

Marshfield Project is National Contest

By NEIL MATHESON
Provincial and Farm Editor
The Marshfield Women's Institute, entering the national competition for the Carol Lanz awards for traffic safety projects, is chairman of the safety program committee.

The formal entry will likely be made next week through the deadline is Feb. 28. It was explained. First prize is a bronze statuette and $1,000, and second and third prizes are for $500 and $250. The competition is sponsored by the Canadian Highway Safety Council and the cost is being underwritten by the Shell Oil Company.

The entry will be based on an impressive program of work and education the institute began last year. Some of the development, including the elimination of a dangerous curve on the highway near the community, and had lived in Sackville during the earlier years of her marriage. She and Mr. Cameron moved to this city 30 years ago.

Surviving in addition to her husband, are four sons and seven daughters as well as several grand-children. The sons are Ralph, Frederick, N.B.; Keith and William, Charlottetown; and Alexander, Halifax. The daughters are Dorothy, Mrs. Paul Roy, Charlottetown; Mrs. Ellen Pickering, Toronto; Betty, Mrs. Sterling More, Charlottetown; and Mrs. Margaret Jorgenson, Southport; Flora, Mrs. Claude Payton, Sherwood, N.S.; and Joan, Mrs. Melburn Cameron, Sydney.

Funeral arrangements have had not been completed yesterday for the funeral of the sons and daughters living away from home.

The RCMP organized a bicycle club and a bicycle road test driving activity, and familiarity with safety requirements will be held later this year. A rodeo planned last fall was rained out by almost incessantly wet weather on the Saturdays when the action was planned. The competition would test the rules and safety education that have already been taught to new riders.

Safety education covered every part of the school population. Grade one children made safety posters. Grades one to four wrote their own version of high way safety rules for pedestrians. Grade five to eight pupils wrote rules for bicycle riders, and a grade eight to 10 pupils wrote their own version of rules for drivers should observe. There were 21 in all the suggestion sheets. The senior pupils got writing driving tests from P.W. Barton, who is in charge of testing for motor vehicle driver licenses.

The RCMP and High Lowry Presbyterian Church pastor in the district, were among those who helped instruct children in safety regulations and proper bicycle handling.

The comprehensive safety training program also covered the adults in the district. There were safety films in the hall for the community. Management and control of a car under unusual driving conditions were discussed at another meeting. Mr. Hart spoke to the adult group at one meeting. Seat belts were discussed at another meeting.

A flasher amber light was purchased for use at the road ends of the 30,000 vehicles which visited the province last year. The funeral will be held from Mrs. E. Foster. Members of the safety committee along with Mrs. Godfrey and Mrs. Shol MacBeath, Mrs. John Stavner, and Mrs. John Smethurst.

The name Arctic is derived from the Greek word arktos or bear and was applied to the Great Bear constellation.

The increase in the butter production last year at the Wilshire Dairying Company plant at North Westlisle was 8.6 per cent according to the report of Manager Nelson Heatheley. A typographical error in printing the report left out the decimal point and made it appear the increase was a completely impossible 86 per cent.

Ambrose Phelan Dies At Morell

The death occurred suddenly yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Sharkey, Morell, in his 69th year.

Mr. Phelan was a lifelong resident of Morell, where he farmed until ill-health forced him to retire several years ago.

Following the death of his wife 32 years ago Mr. Phelan brought up a large family of eight sons and three daughters.

He is survived by the following children: Rev. R. L. Phelan, St. Bridget's Parish, Lot 1; Mrs. Joseph Scott (Mary); Ernest and A. J. Toronto; Frank, resident of United States; Rupert and Joseph, Rockingham, N.S.; Mrs. John Sharkey (Evelyn) and Harold, Morell; Mrs. J. D. MacDonnell (Melvin), Glenfannan, and Hazelton, Charlottetown.

The funeral will be held from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. John Sharkey, Saturday morning, leaving the house at 9:40 for Requiem High Mass in St. Lawrence Church, Morell.

ZONTA International Branch Organized In Charlottetown

A major step was taken at last night's meeting of the Charlottetown branch of ZONTA International, when the executive signed an application for a charter for the first women's service club in Prince Edward Island.

Organizational meetings have been held at intervals since October 1962, for this organization which is run along similar lines to Rotary.

To date 15 members have been enrolled, and the executive consists of: Mrs. Evelyn Cudmore, president; Miss Mabel Matheson, vice-president; Mrs. Laura Kilson, treasurer; and Mrs. Mabel Matheson, secretary.

When the charter has been received it will make the third official club of its kind in the Atlantic Provinces. The others are in Halifax, N.S., and St. John's, Nfld.

Once properly organized the club plans to take an active interest in promoting community activities. Other projects are the encouragement of a higher standard of ethics in business and profession, also to improve the legal, political, economic and professional status of women.

Election Issue Is Seen As 'Maritimes' Rights'

By DON MACLEOD
Guardian-Prince Staff Writer
The treatment of Prince Edward Island has received from the federal government in the past few years is certain to enter the election campaign in the province. Health MacQuarrie, Conservative candidate for Queens County, said in an interview last night.

"I think it is only right," he went on, "that the Conservative candidates justify why they are being tried to do for this province."

He said that the most important phase of the campaign will be "the people of Canada taking a good look at Parliament to see how it functioned under a minority government. I believe they are going to vote an end to the continued situation of this Parliament. They want a government able to carry on and support one in the position where it can be brought down suddenly as were the Progressive Conservatives."

"I believe the best course for stability is to elect at least 16 more Conservatives which would put us in a position to finish our program."

Asked what he thought some of the major national issues will be, Mr. MacQuarrie said, "It has been the case in this country that in other countries within the period of a campaign that those that start out as burning issues are replaced by others never thought of."

NUCLEAR ISSUE
"I am not sure that the nuclear issue is going to be the major issue as the lines between the parties are not so clear and it is a tremendously difficult technical question on which it is extremely hard to be dogmatic."

Mr. MacQuarrie said it is hard to see why the question of Canada acquiring nuclear arms is "so much more vital now than it was 10 years ago."

He said it is reasonable that the discussion now going on between Canadian and American authorities be continued and when representatives of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meet in Ottawa in May a fresh look at the situation will be taken. "I think it is more reasonable to wait until the May meeting than to act in nuclear armaments now and perhaps have to get rid of them later."

He said international discussions underway on the possibility of arriving at a treaty banning nuclear testing. "I see a real value in our not joining the nuclear club while there is still this hopeful situation."

NO DEFAULT
"I would like to add that it is not only the fact that we are defaulting on NATO. Canada is not a defaulter. Canadians are serving on peace forces in many parts of the world."
