believed the fire is under control. The Merriweather steam fire engine did good work in pumping water from the harbor down to the air shaft. It is absolutely impossible to think of getting at the imprisoned men until the fire is subdued. There is a danger of the gas being driven into the fire and a second explosion. Even now fears are entertained that the whole place will be blown up. If it should occur the catastrophe would be the greatest recorded in the history of coal mining.
All hope of rescuing any one in the mines has been abandoned. The mines extend out from the shore more than a mile beneath the waters of the harbor, and as one looks over the waves, it is hard to imagine that beneath are imprisoned many dead fathers and sons of this city. Around the shaft the scenes are harrowing in the extreme. Rider and Scott of the Wellington mine went down yesterday afternoon at the risk of their lives in an endeavor to make an investigation as to the manner of procedure.
Chandler of Wellington mine has been indefatigable in his efforts to assist in the work of rescue. Several physicians are in attendance, tendering all the assistance in their power.

The business houses are all closed, the collieries shut up and the entire population is gathered at the scene of the disaster.
Wives terror stricken, crying children and sorrowing fathers hover in the vicinity and mourn their terrible affliction. Occasional showers of rain cast a dreariness over the all old settlers, their faces were familiar on the streets and there will be a void in many homes. The cause of the explosion is unknown. It is generally supposed to have been an explosion of coal dust, but the tale will probably never be told.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderfu qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 50,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it.
Samples bottles to try, sold at 10 cents.
Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada.

A most peculiar and distressing accident befel a three-year-old child in Kansas City, recently. It fell in a tubular well 80 feet deep and ten inches in diameter. The child's cries could be heard, but no means could be devised to rescue it, as the body just fitted the diameter of the well.

Advices from St. Petersburg say that after a fortnight's quietude the country is again in a state of uneasiness. Large armaments are being pushed forward with feverish activity. An order of the war ministry to the concentration of great masses of troops on the frontier of Russia.

At a reception given in honor of the Colonial delegates in the galleries of the Institute of Water Color Painters, London, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Cambridge and Lord George Hamilton all spoke hopefully of the results of the Colonial conference in bringing the colonies and the mother country nearer together.

Travellers, Attention!

WE were privileged the other day to visit the premises of G. R. Garrett, Esq., of Stanley Bridge, recently fitted up for the accommodation of visitors and tourists, It contains upwards of twenty rooms, neatly furnished, displaying an air of comfort and elegance combined with a pleasant situation, conveniently situated, commanding a good view of the harbor, bay and surrounding settlement—a view which is unsurpassed in Prince Edward Island. Mr. and Mrs. Garrett are deserving of patronage in this enterprise, and travellers and tourists desirous of spending their vacation in a healthy, rural district, cannot choose a better home than the "Stranger's Retreat," at Stanley Bridge, as the proprietor and his lady will leave nothing undone to make their guests comfortable and happy. Give them a trial.—Com.

How to Grow Potatoes.

Certain German scientific men have been experimenting on the growing of potatoes.
The principal conclusions to which the sages have come seem to be two in number.
The first of them is that the vigour of the potato plant is always in direct proportion to the weight of the tubercle used for sets —a theory which certainly finds some support in common sense alone, considering the young shoots for some time draw their sole nourishment from the mother potato.
The second conclusion is that there is a great variety in the productive power, not only of different tubercles, but also of different "eyes" in the same potato. It is found that the "eyes" at the top of the potato produce a much more vigorous offspring than those in the lower part, and the consequence is that those agriculturists who cut their potatoes in half before planting them are not well advised in cutting them vertically, but should always divide them horizontally, planting the upper half and using the other as food for cattle. But the best plan of all is to plant the tubercle whole, cutting out, nevertheless, all the "eyes" except those in the top part. Such being the principles laid down, we come now to the experiments upon which they are based. These were conducted in a garden soil by Professor Gantz, the amount of crop produced by several different settings of potatoes being accurately estimated in statistical tables. It appeared that from tubercles divided vertically only five tons were produced per acre, and from whole potatoes seven and a half tons. The third set were potatoes horizontally divided, which are set down as having produced nine and three-quarter tons. In this particular, however, some of the other professors do not agree with Herr Gantz, but maintain that, other things being equal, the whole potatoes will produce more than halves, however cut. On the fourth result, however, all agree, and that is that the whole potatoes from which the lower "eyes" have been cut out produce eleven and a half tons per acre, or more than double the result shown by the sets first mentioned.
