Observing the age-old ritual of the Catholic Church...

His Excellency Bishop MacEachern, of the diocese of Charlottetown, yesterday morning laid the corner stone of the new St. Anne's Church at Hope River and solemnly dedicated it to the service and honor and glory of God.

On this, his first official visit to the parish, he was welcomed by the parish priest, Rev. Father Dalton, who pledged the obedience and loyalty of the parishioners to His Excellency.

Assisted by members of the clergy, Bishop MacEachern, after completing the ceremony of the laying of the corner stone and dedication of the beautiful new edifice to God entered the church officially accompanied by the clergy and escorted by an honor guard of Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus of Bishop MacEachern Assembly under the jurisdiction of Sir William MacMillan, master of the degree for Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

The solemn High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Dalton with Rev. Father Bolger as sub-deacon, all three being native sons of Hope River.

The sermon for the occasion was delivered by Rt. Rev. Monsignor Murphy of Souris who extended his congratulations to Father Dalton and members of the parish on the completion of the church.

Monsignor Murphy delivered a most eloquent sermon during which he traced the history of the parish during the past 112 years.

He recalled that during that time the parish had many unfortunate losses by fire and from the elements, four churches and the parochial house had been built and now a new and beautiful house of God stood on the hill to stand as a monument to the co-operation of the parishioners and to the memory of the parish priest Rev. Father Dalton.

At the conclusion of the Mass, dinner was served in the large basement of the church by the ladies of the parish.

Smoke Menace From Pulp Wood Peelings Fire In S'side During Saturday

Thick smoke from burning pulp wood peelings, reportedly set afire by children, continued to pour for almost an hour on Saturday afternoon from the harbor side area at the west end of Water Street in Summerside. Scene of the fire was used as an auxiliary dump last fall and winter.

The heavy smoke caused several families in its path to temporarily abandon their homes which suffered in various degrees from smoke damage.

The fire was extinguished through the combined efforts of the Summerside Fire Department and a bulldozer from Morrison and MacRae Ltd.

During the height of the smoke a traffic menace existed on the highway in this area, and this, together with the problem of protecting a number of children who unwittingly endangered their lives by trying to walk or run through the wide column of smoke created a problem for police. The traffic problem was solved in a unique way by the arrival of Sonny Huestis of Summerside with a "walkie-talkie" radio unit which was left with a companion on one side of the smoke while his car containing a mobile two-way radio was stationed on the other side of the smoke to work in conjunction with the "walkie-talkie" unit to regulate the flow of traffic so that vehicles were moving in only one direction through the smoke at any one time.

A short while after returning from the fire at the dump, the Summerside Fire Department responded to their second call after a lull of several weeks without any fire alarms having been sounded.

This time it was a shed in the yard of George Coyle on North Market Street which became ignited from garbage near the shed which had, in some manner, blazed up.

There was some fire damage to the side of the shed, but the blaze was quickly brought under control when the firemen arrived.

New Constitution Offered To Cyprus

LONDON (AP)—Britain today offered Cyprus a new constitution giving the Mediterranean island's 300,000 residents more self-determination in the future.

The move, announced by Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, is intended to break a stalemate among Britain, Greece and Turkey over the future of the disputed land, headquarters of Britain's Middle East command.

Macmillan's proposals were placed before a conference of foreign ministers of the three allied countries who have been meeting here for the last nine days.

Greece has demanded that Cyprus be given the right to choose its own political future in a reasonably short time.

BLACKBOARD JUNGLE

Now at Capital Theater Summerside. The problem of juvenile delinquency crowding today's paper headlines forms the subject of M-G-M's powerful film "Blackboard Jungle," at the Capital Theatre.

Based on the sensational best-seller novel by Evan Hunter, with its pivotal characters enacted by Glenn Ford, Anne Francis, Louis Calhern and Margaret Hayes, the picture tells a realistic, uncompromising and relentlessly gripping story of a young teacher whose career, marriage and very life are threatened by the teen-age gangsters who make a mockery of his classroom in a metropolitan vocational school.

Glenn Ford plays Richard Daddier who finds the enthusiasm and idealism with which he begins his first teaching job turning to ashes in the face of the hostility, contempt and brutality he encounters from his students.

When taunts, insolence and disobedience fail to break their teacher, the classroom hoodlums, led by two ringleaders, Artie West and the husky Negro, Gregory Miller, try stronger methods, but Daddier does not resign even when he comes close to being killed in an alley gang-up. But when his wife, Anne, expecting a child, is sent postmen letters accusing him of infidelity with a woman teacher in the school, Daddier is ready to throw in the sponge.
