

Tightening Up On Traffic Enforcement

The tightening ring of administration and enforcement of the Highway Traffic Act by the R.C.M.P. showed definite results in convictions, if nothing else, during the month of May when Queen's Co. Magistrate Gilbert A. Gaudet required 122 offenders to pay fines for infringements, or go to jail. This exceeded the total convictions for the first four months of the year, due in part to the increase in traffic.

The Educational, Preventive and Enforcement mobile Traffic squad of the R.C.M.P., consisting of three cars and three new motor cycle units, began their Province wide operations on May 10th.

Three unlicensed cars and one failure to stop at a stop sign were rounded up yesterday and paid the usual $5.00 and costs rather than accept the option of 8 days in jail.

A resident of Toronto, Ont., found guilty of reckless driving near York was fined $50. and costs of $0 days and had his licence suspended for three months.

A West Royalty resident was fined $20. and costs of $0 days for having liquor in his possession at a place other than his residence.

Says Province To Establish Disabled Pensions

Although no estimate of the number of persons who might seek pensions as totally disabled is known it is believed that as soon as this Province enters into the agreement with the Federal Government there will be enough applications received to enable the Provincial Government to determine a course of action.

Hon. B. Earle MacDonald said last night the Province was perfectly ready to go along with the plan and as soon as the Federal Government was ready there would be enabling legislation passed here to implement the agreement. This may be done by Order-in-Council as it is not felt necessary to call a special session of the Legislature.

The measure drafted at Ottawa after a Federal-Provincial conference which was attended by Hon. Mr. MacDonald provides for a maximum of $40 per month allowance between the ages of 18 and 65, when old age assistance begins. Payments are on a 50-50 basis between the governments and a means test is planned and over all of Canada it is believed that between 25,000 and 35,000 people will qualify at a total cost of between $12,000,000 and $18,000,000.

Lt. Cmdr. Binmore Drowned At Ottawa

Word was received here yesterday of the drowning in Ottawa of Lt. Cmdr. Colin Armstrong Binmore, 38, who resided in Charlottetown for several years.

A native of Plymouth, Eng., Mr. Binmore was a veteran of the Second World War. He is survived by his wife, Betty, a brother, David Binmore of Winnipeg, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Binmore, in Halifax.

The late Lt. Cmdr. Binmore was exceptionally well known in Charlottetown, where he was employed for several years with the Bank of Nova Scotia. He entered the service of the Bank in 1934 and was transferred to Charlottetown in 1937. He obtained indefinite leave of absence in 1940 to enlist in the Canadian Navy. He was a specialist in torpedo and anti-submarine warfare (TAS) and for a considerable time was Group TAS officer for various anti-submarine operations in the North Atlantic.

He returned to his civilian occupation in August, 1945. During the period 1945-51 he was a member of the Reserve at H.M.C.S. "Queen Charlotte". When he re-joined the Navy in 1951, he was the executive officer of H.M.C.S. "Queen Charlotte". He served for a time at H.M.C.S. "Cabot" as Staff Officer Administration before assuming his duties as assistant director of navy personnel.

The remains will leave Ottawa Thursday for Halifax where funeral services will be held this weekend. Lt. Cmdr. J. J. Trainor, formerly of Charlottetown, will accompany the body. H.M.C.S. "Queen Charlotte" representatives will attend the funeral.

Increase Noted In Cars & Passengers

Increase in both the number of automobiles and passengers was noted for Northumberland Ferries Ltd. since operations began this season. However, there was a reduction in the number of trucks ferried between Wood Islands and Caribou.

Passengers this May totalled 7,063 compared to 6,799 in the same month last year for an increase of 264. There were 2,035 automobiles carried compared to the 1,822 of last year for an increase of 213. The number of trucks dropped from 793 last May to 695 this year for a decrease of 98.

Big Barbecue To Popularize Lighter Poultry

The day of the heavy chicken is nearly done and the lightweight, three pound broilers are coming into popularity. Provincial poultry officials believe. The reason is that smaller families of only two or three persons do not wish to eat chicken for three or four days.

The small birds satisfy them for a meal with possibly enough "pickings" left over for a sandwich the next day. Another development arises from the desire of purchasers to receive a chicken completely cleaned and ready for the dressing and the oven. They do not wish to have to clean the bird themselves after they get it home.

This development has been noticed in practically all parts of Canada, and in many of the large centres operators sell favorite parts of the chickens all packed in cellophane bags. These parts are primarily breasts, backs, legs or wings.

At Experimental Farm

To aid in popularizing the smaller chickens here the Provincial Poultry Division is sponsoring a monster chicken barbecue at the Experimental Farm on July 8. It is expected that approximately 1,000 chickens will be served that afternoon.

A large new barbecue pit is being constructed with special grills to hold the birds while cooking.

