

So Say We All of Us

God bless the man that judges man With just yet kind decision; And never shows his weakness up To folly's cheap decision.

That makes the Golden Rule his law Of life above all others, Forgetting self in earnest zeal To better make his brothers.

That never brings another down To build his fortune higher, Or step before him in the race To gain a vain desire.

That envies not when others toil Because their work is better, Or seeks to use the little flaws Their good designs to letter

That sees the good before the bad, That magnifies no failing; Whose speech is bright encouragement, And never bitter railing.

The Tobacco Cure.

Gen. Thomas L. Clingman claims to have discovered in tobacco an infallible remedy for many distressing ailments, and publishes a statement of cures which, if true, are of a very surprising character. Gen. Clingman recommends the use of the natural leaf, which can be procured at the cigar makers, but in its absence the common manufactured tobacco will answer nearly, if not quite as well. The tobacco is soaked in cold water until the leaf becomes pliable like dampened paper, when it is bound upon the part affected and kept damp. In this way he says corns and bunions of the most obstinate character have been cured in six or twelve hours, bone felons in the same time, while inflamed eyes yield readily to the application. He claims that it never fails to cure sore-throat, diphtheria in its early stages, dysentery, inflammation of the bowels, and wounds and bruises in the shortest possible space of time; the tobacco has simply to be bound upon the parts affected and kept damp. The cure is one that every one may try, and if the tobacco possesses one half the virtue claimed for it by Gen. Clingman, its use in medicine is likely to become universal.

Central Africa

Mr. Stevenson, the Glasgow millionaire, who has spent a small fortune putting steamboats on the Central African Lakes and building the wagon road that is to connect Nyassa and Tanganyika, offers to guarantee the building of a narrow gauge railroad past the sixty miles of cataract in the River Shire. He will furnish the entire funds himself if necessary. A steamboat now runs up the Zambesi and Shire Rivers to these cataracts, and the steamer Isala plies from the north end of Nyassa. The African Lakes Company is developing this route, which, if Stevenson's Railroad is built, will make one thousand miles of well-populated lake coasts and river banks accessible by steam. The route will involve wagon travel only between Nyassa and Tanganyika, 210 miles, and it is regarded as one of the most promising means of reaching the interior. A steamboat was launched on Tanganyika last spring.

The Revenue Falling Off

The fact that in the past two months there has been no diminution of the public debt, but, on the contrary, the United States Treasury for the month past showing a slight increase, is attracting attention. Secretary McCulloch says it is due in part to the increased expenditures on account of pensions but chiefly to great falling off in the receipts of the Treasury. "The depression in business all over the country," he says, "is now being felt at the Treasury. For the past two months there has been a falling off in the revenues. The expenditures meanwhile have kept up to the top notch, and this, together with a slight increase in the department during the month just ended. The indications are, however, that our statements for January, 1885, will show a better condition of affairs."

Evening Parties.

The news comes from Washington that Mrs. Sheridan has set the custom of early hours for evening parties, and that the president will follow this rule in the entertainments given by him. If society in Washington and elsewhere will only imitate the distinguished example thus set, the president will share with Mrs. Sheridan the honor of having promoted a measure as conducive to social welfare as many of the measures that find their way to the Executive Chamber through the channel of Congress. The report may be an important piece of news, after all.

A Great Painter.

An Englishman, Frenchman and American were discussing the merits of painters of their respective countries. The American, after listening to all that the others had to advance in favour of their countryman, remarked: "Well, yes. I guess they did some tall painting, but there was a young fellow in our village, and he got a piece of marble and painted it like a cork, and darn me if it didn't float."

The Ruling Passion, etc.

"And what of this present time?" cried the person earnestly, smiting the pulpit. "What of this time in which we live? What about the Now?"

"Now," said the good editor, suddenly aroused from his comfortable slumber, "now is the time to make up clubs." And then the deacons clubbed together and set him out.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs; none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured. "In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 67 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me. HORACE FAIRBROTHER, Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute. "While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours, MRS. EMMA GENTRY, 139 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effective remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE, Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN, Bylania, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRADGON, Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

MORRIS & IRELAND'S

NEW IMPROVED PATENT EIGHT-FLANGE FIRE-PROOF SAFE.

THE only Eight-Flange Safe in the world, and containing more improvements than ANY SAFE made, such as: 1st. THE PATENT INSIDE BOLT WORK, which is placing the bolt work with the whole of the filling (six inches) between it and the outside, that is, as far from the fire and thief as it can be. 2nd. THE PATENT HINGED CAP—the back plate of the door being on hinges, enabling the owner, by turning a thumb-screw, to have easy access to the lock and bolt-work. He can thus easily change the lock, clean, oil, and keep the bolt-work in good order. 3rd. IRON INSIDE LINING, stronger than wood, and which retains the moisture in the filling for an indefinite time. Wood is thicker and weaker, and after a few years absorbs the moisture and "requires filling up again." 4th. FOUR-WHEEL COMBINATION LOCKS, the simplest, strongest, most efficient and easiest to change of any in use. 5th. SOLID ANGLE IRON FRONTS, BACKS AND CORNERS, which prevents warping or injury to safe from falling, or falling walls or timbers. 6th. EIGHT FLANGES—the most important improvement ever made in fire-proof safes, requiring eight laps, thus preventing the passage of heat, it having to pass over twelve inches, no iron being from this source, as in other safes containing one, two or three flanges. THESE SAFES have stood the test of years, and the greatest fires on this continent, and have the CHAMPION RECORD in the Boston, Chicago and Haverhill Fires. We are selling these safes as low as any good safe, and are disposing of large numbers throughout the Dominion. BANK WORK AND VAULT DOORS are specialties of our firm. ELECTRIC GLOSS

FOR cleaning Silver, Nickel, Brass, Copper and Plate Glass. Quick! Sure! Permanent! No dirt, no trouble, no labor. Being entirely free from grit and acids, it cannot injure the most finely finished surface. It is the only preparation ever produced that will polish brass or copper without the use of acid. Nothing approaches it for removing grease and finger marks from Brass, Copper, Glass, etc.; while for cleaning Nickel or Stoves it is especially useful. Retail price, 25 cents per bottle.

MICA WASH.—This wash is the only thing of the kind ever invented. A series may be as handsome as a jewel and shine like ebony; but smoked mica lights will spoil it all. Day by day mica becomes sorer and higher in price, and an article that will clean and preserve it is valuable to all concerned. Try this wash once, and you will always use it. Retail price, 25 cents per bottle.