Sponsoring the party that day is the P. E. I. Poultry Industry Committee and their plans call for an excellent meal to be served. Each plate will have one-half a chicken, french fried potatoes, dill pickles, rolls, and probably milk for a beverage. It is also planned to have one or two canteens in operation where soft drinks, tea and coffee may be obtained.

During the afternoon methods used in preparing the chickens will be demonstrated so that those interested will be able to see how the broilers are gotten ready for home use.

Chickens Ready

This year the committee arranged with a Murray Harbour resident to raise 1,000 chickens to be required two and one-half or three pound weight. The birds are ready now and this week committee members have been busy at the Jenkins packing plant eviscerating them and lopping off unnecessary parts. They will then be placed in deep freeze and wait ready for the barbecue.

Other demonstrations of preparing broilers for home use will be given this month at Grandview Junction 10 a.m. Mayfield June 14. At the Experimental Farm they will also show how to build a barbecue pit at home and will even provide recipes for the famous barbecue sauces.

This venture was tried for the first time last year and 850 people were served at the Farm. Because of the great popularity then it is expected that at least 2,000 will attend next month. This may be the last year they will serve the dinners since the public will have had an opportunity to twice sample it. However, the special grids made this year to hold the birds while cooking will be available to organizations desirous of holding a barbecue.

Sees Kremlin Reaping Harvest From Beria Purge In Defections To The West

By TOM WHITNEY Associated Press Staff Writer

The Kremlin is reaping the harvest it planted when it purged secret police chief Lavrenty Beria—a small epidemic of defections by Soviet intelligence officers abroad.

Were this ruthless Georgian alive today he would be grinning sardonically while watching the difficulties his successors are having in keeping the loyalty of his men.

The defection picture now is a bit like an iceberg only part above the surface. The announced cases of defection may represent only a portion of those which have actually taken place.

Those known are bad enough for the Russians. There is Yuri Rastvorov, former second secretary of the Soviet mission in Japan, and now supposedly in the United States.

Vladimir Petrov deserted to the Australians and his wife after him in late April American officials in Bonn, Germany, announced the defection of Soviet police Capt. Nikolai Khokhlov. There likely are others.

PURGE'S FACTOR

There's no doubt that one principal factor in the current flurry of defections of Soviet spies is the broad purge of Beria and his adherents and appointees. Most Soviet security officials who have had assignments outside the U.S.S.R. since before Stalin's death were closely associated with Beria's apparatus. They therefore have to wonder what kind of a reception they will get when they get home.

They also know that if they desert they will under Soviet law and practice be condemning their closest relatives to death and exile.

One possibility which no doubt keeps some Western intelligence officers awake nights is that among the defectors there are a certain number of deliberate Soviet plants. This is a time-honored Soviet technique.

deficit can be made up by record attendances at the clinics to be conducted today—at the R.C.A.F. Station this morning and afternoon and at St. Mary's Hall in Summerside this evening.

The facilities at Hertz Memorial and Trinity Society Hall were voted, the best yet, and the 525 in attendance went through without any waits whatsoever and many more would have been accommodated with great ease.

Representatives of the Senior Women's Association of Trinity United Church provided refreshments and clinic workers for the afternoon session, while members of the Provincial Red Cross Council, the Charlottetown Red Cross Corps and Junior Red Cross High School Council, the I.O.D.E. and Trinity Men's Association all helped out in the evening.

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Three street sweepers found four firecrackers Monday and tossed them in their garbage truck with the other litter. The fireworks exploded, the driver lost control, the truck hit a pole, and two of the sweepers were taken to hospital, critically injured.

City Blood Clinics Finish With 525 Donors

Charlottetown was short by some 75 donors when the two days of clinics at Hertz Memorial Hall finished last evening. A study of the results revealed that 17% of the donors came to the clinics for the first time—an encouraging sign—and that only 14% of those in attendance came from the districts surrounding Charlottetown. It was presumed this was due to the fact that so many people are in the midst of planting. Districts outside Charlottetown represented yesterday included, Gwentin, York Point, Heatherdale, Covehead, Northam, Blooming Point, Union Road, Bunbury, Brackley Beach, Mt. Herbert and Cherry Valley.

Since the four days of Red Cross Clinics started on Monday, a total of 745 donors have been registered on an objective of 800, so the province is 55 short on its overall quota to date. It is to be hoped that this

Dutch Minister Finds Change "Wonderful"

TORONTO, (CP)—From a congregation of 800 in a flourishing city to one of 150 in a quiet village district might discourage some ministers but Rev. Hans Zegerius finds it "just wonderful."

Mr. Zegerius, who came to Canada last year from Dordrecht, Holland, is representing his congregation of Dublin Shore, N. S., at the Christian Education Conference of the Presbyterian Church here.

The Dutch clergyman, who came to Canada because he wanted "a wider field of activity" said the predominantly German community of Dublin Shore made him and his family feel "right at home". He said he had been quoted in press reports which referred to Dublin Shore as an Irish-Scottish community.
